"Valentine Dime Party" tomorrow night.

The State Dental Association meets at Morehead City, June 7th.

The steamer Carolina arrived yesterday from up Contentnea with cotton and other freight.

The Superior Court convenes tomorrow for the trial of civil causes only. Judge Shipp will preside.

Tomorrow is not only St. Valentine day, but a day set apart for the general planting of gardens.

The dwelling house of a colored woman, Mrs. Fisher, was destroyed by fire at Kinston last night.

If you want to spend a pleasant evening be sure and attend the "Valentine Dime Party" tomorrow night.

Stand are now selling at 60 to 70 cents per pair for bucks, and $1.25 to $1.35 for doe, and are plentiful at the above prices.

Jno. H. Guion and Wm. Hollister, executors, will sell valuable property at the court house door tomorrow at 12 o'clock. See "ad."

The entertainment at the theatre on Tuesday night, promises to be a grand affair, and will no doubt draw a large audience. See ad.

We are informed that some stacks of fodder and fence on the Daniel Harris place in the city, were burned Friday by sparks blown from burning brush.

This is a good time of the year for putting out shade trees. Numbers of them have been recently put out in New Berne, but not as many as are needed.

A colored man employed at the Blade steam saw mill across Trent river from the city received quite a severe wound on the arm yesterday by coming in contact with the saw. He was brought over to the office of Dr. Chas. Duffy to have the limb dressed.

The weather for the greater portion of January and the earlier part of February has been remarkable for its mildness and unattendance of any cold days. For about one month, and that in mid-winter, the thermometer has ranged between 60 and 70 degrees. The favorableness of our climate has long been recognized, but for 1887 it has been unusually so.

The Beaufort Record says that Messrs. Dan. Williams and Ben. Neil, while patrolling the beach at Ocracoke during the blizzard night last week, were compelled to lie down to escape injury from a tremendous flock of geese making their way down the banks. In the meantime Mr. Williams, while lying flat on his back, caught four of the geese alive. This story seems almost incredible, but it is nevertheless true.

Near a Fatal Accident.

While workmen were engaged in the construction of the Disciples' Church on Hancock street yesterday, one of the joists [illegible] was insecurely fastened to the center plate, and upon which were three workmen, gave way, precipitating two of them to the ground, the third one managing to hold on to a stationary beam. Albritton Sadler, white, was the worst hurt. He was on the end of the joint that fell with a hatchet in his hand which he held on to. In the descent, a distance of over twenty feet, he fell on one of the sleepers below, badly crushing his face besides other bodily injuries. He was knocked senseless, but recovered after a short while. Dr. Frank Hughes was summoned and rendered medical aid. Joshua Lewis, col., fell between the sleepers to the ground and was only slightly bruised. The heavy timber [illegible] down with them was broken into three pieces.

The New Line.

The new line of steamships known hereas the Eastern Dispatch, will commence its trips from this port on or about the 22d inst. At the beginning there will be but two vessels making tri-weekly trips, leaving here it is expected on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings. Subsequently a third vessel will be put upon the line, when the trips will be daily.

Of Interest To Druggists.

We clip the following item from the Statesville Landmark. We are glad to see "Jeff." making such headway in his chosen profession:

We notice in The Druggists, a publication in the interest of the druggists, printed at Chattanooga, Tenn., that Mr. D. S. Carraway, of Morganton, N. C., has introduced a feature which must be of great utility to druggists and those contemplating the study of pharmacy. His contributions are in the form of lectures and comprise everything necessary to an extensive understanding of the science of pharmacy. These lectures are presented in a very attractive manner, and being easy of comprehension, are much more desirable than most of the text books on the subject. We commend to our young drug friends especially this publication. The lectures alone of Mr. Carraway will far more than repay the small outlay required.

New Church Building in New Berne.

The body of Christians known as "Disciples of Christ," after continued efforts for several years past, have succeeded in purchasing a lot (situated on Hancock st., being the southern portion of the Suydam lot) in this city; and by donations from the annual convention, and union meeting in Pitt county, and also from individuals, have collected enough funds to assure them of success in building a house to be dedicated to the worship of the living God. After paying for the lot they have $475 in hand for building purposes. The building will be of Gothic architecture, 34x60, including ten foot vestibule. The windows, fourteen in number, and front door, will be donated as "memorial" gifts from the churches and from individuals, six of which, including front door (with large transom and suitable inscription in cut ground glass) has already been pledged. The windows are to be of ground and stained glass, each with appropriate lettering of church or churches, and individuals donating them; and the whole cost of windows and door, including frames, will be about $400. One of the windows is donated individually by Dr. H. D. Harper, of Kinston, N. C. Another from church in Kinston, through preacher in charge, Eld. H. C. Bowen, and one through same pastor by Bethany church, Edgecombe county. Two others are donated through Elds. C. W. Howard and J. L. Burns, preachers in charge, from churches in counties of Onslow, Jones and Lenoir. They expect to secure two windows through Eld. F. D. Power, pastor of Vermont Avenue church, Washington City, D. C., one as a memorial window for James A. Garfield, and one to be donated by jurists of Washington City and Disciple members of Congress, for Judge Jeremiah S. Black, both having been life-long Christians and Disciples of Christ. Several other windows will also be donated by churches and individuals for the "pioneer preachers," who, having fought the "good fight of faith," have passed "beyond the river." A memorial porch, 6x10, will also be donated. The front door, with transom, is given by church in Norfolk, Va., through E. T. Powell, Esq., a member of the church. A raft of forty logs, given by the Messrs. Tingle Brothers, of Pamlico county, and a raft of one hundred and five logs given by parties in the Core creek section, have all been towed and delivered, and work on building commenced. The members and congregation at Kitt Swamp church, Craven county, donate shingles. All [illegible] help will enable them to put up a better building than could otherwise be done, and when completed will be a monument to the zeal of [illegible] material, as follows: D. Stimson, $20.00; S. Radcliff & Co., $25.00; Wm. P. Thompson (Phila.), $5.00; cash, $25.00; cash, $5.00; cash, 50 cents; L. H. Cutler, 5 barrels lime; J. C. Whitty, 2 kegs nails; Geo. Allen, 2 barrels cement; J. J. Tolson, 2 kegs nails.

We believe there are many others in this city and surrounding counties who will cheerfully aid in this noble work; and those desiring to do so can let the same be known to any one of the building committee. All donations will be thankfully received and duly acknowledged.

The committee consists of N. S. Richardson, H. S. Nunn, and Josiah Wood, New Berne; Alfred Gaskins, Craven county, and Zachary T. Dunn, Pamlico county.

Personal.

Judge Shipp arrived last night.

Judge A. C. Avery arrived last night on his way to Washington to hold court.

W. B. Rodman, jr., of Washington, arrived last night from Raleigh.

Maj. Ed. Whitford returned from Raleigh last night, where he has been in the interest of a new county.

Canal Wanted.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—I give you below a few points in regard to our petition and the benefits that may be derived from its accomplishments:

First, the cutting of the canal will drain hundreds of acres of swamp land that would produce from eight to ten barrels of corn per acre, some of which is government land, besides letting off the stagnant water, which would make this part of the country as healthy as any part of the State. Then to cut a road somewhere near Riverdale, by the lakes, and nearest point out to White Oak road a distance of about seven miles, which would go through a large body of good land, part of which also belongs to the State, would make a short route for transportation.

Also, the great quantity of fish that is in said lakes could be secured and used to great advantage.

Besides, the road would greatly be benefited by cutting of said road, as its embankment, several times, has nearly given away from quantity of water that gathers at this place.

Also, there would be a quantity of freight from wood and timber that would be transported through this canal, the distance being only one and a half miles from creek to river, railroad being about half the distance; and besides the quantity of marl abounding on said creek and canal could be shipped up the country for years, the supply being plentiful. S.

Cincinnati ladies have a cure for sad sleeves, and yet this is cold; but they never fail to use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and always secure an immediate cure.

Stonewall Items.

Wm. Potter, sr., is supplying the demand for horses and mules in Pamlico. His stock is at Bayboro.

John Flowers and Miss Mollie Messic were married on last Sunday at the residence of J. U. Cary, on Spring creek, J. U. Cary, J. P., officiating.

Schooner Marvel, Shaw master, with a load of lumber from A. H. Whitcomb's mill, for Philadelphia, was towed out to better sailing water by steamer Bertie on Wednesday evening.

On the 10th inst. an election was held in this place for the adoption or rejection of the [illegible] law. There were 109 registered voters and 57 voted for adoption and 38 against it. It is for this section between [illegible] and Bayboro. So we are told. We are, and have been, a no-fence section for a long while.

DAMAGED. The [illegible] were passing under the bridge in Bayboro and the tide was flowing rapidly, when the raft struck the posts of the bridge and knocked them from under the works above. The consequence was a collapsed bridge, but the damage is all repaired and travel is not discomoded at this time.

The following is a correct list of the Misses who have been sent to Mr. Joe Kinsey school at La Grange: Rena, daughter of the Sheriff, Hester, May, daughter of Wm. T. Cobb, Louise, daughter of A. H. Hamlin, and Lena, daughter of Benj. McCotter. [illegible] the latter has been sick considerable part of the time she has been there, but is better. Perhaps it is home-sickness, it being so healthy up there or some other cause left behind. I would advise Lena [illegible] apply herself to her books, and all will end well after a while. In next item stating the [illegible] have [illegible] when [illegible]

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Special to the JOURNAL.

RALEIGH, February 12, 1887.

HOUSE.

CANALS AND ROADS.

At Thursday night's session of the House there was a two hours debate on the special order, a bill to authorize the State board of education to construct and complete certain roads and canals in Eastern North Carolina. The discussion was lively. Mr. Sutton favored the bill, as did Mr. Lyon and Mr. Moore. They urged the use of convicts, as the bill provides, in the East, on the ground that in that section, which furnished the bulk of convicts and paid most of the taxes, there had been fewer improvements than in any other section of the State, and little or no use for convicts.

Mr. Worth, attacking the bill, said the swamp lands were worthless, that the cost of this work would be very great, and it would give 100 convicts five years' steady work. Virtually it would appropriate $50,000 a year for five years. He said the bill was an insane idea, indefinite, etc. He declared that he did not antagonize the East, but only this bill.

Mr. Pearson offered an amendment that the public lands be sold and the money they obtain be used in paying convicts to construct the roads and canals, at $180 per convict per year. Mr. Pearson pleased ridicule upon the bill. He saw only one thing of possible merit, that being the canal from Broad creek to Alligator river. He said the convicts would be given for nothing. The State would really gain by giving the counties in which these roads and canals are to be constructed the taxes they might pay. The State would by this save $11,000 a year. Speaking of convicts in the West, he said that all their work was paid for.

Mr. Thomas, of Gaston, made a long speech and an excellent one. He asked that favor be shown this enterprise or rather series of great enterprises, on a par with others in the West or other sections of the State. He explained carefully and clearly the character of the work proposed to be done. The water-ways it would give would be of importance, nay necessity, to the people. The roads, like the canals, will aid in a great work of development. The canal from Broad creek to Alligator river, for instance, will be not only a great State work, but will form a part of the great inter-State inland system of water-ways.

Mr. Felton spoke warmly in favor of the bill, and plainly criticised Mr. Pearson for casting ridicule upon a great enterprise, affecting the people of the whole State, more or less directly.

Mr. Parsons began a speech on the bill, but before he had spoken ten words the hour of 10 arrived, the Speaker's gavel fell, and the House adjourned until Friday morning.

FRIDAY NIGHT'S PROCEEDINGS.

Last night the House devoted over three hours to a discussion of the bill to grant 250 convicts to the State board of education, in order that the board might construct and complete certain roads and canals in thirteen counties in the eastern part of the State. The debate was heated. Twenty members spoke. Pearson and Parsons led the opposition. The Speaker ruled that the question could be divided. Mr. Lyon appealed from this decision. The House failed to sustain the Speaker, 49 to 50. The House voted down every amendment, and finally, at 11 o'clock, passed the bill, 67 to 18, on its second and third readings, just as it came from the Senate.

HON. J. J. DAVIS.

Last night at 11 o'clock Gov. Scales appointed Hon. Joseph J. Davis an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Ashe. The appointment of Mr. Davis was made after many days' deliberation. Mr. Davis is 54 years of age and has for many years been in public life. He served three terms in Congress, with ability. In one of his campaigns he defeated both Moses A. Bledsoe and Josiah Turner, Republicans. Mr. Davis is a warm personal friend of Gov. Scales. His appointment is sure to give a great deal of satisfaction. Two other distinguished gentlemen, Messrs. George Davis and Richard H. Battle, were mentioned in connection with this position.

Don't—If a dealer offer you a bottle of Salvation Oil without labels, or wrappers, or in a mutilated or defaced package, don't touch it—don't buy it at any price; you can rest assured that there is something wrong—it may be a dangerous and worthless counterfeit.
