The city election is over. Let us have peace.

Mrs. C. Manly and Miss Nellie Seymour will receive at the Y. M. C. A. rooms this afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock.

A large fleet of oyster boats was at Moore & Brady's cannery yesterday. There was complaint about the lack of shuckers. They were either picking peas or attending the election.

There will be a meeting of the Ladies Memorial Association at the residence of Mrs. John Hughes, today, Tuesday, at 12 o'clock. A full attendance is earnestly requested to decide some matters of importance.

All who have been notified and who intend to take part in the music on Memorial Day, are requested to assemble promptly at half past eight o'clock to-night (Tuesday) at the residence of Major John Hughes.

J. V. Williams, proprietor of the Fast Freight line, ran yesterday into the board of city council from the second ward, making close connection, but when the obstacles he had to overcome are considered, it was a glorious victory for him. He did not move an eagle's wings, but got there just the same. To beat the nominee in that ward was no small job.

Cotton King.
Dall Bros. have received a lot of "Cotton King," a most excellent cotton plow, manufactured by McD. Pate & Co., at Snow Hill. It is a home-made article and well made for the cultivation of cotton and young corn.

Peas.
Peter G. Ackerman, commission merchant 287 Washington street, New York, removed to his new store No. 116 Warren street, on May first. No one enjoys the confidence of our truckers more than he. His returns for North Carolina peas on Monday last was $7.00 per crate, strawberries 65 cents per quart; and on Thursday $6.00 for peas, and 60 cents for strawberries. He is very successful in getting good prices.

Judge Seymour left yesterday morning for Wilmington where he is holding the district court this week.

Steamer Movements.
The steamer Eagle of the E. C. D. line arrived Sunday afternoon with a good cargo of merchandise, and sailed yesterday afternoon with a cargo of merchandise and truck.

The steamer Vesper of this line will sail this, Tuesday afternoon, at 5 o'clock, being the only truck steamer sailing today. Truck shipped by the Vesper will arrive in New York at 10 o'clock Thursday night for Friday morning's market, an important one in New York and Philadelphia.

The Famillon sailed on schedule time yesterday carrying out peas and other truck.

Took the Wrong Side.
A gentleman who has long studied the character and disposition of our colored people says the Journal made a mistake in advocating the adoption of the school bill. Said he: "If you had opposed the adoption of schools upon the ground that the white taxpayers did not want to pay any more taxes for the education of negroes, it would have been carried by an overwhelming majority." This gentleman is perhaps right, but we preferred to appeal to their intelligence. The result, perhaps, is quite satisfactory to the taxpayers as it is to Henry Dewey, who says he votes for nothing that is "managed exclusively by white people."

City Election.
The election in this city yesterday passed off quietly, though there was much interest in the 2d, 3d and 4th wards.

In the 1st ward there was not much interest manifested and only a light vote was polled. Pat Williams, the Democratic nominee, had a walk-over, receiving 90 votes to Nelson, Republican, 7, and Wooten, 1.

In the 2d ward the contest was between F. W. Hancock, the nominee of the Democratic primary, and J. V. Williams, independent Democrat. The Republicans divided, a part going for Hancock, but a majority of them for Williams. Throughout the day both sides claimed the election for their favorite candidate, Hancock's friends seemingly being the most confident. The count proved a tie, each receiving 71 votes. The registrar gave the casting vote for Williams.

In the 3rd ward the contest was between Thos. Daniels, the Democratic nominee, and B. B. Lane, Democrat, who was not a candidate, but was voted for by the Democrats who opposed Mr. Daniels and by a majority of the Republican voters, notwithstanding they, the Republicans, had a candidate in the field, A. A. Bryan. The result was Lane 72, Daniels 69, Bryan 19.

In the 4th ward the contest was between V. A. Crawford, a coalition Republican, and the regular nominee of the Republican convention, and W. W. Lawrence, an independent Republican. It was a strong fight against Crawford, who has been a member of the board for many years, and was read out of the party by Henry Dewey's paper recently. The result was Crawford 88, Lawrence 72.

In the 5th ward the contest was between Henry P. Canady, the Republican nominee, and N. H. Styron, Independent Republican. The result was Canady 297 votes, and Styron 191 votes.

On the school question there was a light vote. 865 votes were cast, of which 531 were for schools and 333 against schools. By wards the vote was: in the 1st ward, for schools 75, against 11; 2d ward, for schools 122, against 11; 3d ward, for schools 111, against 14; 4th ward, for schools 61, against 37; 5th ward, for schools, 191, against, 260. The city council before declaring the result should purge the registration books, if there is any probability that it would change the result. If there are any names on the books that ought not to be there, it is not right to count them against schools.

Facilities for Shipping Truck.
Among the many facilities for shipping truck from this community there is no better way than by the A. & N. C. Railroad. There is no danger of missing connection and the truck always gets to market in good time and in good order. Then there is a great deal in having vegetables a short time on the route. There is no transfer from car to car, all the cars going through to the water terminus without change since the general change of gauge last year in which the Atlantic road took the lead of all the other roads. In addition, there can always be found ready buyers at the freight depot who give good prices. This naturally induces many small producers to take their truck to the depot for a market. The railroad is running a fast schedule for the benefit of shippers, and is anxious and prepared to do all it can for the convenience of its patrons. Any suggestions conducive to additional facilities for shippers will be gladly received and acted upon whenever possible. It is evident to every one coming in contact with the railroad people that if courtesy and attention to the wants of the shippers avail anything, this road will have a good proportion of the truck. The fast truck train leaves the depot daily at 5 o'clock p. m., Saturdays and Sundays excepted.

Serious Affray.
On Friday evening last an affray took place near Croatan in this county in which a colored man by the name of the head with a heavy piece of timber Henderson struck Bryan Ives, white, on seriously wounding him. Dr. Frank Duffy attended him and reports that he is in a serious condition. Henderson has been lodged in jail.

Married.
At the residence of the bride's father, at Cedar Point, Onslow county, N. C., on April 27th, 1887, by the Rev. W. H. Puckett, Mr. J. Hiram Bell of Polkville, Jones county, N. C., to Miss Lillie S. Ward, daughter of Dr. E. W. and Mrs. H. J. Ward.

The attendants were Mr. J. J. Ward and Miss Willie Bell, Mr. Julian Bender and Miss Marcie Hurst, Mr. T. S. Bender and Miss Hester Provow, Mr. Willie Bell and Miss Viola Provow, Mr. W. E. Wooten and Miss Lillian Bender. After the marriage the happy couple with their friends repaired to the dining room, where a sumptuous dinner awaited them of good things. After which the party left for Polkville, the home of the groom, where friends and a sumptuous supper of good things awaited them.

Commissioners' Proceedings.
The board of county commissioners convened at the court house on Monday, May 2d, 1887. Present: James A. Bryant, chairman, Thos. H. Mallison, W. G. Brinson, Wm. M. Watson and Samuel W. Latham.

It was ordered by the board that the attention of ex-sheriff and tax collector Hahn and Sheriff Stinson be called to section 88 of the machinery act, passed by the last General Assembly.

The valuation of three hundred acres of land in No. 9 township, listed by A. W. Avery for taxation for 1886, was reduced from $480 to $400 for error as to county taxes only.

J. W. Lane having declined the appointment of tax lister in No. 3 township, Dr. R. G. Cobb was appointed in his stead.

Commissioner Brinson submitted a report on condition of bridges which was approved, and it was ordered that a voucher for $50.00 be issued to Mr. Minor for repairs to Swift creek bridge.

Commissioner Mallison submitted a report on east prong of Slocumb's creek bridge, and it was ordered that the account of G. H. Hunter for $100.00 for repairs on said bridge be allowed.

Mr. Rasberry Nelson submitted a petition in regard to a public road. After considering the same the following order was made:

That Sheriff Daniel Stinson summon a jury and lay off the following road, beginning at Cattail bridge on Neuse road in township No. 1 on north side of Neuse river and running across the lands of Benjamin Atkinson, Freeman Harris, W. B. Moyer, John Gaskins, A. J. Roach, R. B. Nelson, J. B. Roach, heirs of John Gaskins, John Flemming, and John Ellis, to the Beaver dam across Swift creek provided, that no portion of the expense attending the laying out of said road or damage incident to condemning and crossing the land herein mentioned shall be borne or paid by Craven county. Provided further, that the laying out of said road is not in violation of the agreement entered into by Messrs. Rasberry Nelson and Lafayette Kirkman before this board at its session in April last.

On motion the board adjourned to meet on Tuesday, May 3d, 1887.

More Granges Reorganized.
OGLESBY, N. C., May 2, 1887.
EDITOR JOURNAL:—I see in your last Weekly edition that your Richlands itemizer gave you the names of the officers elected by the Grange at that place for this year. As I have reorganized three other Granges since then, I will give your readers the names of the officers elected by them:

Brooklyn Grange No. 152 elected John C. Wooten, sr., master; L. E. Duffy, overseer; James M. Wooten, lecturer; W. O. Wooten, steward; Jesse Vause, assistant steward; H. A. Edwards, chaplain; J. P. Kelly, treasurer; J. Stephenson, secretary; L. H. Tull, gate-keeper; Mrs. J. M. Wooten, Ceres; Mrs. J. Stephenson, Pomona; Miss M. E. Hill, Flora; Miss Roberta Duffy, lady assistant steward.

Union Grange No. 199, in Jones county, elected J. E. Harrison, master; James Bryan, overseer; Dr. Fred. A. Whitaker, lecturer; A. C. Burt, steward; J. A. Kinsey, assistant steward; J. D. Basden, chaplain; F. B. Beeton, treasurer; A. F. Beeton, secretary; W. Cox, gate-keeper; Mrs. E. S. Gooding, Pomona; Miss Lizzie Phillips, Flora; Miss L. H. Beeton, Ceres; Miss S. E. Taylor, lady assistant steward. This Grange reorganized with over 80 members.

Woodington Grange No. 84 elected E. G. Tyndal, worthy master; James Williams, overseer; M. H. Wooten, lecturer; J. B. Harper, steward; William Stroud, assistant steward; J. G. Smith, chaplain; Whitfield Grady, treasurer; S. D. Parrish, secretary; S. H. Humphrey, gate-keeper; Miss S. E. Harper, Pomona; Miss M. L. Harper, Flora; Miss M. O. Tyndal, Ceres; Miss Susan Grady, lady assistant steward.

These names represent the strength, intelligence and beauty of these neighborhoods. I do not mean the names of the officers alone, but I mean that the best men and women in each of these neighborhoods almost unanimously joined the Grange.

The farmers see plainly that they must organize and stick together like other people, or they are gone up, and the Grange they know is the best organization for them in existence. It has been tried and proved good as far as it has ever been tried. No one can tell any harm the Grange ever did to any one. I am having the very best success, much better than expected, and I predict that soon you will see the poor farmer come to the front and occupy the position God intended he should occupy.

AFTER THE STORM

Bright birds of the air break forth now and sing.
To herald again the coming of spring.
And when the dark clouds 'neath the heavens arise,
O'ershadowing the earth and the blue vaulted skies,
Fly upward, dear bird, on thy pinions of ease,
Far, far beyond reach of the storm-tossing breeze.
Into the sweet region of aerial calm;
There rest thee thy plumage secure of all harm.
And when the fierce winds and the tempest departs,
Come back with thy soul-stirring tones to our hearts:
Recall the dear welcome the tempest has brushed,
And the bright beating colors it ruthlessly crushed.
From the jewels of earth the sweet-scented flowers
Charm back the bright sunny hours
And teach us to hum in our praises to thee.
Who rules the dark storms and hurries them by.

School Histories Again

Mr. Editor:—In a recent issue of your paper you commented upon the school books placed in the hands of our children by their tutors. You stated in pretty strong terms that some of them were unfit for the purpose intended, which was to impart a knowledge of truthful history. Worcester's History of the United States was the one to which you particularly referred. Why, Mr. Editor, a history, or a history and geography combined, written by a New Englander, in which the South is shamefully misrepresented, is no new thing. The first one written since the Revolutionary War, was gotten up by one Jedediah Morse, a New Englander, and published during the administration of Gen. Washington. His slanders on North Carolina are infamous. In his description of this State he said: "The citizens of North Carolina who are not better employed spend their time in drinking, or gaming at cards or dice, in cock-fighting or horse-racing. Many of the interludes are filled up with a boxing match; and these matches frequently become memorable by feats of gouging. This delicate and entertaining diversion is thus performed: When two boxers are tired with fighting and bruising each other, they come, as it is called, to close quarters, each endeavoring to twist his forefingers in the earlocks of his antagonist. When these are fast clinched, the thumbs are extended each way to the nose and the eyes are gently turned out of their sockets. The victor for his expertness receives shouts of applause from the sporting throng, while his poor, eyeless antagonist is laughed at for his misfortune." This statement from the New England geographer has passed into history, and has been republished in Scotland by the celebrated Doctor Dick, D.D. During the writer's boyhood all of the school histories of the United States were so colored that the student had a vague idea that the only Southern man in the Continental Army was Gen. Washington, that the only Tories during the Revolutionary War were in North and South Carolina, and that the entire war was fought principally by Northern soldiers; and it was not until we attained man's estate did we learn differently. We then learned that in nearly every battle of the Revolution fought in the Northern States, Southern soldiers played their part. But we have never yet learned or heard of any Northern soldiers figuring during that war upon Southern battle-fields, with the exception of two regiments of Tories commanded by natives of New York that surrendered with Cornwallis at Yorktown, and one company from New York that fought under the English colors in South Carolina. We will come down later, Mr. Editor. Did you ever read the "History of the Great Rebellion," by Abbott? If you never did, we advise you to do so; it is the greatest curiosity of its kind we have ever seen. There are more lies on a page than can be found in any other book ever written. Why, sir, if Baron Munchausen were living, and Abbott's account of the battle near New Bern, or of McClellan's battles around Richmond were read to him, the old Baron, though the prince of liars in his day, would turn green with envy and be compelled to admit that Abbott was the champion liar of the world. We think it high time, Mr. Editor, that our School Superintendents should discard from our schools all books of the character you so severely and justly criticized. Since the close of the war a generation has been born and raised the age of maturity, and we who are now on the down grade of life do not like for our children to be brought up in the belief that their parents were traitors and rebels, and have this belief instilled into them by Southern teachers reading from Yankee school histories.

Excitement in Texas.
Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Texas, by the remarkable recovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless he could not turn in bed, or raise his head; everybody said he was dying of Consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery was sent him. Finding relief, he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills; by the time he had taken two boxes of pills and two bottles of the Discovery, he was well and had gained in flesh thirty-five pounds. Trial bottles of this Great Discovery for Consumption free at E. N. Duffy's.
