VOL. V.—NO. 244.

NEW BERNE, N. C., SUNDAY, JANUARY 16, 1887.

PRICE 5 CENTS.

LOCAL NEWS.

Journal's Almanacs.
The Journal's Almanacs, for 1887, are now on sale. They contain the most reliable and complete information on the subject of weather, and are published by Geo. Allen & Co., 125 N. 2nd St., New Berne, N. C.

BUSINESS LOCALS.
The market is well supplied with wild geese.
The truck farmers are securing their seed peas for the spring crop.
C. T. Watson has a dwelling house for rent on Metcalf street. See "ad."
The steamer Stout, of the old reliable Clyde line, left last night for Baltimore with a full cargo of cotton, shingles, etc.

Our fishermen are getting ready for the spring run of shad and herring. We noticed several large new seines on Watson & Daniels' wharf. May the winds be favorable and give them a good run.

New Berne Ahead.
We were shown a day or two since the report of Miss Maude Moore, of our city, who is attending school in New York, and we are glad to note that Maude is sustaining her former reputation of prima inter pares. The report is perfect in every particular.

John Hoffister's (col.) barn was burned last Tuesday with about five barrels of corn and some plunder to the amount of about $300. He lived in Jones county, or Mr. E. Scott's place, and was moving at the time of the fire. Supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

The Raleigh News and Observer states that L. H. Butler has been elected cashier of the National Bank of New Berne in the place of Dr. J. A. Guion, retired. We don't know any man in this city by that name; certainly no such man has any connection with the National Bank.

Mr. Geo. H. Roberts, who so long and acceptably filled the position of Teller, was elected by the Directors at their last meeting as Cashier.

Personal.
Miss Clara Smith, of Englewood, N. J., is visiting Mr. G. H. Roberts.
Miss Ida Fotts, of Washington, N. C., is the guest of E. H. Meadows.
Miss Nettie Kinrade, of Griffin, Ga., is the guest of Mr. A. B. Waters.
Miss Minnie Case, of Pennsylvania, is the guest of Judge Baymour.
Mrs. Laura Blackwell and her daughter, Miss Annie, have returned home from a visit to North and are staying at W. P. Burrus, Esq.'s.
Gladie Baymour W. Hancock has returned from West Point.

Church Services To-Day.
Christ Church—V. W. Shields, rector. Second Sunday after Epiphany. 8 a. m., Holy Communion. Other services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 9 p. m. The public is always invited to take part in the services of this Church. Upham always at the doors to provide coats.

Methodist Church—Services in the Methodist church at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., conducted by the pastor, Rev. L. W. Crawford. Pews are alike free to all. Upham are always at the door to welcome strangers. All persons are cordially invited to worship with the congregation.

Baptist Church—Rev. Dr. Theo. Whitfield, pastor. Services at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 3 p. m. Seats free and the public cordially invited to attend.

Elder Burgess, Baptist. Minister, will preach at Mechanics Hall today at 11 o'clock a. m., and tonight at 7 o'clock. Prayer meeting every Wednesday night at 7 o'clock. The public are invited to attend all these services.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Special to the JOURNAL.
RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 15, 1887.
Not much was done in either Senate or House today. Among bills introduced in Senate was one to forbid buying or selling futures, and another to increase salaries of county superintendents of public instruction.

In the House a bill to increase the number of Justices of the Supreme Court to five was defeated, but Overman introduced another for the same purpose which was made the special order for next Tuesday. A bill to prohibit the sale of deadly weapons in the State was passed by a heavy majority. A bill increasing the jurisdiction of magistrates by giving them charge of petty larceny cases when amount involved is not over $5.00 in value was after rather a long debate recommitted to the Judiciary Committee. A bill extending the time for the registration of deeds and grants was tabled. A bill repealing the law requiring attorneys from other States who desire to practice in North Carolina to pass examination before court here was passed.

Dr. York, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, told me this afternoon that the committee had concluded the hearing of the Wilson county contested election case save as to three witnesses, whom Farmer's opponent wished to introduce. The application of counsel for a delay until next Thursday was granted.

The committee was in session late last night and was again in session this morning. Many witnesses were examined. The committee decided not to hear any evidence save that which bears directly upon the facts in the case.

This was done to prevent delays caused by counsel, who hampered the investigation. Dr. York says the committee intends to give the case the fullest and fairest hearing, so far as both sides are concerned. He says the committee will not be able to report to the House on the case before the end of next week.

The committee resumed its session at 3 o'clock this afternoon, after a brief intermission. At this time thirty witnesses remain to be examined.

The Grand Lodge.
The Grand Lodge continued its session yesterday morning and through the day until 9:30 o'clock. The grand officers-elect and appointed were installed by Grand Master F. H. Busbee. The officers are as follows: G. H. Robinson of Wilmington, Grand Master; Sam'l H. Smith of Winston, Deputy Grand Master; H. A. Gudger, of Asheville, Senior Grand Warden; Jno. W. Cotten of Tarboro, Junior Grand Warden; W. E. Anderson of Raleigh, Grand Treasurer; D. W. Bain of Raleigh, Grand Secretary; Wright G. Campbell of Concord, Grand Chaplain; Alpheus W. Wood, of New Berne, Senior Grand Deacon; Wm. N. Benton, Smithfield, Junior Grand Deacon; Francis M. Moye, Moyton, Wilson county, Grand Marshal; A. B. Doughtrey Seaboard, Grand Sword Bearer; Chas. F. Gilbert, Leicester, Buncombe county, Grand Pursuant; R. H. Bradley, Raleigh, Grand Tyler; A. O. Edson, Tull's, Currituck county, Grand Steward; Marmaduke J. Hawkins, of Raleigh, Grand Steward.

Charters were granted to four lodges, one at Siler City, one in Randolph county, one at Morehead City, one at Paint Fork, Madison county.

The results of the annual communication are looked forward to as doing great work for the order in North Carolina.

There are now 215 lodges in the State, with a membership of between 7,000 and 8,000.

Mr. F. H. Busbee, the retiring Grand Master, was presented with a beautiful gold-headed cane by the Grand Lodge. — News and Observer.

Norfolk Disappointed.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 13.—The committee appointed by the citizens of Norfolk and Portsmouth to come here and urge the Secretary of the Navy to have some of the new naval work done at the Norfolk navy yard, have had an interview with Mr. Whitney, by whom they were informed, in effect, that their request could not be granted, the departments being short of funds.

Disastrous to the Woolen Interest.
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 13.—The Ohio Wool Growers' Convention adjourned yesterday after passing resolutions to the effect that the reduction of the wool tariff in 1858 has caused a decrease of 4,000,000 pounds of wool in the annual production of this State, and 20,000,000 pounds in that of the whole country, while importation of foreign wool is naturally increasing.

"On fortune's cap we're not the very button," but we think ourselves uncommonly lucky since we found a sovereign remedy for pain. It is Salvation Oil—twenty-five cents a bottle.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Special to the JOURNAL.
WASHINGTON, January 13.—SENATE.—The Senate took up Mr. Vest's resolution directing the Secretary of the Treasury to furnish a full and complete statement by itemized account, of all money paid out on account of the prosecution of criminal cases in the courts by Federal officials of the department from July 1st, 1879, to December 1st, 1886, with a list of officials, agents or employees engaged in such prosecutions, the amount paid them and for what specific services.

After debate the resolution was modified according to a suggestion of Mr. Edmunds by making it apply to civil cases also, and was then adopted.

The Senate then resumed the consideration of the conference report on the Inter-State Commerce bill.

After the report had been read in full, Mr. Hoar moved that the Senate disagree to the report, insist on its former action and request a further conference.

Mr. Cullom denied that his motion to agree to the report took precedence of a motion to disagree. Mr. Harris, one of the conferees, desired every Senator to realize the fact that when he voted on the question of agreeing or disagreeing to this report, he was voting, in fact, on the question as to whether there should be any legislation on the subject during this Congress.

Mr. Hoar characterized Mr. Harris' statement as extraordinary, and appealed to the Senate not to submit to that kind of a threat. Here was a bill which embodied four great salutary propositions on which the Senate, the House of Representatives and the American people were substantially agreed, and the Senate was now told that none of these things could be accomplished unless there was an engrafted on it a principle against which the customers, and not the railroad interested in the carrying trade, were protesting on the ground that the inevitable effect of it would be to put up freights and to make large branches of business now carried on successfully and profitably, impossible in future.

Mr. George advocated the adoption of the report. He had no doubt that the effect of the legislation would be to increase freight rates temporarily, not because that was the legitimate result of it, but because the railroad companies would make it the occasion of unreasonably and unjustly raising the rates in order to bring the measure into disrepute. He was satisfied that if the conference report was disagreed to it meant no legislation on the subject in this Congress.

Mr. Evarts then addressed the Senate, delivering an elaborate argument against the adoption of the report.

Mr. Evarts denounced the bill as unconstitutional and as utterly inconsistent with the basis on which the Federal Government's jurisdiction over the subject of commerce rests. At the conclusion of Mr. Evarts' speech, Mr. Cullom stated his desire that the vote should be taken today, but Mr. Hoar suggested that he and other Senators desired to speak, and that there was no desire to delay the vote unnecessarily. Finally, unanimous consent was given that the vote should be taken before adjournment tomorrow.

The Anti Polygamy bill, the Senate bill with the House substitute, having been received from the House, the amendment was non-concurred in, and a conference asked. Messrs. Edmunds, Ingalls and Fogg were appointed conferees on the part of the Senate.

Mr. Cameron introduced a bill for the appointment of commissioners to represent the Federal Government at the centennial celebration of the forming and promulgation of the Constitution, to be held in Philadelphia. Referred.

The Senate then, at 4.15, went into secret session, and a few moments later, when the doors were reopened, adjourned.

HOUSE.—A bill was passed amending the law regulating the removal of cases from State to Federal courts. The bill increases the minimum jurisdiction of the Circuit Courts from $500 to $2,000; takes away from the Circuit Courts jurisdiction of cases in favor of assignees or promissory notes and bills of exchange; and restricts to the defendant the right to remove a case from the State to the Federal court.

This act does not include cases of captured and abandoned property, cotton claims or war claims.
