March breezars coming early this year.
The steamer Trent arrived from up Neuse yesterday evening with cotton.

The steamer Cutler arrived from Trent yesterday evening with a cargo of cotton.

Our colored friends had a grand march and cake walk at Stanly Hall last night.

Mr. W. E. Soelling is again introducing Baltimore beef and mutton. He expects a lot on the Shenandoah this morning.

The Goldsboro Messenger tells us that B. F. Mayhew, Esq., formerly of Pamlico, is erecting a handsome dwelling in that town.

Miss Mamie Lane and Emma Beeton will attend the reading rooms of the Y. M. C. A. this evening for the reception of ladies. Rooms open from 2 5 p. m.

Mr. G. W. Moore, of the firm of Moore & Beady, of Baltimore, arrived last night and is stopping at the Gaston House. He is the man the oystermen have been looking for for sometime and we hope they will be able to give him the encouragement to start up the canning establishment.

Personal.
Mr. J. W. Booker, of Croatan, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. Geo. Vyne, the hay farmer of Havelock, was in the city yesterday.
He believes in grass and fat beef instead of cotton and western bacon.

The Widow.
Miss Rhea, a noted artist, will appear at Goldsboro's Monday evening in "The Widow," a comedy of great popularity. A special train will leave New Berne at 8:30 p. m. and will return immediately after the performance. Fare for round trip from New Berne and Kinston, including admission to opera, $1.50. From La Grange, $1.25.

Do not forget.
The "Busy Bee" festival will be opened in the lecture room of the Presbyterian church this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. A variety of most palatable dainties will be provided, such as ice cream, lemon ice, chicken salad, cakes, etc., etc., as well as beautiful articles of work. The public, young, middle-aged, old, everybody, are invited to come and enjoy a pleasant afternoon and evening. A premium of good cheer available.

Good Directions to be followed.
It is a pleasure to see such improvements as are being made on Pollock street in the way of dwelling houses.
We had the pleasure yesterday of going through the neat and commodious house just completed for Capt. S. E. Street, Jr., and found the model of convenience and comfort. Baltimore heaters, bath room, and all the modern conveniences to make a goodly place to dwell.
The plan of the building was drawn by Capt. Street himself and shows considerable knowledge of architectural designs, but we are satisfied that Mrs.
Street made a few suggestions and should have a good share of the credit for many of the convenient arrangements.

Other improvements to that quarter are the new buildings of R. B. Lehman, Esq., and Mr. Duggan, and the improvements being made by Mr. Thomas Daniel on his dwelling. This is right; making them comfortable and pleasant.

A prophet, they say, is no good in his own country. Dr. Polk has been of infinite good to his countrymen and his South Sympathy has become a national blessing.

Dr. Sanders' Fish Mill.
We see in the proceedings of the General Assembly that Dr. Sanders, the senator of the 9th district, has introduced a bill to prohibit the employment of seines or nets of more than a certain length in the waters of Carteret.

We have no idea what the Doctor wishes to accomplish by making such a law, but we do know that some of our leading fish dealers regard it as a blow at their business.

There has been so much foolish legislation on the fish and oyster industries that we think it would be a good thing to create a commission composed of gentlemen familiar with the business and let them have entire control of the matter, and adopt such regulations as will redound to the interest of the State at large and protect those engaged in the business.

We have no fault to find of Dr. Sanders. We believe he desires to carry out the wishes of his constituents; but the trouble is there are more small fishermen than large ones, and the small one has his prejudices and dislikes to see any one fish with a larger seine than he does.

We hope Dr. Sanders will consider this matter well before he presses it.
We see no reason why such restrictions should be enforced in Carteret county and nowhere else. Whatever law is passed on the subject should be made general and not confined to this county.

A Good Showing for the New Berne Graded School.

Among the successful and accomplished young ladies teaching in the public schools outside of New Berne, are Miss Ulrich, educated at the Tennessee University Normal School; Miss Patrick and Miss Mary Harvey, educated at the Kinston College; Miss James, educated at Dr. Hughes' school in Chocowinity; and Miss Brown, Miss Barrington, Miss Hanks and Miss Pope, educated at the Graded School in New Berne. While these young ladies are all the equals in point of scholarship and efficiency of any teachers in this section of the State, there are a number of others who are proving equally successful at the head of the public schools of the county.

It ought to be considered a matter of pride with our people, that the graduates and scholars from our graded school are doing such splendid work wherever they are employed. The first products of this institution, Miss Mary Allen and Miss Leah Jones, are teaching in the city, and are both excellent scholars and teachers. The county superintendent says that he never has any fears whenever he can place a young lady from the New Berne Graded School over any portion of the public school work.

Waiting for Business.
Wilmington is still discussing the question of subscribing $150,000 to the Yadkin Valley railroad. The board of aldermen having rejected the proposition, the friends of the measure now propose to get an act of the General Assembly to allow the people to vote on it, and the discussion has already begun. In Wednesday's issue of the Star is a strong communication from J. H.
Currie in favor of the measure, in reply to "Justice," who, it seems, is opposing it. In this communication Mr. Currie makes the following good point:

"Business has changed. You must go after it if you want it. The man of the city that will set down and wait for business and railroads to hunt him up, without his doing anything to help himself or itself, will soon find himself self with nothing to do, and nothing to do with."

There is much truth in this. There is business for New Berne in the counties of Carteret and Onslow if we would go after it. We want the New Berne and Beaufort canal and Harlowe creek opened so we can send our river steamers up Bogue sound to White Oak river; we want a narrow gauge railroad between Trent and New rivers so as to bring the business from along the New river down to the inlet taking in Winburry's oysters. But it will not build itself. The government has made an appropriation for Harlowe creek and Bogue sound which we hope will open them for navigation at an early day.
This will enable us to reach the White Oak section; but we want to reach the New river oysters and the fertile lands in the Richlands section. If we wait for it to be done it will never be done.
The Quaker Bridge road was completed after a long struggle and it has proved a great benefit to the people of that section and has brought away more cars and wagons to New Berne with country produce than would otherwise have come. We want now steam transportation for that fertile section and we must have it.

Geo. W. Herbert, Captain of Police, Baltimore, Md., said: I have read Baltimore's Ordinance and find it a most excellent remedy. It has my hearty recommendation.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Special to the JOURNAL.
RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 20, 1887.

In the Senate today the following bills were introduced: To provide tax collectors for Wayne county; to amend the law establishing department of agriculture; to incorporate Albemarle & Pamlico Railway Company; to incorporate Henderson & Virginia Railway Company; bill repealing law against discrimination in railway freights passed third reading, as did one to require private banks and bankers to make reports to State treasurer, and one relating to drawing jurors in Craven county. Bill passed second reading to amend law in regard to election of public printer by requiring it to be done by joint ballot instead of by committee.

In House principal bills introduced were to abolish July term of Wayne superior court; to annex part of Duplin to Sampson county; to declare Neuse precinct, in Lenoir county, as township. Nearly entire session of House was devoted to discussion of bill to extend time for completion of Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railway and to give it 600 convicts per annum at no cost to road. Substitute offered to make number of convicts 400 and to require $125 per year to be paid for each was defeated. House then adjourned.

The examination of witnesses and the taking of testimony in the case of Hussey vs Lane has ended. In all, thirty witnesses were examined in person here. One, Mr. Washington Bryan, was unable to be here, by reason of sickness, and a sub-committee took his deposition at New Berne. It was read here before the committee. The case was closed yesterday evening and the argument was set for tomorrow, to begin at 3 o'clock p. m. Messrs. Charles M. Busbee and W. W. Clark appear for Mr. Lane and Col. John W. Hinsdale and L. J. Moore for Husesey.

The Senate committee on privileges and elections has begun to take testimony in the case of Green vs. Clark. In this case the same counsel appear as in the Husesey-Lane contest before the House committee. None of the witnesses so far have been subpoenaed.
Witnesses for the contestant Green are now being examined.

Meeting of the Board of Agriculture with the Farmers.

A large number of farmers met with the board of agriculture in the hall of the House of Representatives last night.
Gov. Seales called the meeting to order at 8 o'clock. Secretary Bruner read the notice by which the meeting was called. The Governor explained that the object of the meeting was to discuss topics appertaining to the farming interests, to hear from the farmers throughout the State as to their wants, and he welcomed them all in behalf of the board of agriculture. He then called Mr. Geo. Z. French, of Pender, to the chair.

Mr. French, on taking the chair, went into quite a detailed account as to the origin of the department, going back to the constitutional convention of 1875, when the question of the establishment of a department of agriculture, immigration and statistics was brought before that body, and the legislature at its next session established this department. He thought the department was a success.

On motion each speaker was allowed 30 minutes.

Mr. Lester was called upon and spoke for a short while. He hoped the faults of the board would be fully discussed and remedied so as to serve the best interests of the farmers and the people of the State.

Dr. Battle was then called on, and gave an account of the varied interests under the management of the department, and of their work in its various branches. He gave a full account of the State exhibit at the Boston Exposition and thought any North Carolinian could point with pride to such an exhibit.

Col. W. F. Green was next called on.
He spoke of the board as at first constituted and of the changes made in the organization of the board since its first establishment. He then went into an explanation of the changes made in the department, by some newspapers in the State, as to the reckless expenditure of the funds of the department. Many of them he declared as frivolous in the extreme.

He then took up the "Industrial School" question, and thought that the balance of the fund after paying actual running expenses might be very well applied to building up the industrial school, which he thought was the crying necessity of the people. The question of the propagation of fish and the oyster survey were for the legislature to deal with.

Col. Julian Allen, of Iredell, said he was a native of Russia; that one of the proudest days of his life was when he was made a citizen of the United States, but that he was still prouder when he became a citizen of the Old North State.

He was a farmer, and admitted that he was prejudiced against the department at one time, but now thought that the department of agriculture and immigration was yet destined to be the pride of all the people of the State. Didn't think that it should be abolished, but changed so as to be of the most service to the people, as we all look to that bureau for the best information. He then offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

"Resolved, That the legislature be requested to take steps to encourage immigration by authorizing the publication and circulation of information relating to the resources of that and the experience of the northern settlers here."

Mr. S. Otho Wilson believed that the board had done all in its power to carry out the law, but that the laws were not what they should be. He favored a general reorganization of the department. The funds should be spent for the agricultural interests and not for mining, mineral, fish, oyster and all other interests. He came as a representative of the Farmers' Club of Swift Creek township, and offered the following resolution:

"At a meeting of Farmers' Club No. 1, of Swift Creek township, Wake county, held January 18th, the president, vice-president and secretary were instructed to attend a meeting of the farmers called by the State Board of Agriculture in Raleigh on January 18, 1887, and were instructed to present to said meeting for its consideration the following resolution:

Resolved, That the necessities of the farmers of North Carolina require the establishment of an agricultural college and that the proceeds of the land scrip fund donated by the Federal Congress of 1862 and which has been applied to the State University should be transferred and applied to the support of said college.

Resolved 2d, That the State department of agriculture should be re-organized on such a basis as shall give the control and management of the same into the hands of practical farmers and thus bring it into closer union with the farming interests of the State.

These resolutions created quite a lively discussion and were finally adopted.

Mr. Sanderlin said that we were confronted with a great question when we take up the question of agriculture.
No one can imagine the present condition of the agricultural interest, and the greatest problem is how shall we lift the agriculturist out of his troubles and how shall the board of agriculture be brought into closer relations with the farmers. It is a difficult question yet had been offered that was practical.

Mr. McIver, of Orange county, offered the following resolution:

"The farmers' club at Oaks, Orange county, N. C., respectfully asks:

That the department of agriculture ought to be reorganized so that the good influence and good teachings of that valuable institution may be seen and felt on our farms, to renovate, improve and vitalize them.

If it is asked how it can be done, we suggest, till a better plan may be devised, that at least fifty per cent of the entire revenue of the department be distributed in small sums as premiums to farmers in different parts of the state who may undertake, at their own expense, to conduct model farms or experiment farms under the direction of the department, the premium to be awarded in each case by an agricultural club in the neighborhood of the farm and organized under instructions from the department. By such an arrangement a system of agricultural clubs and model and experimental farms, would grow up over the state that might well be called the "Farmers' College."

Col. L. L. Polk was heartily in accord with the agricultural interests of the state; was glad to hear the gentleman go into the early days of the department when there were only four graduates in the body that considered the question of the establishment of the Department of Agriculture, and he was proud to be one of them. It was circulated throughout this country that he was canvassing the State against the University and the Department of Agriculture, but he defied any man to say that he had ever said one word against the University or criticized the department in any respect.

The people throughout the state were in a bad fix and he regretted it. He would be untrue to himself to oppose anything of interest to the farming community.

Mr. McIver's resolution failed of adoption. Other speakers followed Col. Polk.—News and Observer.

Merchant's License.
The law says all persons doing any kind of business or profession, taxed under schedule B, shall first obtain from the sheriff of the county a license to transact said business on or before the 10th day of January for the ensuing year. Less than one-third of those liable to the tax in Craven county, we learn by the New Berne Journal of the 14th inst., having said: How about the other two-thirds, delinquents? Probably an example may be made of some of them, and on a fine morning they may find a polite communication to report at some magistrate's office and pay up with costs of two or three dollars and as little less of the fine of $50.00, as the leniency of the magistrate may impose. If one third have to pay, why not the other two thirds?
