But few oysters in market yesterday. The boats have been out to load up. The market is beginning to boom. Let them boom, but let Democrats keep cool.

The Western Sentinel arrived from Elizabeth City on Friday night and will sail tomorrow, Monday eve, at 8 o'clock. Freight received at the railroad station.

A meeting of the Ladies' Memorial Association will be held at the residence of Mrs. John Hughes on Tuesday, March 1, at 10 a. m. It is earnestly desired that all members shall be present.

Quite a change in the weather yesterday. When rain, which is making the roads muddy and causing a jump in the weather, was longer we expect to announce a shipment of radishes.

The Western Sentinel in a recent issue, has a very good portrait of Hon. E. M. Simmons, and, with the exception of a few errors, a very correct sketch of his life, which we propose to reproduce.

A circulation was arrived yesterday, and distributed circulars through the city, announcing that they would open for the first time in the city of New Berne, N. C., at 8:30 p. m. Capt. Gon and Lieutenants Weaver and Corcoran, who are in the opening attack. We suppose they will go to see and hear them through curiosity, and if they have any better counsel than that they are receiving at the churches, they may accomplish some good.

For the People of Carteret.
We are requested to announce that P. H. Pelletier, Esq., of the firm of Guion & Pelletier, will be at Beaufort, Carteret county, on Thursday, March 10, 1887.

A Fine Turkey.
We were shown yesterday a dressed turkey, called by John Humphrey, who is one of our progressive farmers. It is one of the bronze variety, eight months old, and weighs fourteen and a half pounds. W. L. FALKER,

U. S. Commissioner's Court.
Yesterday Mr. C. E. Root, of Jones, was before U. S. Commissioner W. W. Clark, upon the charge of breaking open a mail box.

Guion & Pelletier appeared for the defendant. After examination of witnesses, Mr. Root was discharged, there being no evidence upon which to bind him over.

Senator Buchanan of Wayne, arrived last night and is stopping at the Gaston House. Senator Mason, of Orange, and Representative Long, of Cabarrus, went through to Morehead City.

W. B. Lane, Esq., was in the city yesterday.

Dr. G. K. Bagby returned from Florida yesterday. He found one great friend down there, the St. Andrews Bay Railroad and Mining Co.

Miss Gertrude Bagby, of Kinsey's School, is coming to home on a visit.

John P. Long, Esq., earnestly discussed the claims of education at Harlow and Oregon during the past week. He is trying to get the people to supplement their public schools with private schools.

There is a strong movement of this kind in the western end of the county. At Parnoke, Bladen, W. M. Lane's, Turner, May, Richardson's, and at several places in the first district the farmers, though struggling with many hardships, are doing their best. The movement is also extending through other sections of the county.

Dr. F. W. Smith has a good article of Dr. F. W. Smith in the Journal of Feb. 26. Dr. F. W. Smith is a good doctor.

NEWS NOTES.

Prince Alexander is suffering from small-pox and not gastric fever, as previously announced.

The Austrian Reichsrath has passed the credits for the equipment of the landsturm without a dissenting voice.

Richard Canfield, E. L. D., editor of the Journal of the Royal Historical and Archaeological Association of Ireland, is dead.

The striking miners of Lanarkshire, Scotland, have agreed to resume work and then discuss their differences with the owners.

The Montreal Star states that an organization composed of aldermen and outsiders exists there for the purpose of swindling business concerns which have favors to ask from the city council.

Dominico Bardella, an Italian, was stabbed through the heart and killed in New York, Wednesday night, by Pietro Pallotto, a fellow-countryman, in a dispute as to which was the best singer.

Henry Bloodgood, Bart Olferssieve and J. W. Wallace were badly beaten at Elizabethport, N. J., Wednesday, by strikers while going home from work at the coal yard of the Central railroad of New Jersey.

Mrs. Hannon and son, proprietors of the free-love newspaper called Lutifer, have been arrested at Valley Falls, Kan., on the charge of circulating obscene literature, viz., their newspaper, through the mails.

Hanlan and Gaudaur, the carmen, signed an agreement in New York Thursday for a single scull race of three miles and one turn, for $3,500 a side and the championship, the race to come off May 30, at a place to be hereafter decided upon.

Another supposed "trunk murder" has been discovered in the Baltimore and Ohio Express Company's office at Pittsburg. The box containing the decaying remains of a human body was received there from Cincinnati addressed to "John Osborne."

In the Delaware Senate Thursday Mr. McWhorter gave notice of a bill providing for the erection of a new State House and the issue of twenty-year four per cent bonds to pay for the same. In the House Mr. McCoy introduced his anti-railroad relief association bill.

The invoices for a large consignment of wine from Jerusalem were received at the Chicago custom house Wednesday. The invoices consist of nearly 500 gallons of wine and upwards of 100 gallons of liquor, and are intended specially for the Feast of the Passover.

The Trades Assembly, composed of delegates from all the trades-unions in Essex county, N. J., has passed a resolution condemning District Assembly No. 49, of New York, for its action in the late strike; also a series of resolutions setting forth that if the order of the Knights of Labor in regard to eight-makers is enforced every union in the assembly will withdraw from the Knights.

Kinston Items.

Is the park a thing of the past or the future? Most assuredly 'tis not of the present.

Messrs. A. Mitchell and R. H. Rountree, Jr., made a business trip to Trenton on Tuesday.

Miss Sarah A. Davis, proprietress of the Davis House at Beaufort, is visiting Mrs. N. M. Turney.

Horseback riding is getting to be quite fashionable among the young ladies and gentlemen of late.

Dr. Cushman, who has quite a reputation as a horse doctor, entertained a large crowd at the corner of Whitehurst's drug store Friday afternoon.

A good many of our young married men can say: "It's nice to be a father at the head of a family. It's nice to be a father with a bouncing baby boy upon your knee."

W. B. Herbert, local editor of the Free Press, left for Rocky Mount, or Goldsboro one Thursday morning for a few days. He did not carry his tomahawk with him.

Jas. A. McDaniel has been getting in his stock of goods for the past few days. Jim is a most excellent young man and we wish him much success in his new business. He has opened next to—"I say, young man, come hear."

Burglars at work again. Last Wednesday night the store of J. F. Strand, on Tuslock, was broken into and about two hundred pounds of N. C. home, a few pounds of sugar and about one dollar in cash was taken. We should have a night watchman; it is simply impossible for one policeman to go night and day and keep things straight.

The proprietor of the Amber Hotel, Baltimore, Md., Wm. Delaney, writes: My wife suffered most acutely from rheumatism, the terrible pain would frequently visit her. She was unable to get up, and she was in a state of great distress. She was using only Dr. F. W. Smith's Oil and after using only half a bottle, it was only relieved her, but she was not cured.

Quaker Bridge Road.

CATHARINE LAKE, Onslow Co., N. C., Feb. 23, 1887.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—Wishing to address our Representatives through your columns, I ask the favor of so doing.

HILL E. KING, Esq.,
Dear Sir:—I want you to tell the public what is the trouble about our road, and to hold in mind undeviatingly that the Quaker Bridge road belongs to the people of Jones and Onslow counties, being donated and appropriated for their benefit immediately, remotely, and permanently, holding in view the convenience of the public at large, making it accord with the language of the enactment, a public highway, a road pro bono publico. With a full sense and appreciation of a gift so beneficial and considerate, these counties have taken charge of the road, worked it, and notwithstanding the severity of the past and previous winters have kept it in remarkably good order, everything considered, and are determined to hold it until called for by the substitution of a railroad that can and will suit the best interest of Jones and Onslow counties.

Those persons, or the party, trying to deprive us of our road lose sight of the fact that we, the people of Jones and Onslow, honestly hold possession of our road by Legislative enactment brought about by the unremitting attention of our much lamented Congressman, J. W. Shackelford. He saw the need of it and got it for us, for which I, with many others, revere his memory, and I now say, in the face of all consequences, that the attack upon our rights, or attempt to so deprive us, is unbefitting to the extreme, particularly when made by men who assume to understand law and are governed thereby. The robbery given by Nathan to David by the illustration of the rich man who had many flocks and the poor man who had but one little wee lamb, which was raised a pet among his children, and was all he had. And there came a traveler that stopped at the rich man's house, and the rich man took the poor man's lamb and dressed it for the traveler, sparing his own flock and herd. When David heard the tale he became very angry, and said, "As the Lord liveth, the man that did this thing shall surely die." Nathan answered by saying, "Thou art the man," which took David all aback, remembering his conduct.

The donation by the State of this road is the only gift we have had at any time in this community, while thousands and millions have been given throughout the State constantly, and what do we find? A set of men, from whom we ought to have sympathy and aid, trying to take from us the only advantage we have ever had. Their conduct don't redound to their credit in the least degree; their offences are rank and they smell to Heaven.

The Quaker Bridge Road has done a great deal of good; thousands of miles have been traveled on it, and lots of produce have gone safely over it, and we depend on you to see to it, and prevent any intrusion upon it, and take every care of it in your representative capacity. Don't allow yourself to be misled by anything whatsoever. We expect to hold it in the face of all opposition. It is as much a public road as one to the capital, and under the same jurisdiction. Let others work what schemes they may; we, the people of Jones and Onslow, will hold on to our road, and by a little assistance from the State, we can soon and readily have a fine and ample railroad bed of over fifty miles, to join with any other road or roads for the good of the country. It is necessary that you should see to the completion of the Quaker Bridge road; there are yet two miles of road leading to Tar Landing, to be cut, and water courses of the same prong of road, that have had nothing done to them, all belonging to us by the same enactment of the Legislature. We ask of the Legislature the benefit of the provisions of the act, and not allow us to be disturbed by any intrusion or demand of persons who assume to understand law and are governed thereby. Three or four miles of road, leading to Tar Creek road, with Quaker Bridge road, and if the people of New Bern want to join us, the road is a little expensive. The distance is comparatively short to the Angola road, and more from that road to Burgaw, and more than seven miles, thereby opening the way to Wilmington by the Quaker Bridge road, and to any point on the Atlantic road up and down, as may be desired. With these advantages, and valuing ourselves as citizens, we could very soon have all the railroad facilities we want. I say to you, stand by your road to the last, and if you can, do it for the less. I conclude by asking for a more strict observance of the laws and enactment. There can be no difficulty in carrying out the plan, but the danger is in getting confused by interference with no other object in view, than self aggrandizement.

Respectfully yours,
CHAS. DUFFY, JR., M. D.

For President of the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The caucus of Republican Senators this morning nominated Senator Ingalls to be President of the Senate. There were twenty-eight votes cast, of which number eighteen were for Ingalls, eight for Hoar, one for Edmunds and one for Frye. Mr. Ingalls was thereupon declared to be the nominee of the caucus. Senator Ingalls was not present at the caucus, and nothing like an active canvass was conducted by him or in his behalf. Western Senators entertained the opinion that the honor was due to one from their section of the country, and their choice fell unanimously to Mr. Ingalls because of his long service, his familiarity with the rules and practice of the Senate, and his conceded fitness in all other respects. There was only one ballot, and the entire subject was disposed of within three minutes. There has been some speculation as to whether the selection to be made would cover merely the recess or to continue indefinitely. Nothing was said on this subject, and so understanding has been reached or suggested respecting it. Mr. Ingalls, therefore, if elected, will fill the chair until a majority of the Senate shall determine to elect his successor or until he shall resign.

The caucus, after some discussion, determined to "sit out" the pleuropneumonia bill today, and to take up the Pacific Railroad inquiry resolution tomorrow.

The Democrats of the Senate, without holding a formal caucus, have determined to support Senator Harris for President of the Senate.

The Princes of Wales wear a very small bustle, yet the whole of England is in an awful bustle about it, one would suppose they had run about of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, which is a very used in that country for asthma, throat, coughs and colds.
