The excellent services by the Atlantic Road continues to give it a good proportion of the truck. Quick time, good facilities, untiring efforts to please, and marked and uniform courtesy to every patron, are going a long way to make the Atlantic a popular route. The shipments from New Berne by this road continue heavy and we have yet to hear a single complaint.

The retiring board of city councilmen have managed the affairs of the city well during the last year. They have paid cash for all vouchers issued and made a large reduction in the indebtedness, so as to make it possible for the present board to wipe out the balance the present year. The retiring tax collector made better collections the past year than ever before, in fact, by reference to our files we find that his delinquent list has grown smaller every year. We mention these facts to show the present board and tax collector, who is a good and worthy man, that they will have to exercise the utmost care and discretion to improve upon or even to do as well as their predecessors.
