Age is beginning to tell on him, but in the Rev. Doctor over again. He is an eloquent, forcible and logical speaker and already wields an influence in the Presbytery. Dr. Watkins is a quiet member, but effectual; Dr. Harding does not speak often but always talks sense, and the same may be said of Revs. Summerel. Craig, Allison, Miller, Chester, Faucett, Isler, Thom, the tallest member of the body, and others whom we cannot recall; in fact there was less "windy" talking to the amount of intelligence than in any similar body we ever had the pleasure of attending. For good, hard work, and good practical sense the Rev. Mr. Sprunt stands well to the front among the younger members. He was elected one of the commission-

The Presbyterians are to be commended for their zeal in educational work.
