THE WEEKLY JOURNAL, a 36 column paper, is published every Thursday at $2.00 per month. ADVERTISING RATES (DAILY)—One inch per day—$1.00; for each subsequent insertion, 50 cents. For long advertisements, under head of "Business Notices," 10 cents per line for first, and 5 cents for every subsequent insertion. No advertisements will be inserted between columns unless they are so marked. Notices of marriages or deaths, not to exceed ten lines, will be inserted free. All additional matter will be charged 5 cents per line. Payment for transient advertisements must be made in advance. Regular advertisements will be collected promptly at the end of each month. CONTENTS.—This issue contains news of a discussion of local matters are solicited. No communication must be expected to be published that contains objectionable terminology; without the name of the author or that will make more than one column of this paper. Any person feeling aggrieved at any item in this communication can obtain the name of the author by application at this office and having shown the grievance exists.

THE JOURNAL.

E. S. SMITH, Editor. G. HAMPER, Business Manager. NEW BERNE, N. C., MAY 8, 1887.

Entered by the Post Office at New Bern, N. C. as second-class matter.

The negro persecution of negroes who vote the Democratic ticket is a disgrace to the race. One of these was surrounded at the second ward polls Monday by a crowd with drawn knives who seemed as if they would cut him to pieces. Another was struck on the head Tuesday morning with a rock by one of his race, for the same offense, and bled freely. The air has all the week been full of threatenings against the negroes who voted Democratic in the municipal election, and life has been a burden to them. Statesville Landmark.

A Democratic General Assembly in the Clark and Lane cases sustained such bulldozers.

The legislature of West Virginia has elected a Senator at last. Judge CHARLES JAMES FAULKNER is the man. We believe it has been stated that LUCAS, the Governor's appointee, will attempt to hold over. The Baltimore News says of Judge FAULKNER:

"In the prime of manhood, with an unusually clear intellect, and with well-developed habits of industry, Mr. Faulkner may be expected to make his mark in the Senate. As a lawyer of extensive practice, and since as a circuit judge, he has given evidence of capacity which promises the best results in the enlarged sphere to which his services are to be transferred. The fact that he has been elected to the entire term of six years in the West Virginia Legislature shows that the people have been contented on his with practical ability, and it is to be hoped that the credit that he has earned will be clear that the interests of all factions could give him their votes. Mr. Faulkner is about 40 years of age, and a son of the late Hon. Charles James Faulkner, who in Congress, both before and since the war, and as United States minister to France, served his constituents and country with great ability. The son in many respects strongly resembles his distinguished father, particularly in his habits of industry and remarkable perseverance."

CARLISLE'S OPINION OF THE PRESIDENT.

In his speech on taking his seat as permanent chairman of the Kentucky Democratic State Convention, Hon. JOHN G. CARLISLE said: "The country will be very fortunate if it can always secure the services of an executive so thoroughly devoted to the real interests of the people, and so just and impartial in the execution of the laws, as the present one is."

The signs of the times point inevitably to the nomination of President CLEVELAND in 1888, and our friend Capt. KITCHIN might just as well get ready for it. The opposition to the President by Democrats has generally arisen out of his determination to enforce the civil service law. The JOURNAL has for sometime regarded the civil service law as a humbug, but we cannot blame the President for his efforts to honestly administer it. If it is a bad law, an honest, faithful administration of it will reveal its folly, and the people will demand its repeal.

STATE NEWS.

Gleaned from Our Exchanges.

Winston-Salem. Dr. Burdick is attending the annual meeting of the Bishops of the M. E. Church South, which convenes at Nashville, Tenn., today.—The revival services closed at the Baptist Church Friday night, Rev. J. H. Lambeth taking his departure Friday morning. Some ten or twelve persons made a profession of religion during the services.—A number of good ladies of several of our churches are making an effort to establish a hospital.

Fayetteville Observer. Mr. H. C. Fisher, register of deeds, recorded a mortgage deed on Saturday valued at $20,000.—The farmers are pushing ahead this year; already some of them have corn sufficiently high to plow.—Fayetteville is advancing, and now the much talked of electric light is added to her numerous works of progress. On Saturday night the Brush Electric Light was turned on, and hundreds thronged the streets to see what they had heard of and read about, but had never seen—the lightning used to light the streets and houses.

Charlotte Democrat. Rev. Dr. T. H. Fritchard, of Wilmington, preached in the Baptist church, in this city, on Friday evening last. He is a native of Charlotte, and is indeed an honor to the city and his State. There is no better pulpit orator than Dr. Fritchard.—The 20th May celebration in this city, is going to be a big thing. The brethren have charge of arrangements, but all our citizens feel an interest in giving a good time to visitors. The latch string of many dwellings will hang on the outside, and no one shall suffer if "wee-wee" know their wants.—Crop prospects in the surrounding country, are fine and very encouraging. And that is the news from all parts of the State.

Kernersville News and Farm. A. A. Gray, who came on a visit from Indiana, made a narrow escape from death on Wednesday of last week. He was driving two young mules, when the fodder on the wagon slipped too much to the front, frightening the mules and causing them to run. He was kicked several times, he thinks, and received frightful gashes about his head where the wheels struck him. After dragging him some distance, the mules at last stopped. His escape from death seems miraculous. Dr. Sapp was called in, who rendered every medical attention, and in a few days Mr. Gray was enabled to leave his bed.

Chatham Record. Mr. Stannis Jordan, of Haywood, has the tallest oats we have heard of this season. On last Sunday he measured some that were four and a half feet high.—One of our economical county-men rode here last Monday, several miles, and got the county commissioners to remit 13 cents from his taxes, and the county had to pay 15 cents for having the order made. We suppose he thought that 13 cents was more than the value of his horse and himself for the day he lost in obtaining the remittance.—Mr. Elias Harris, who mysteriously disappeared about a month ago, returned home yesterday. He states that no woman went off with him, as reported, and that he had no idea of abandoning his family, but merely went west on a traveling trip.—The cabin of a colored man in Baldwin township, named Joe Kabanks, was burned with all its contents, a few days ago. All the family were at work in a distant field at the time of the fire, and knew nothing of it until they returned from their work.

Statesville Landmark. The county commissioners will work the convicts on the public roads.—So then the investigation was practically fruitless, and the question of the identity of P. S. Ney with Napoleon's marshal remains just where it was. Those who believe they were one and the same are pleased because their theory has not been disproved, and those who hold the contrary are pleased because the exhumation failed to establish the identity. The most of the bones have passed into dust. The under jaw was found, with many of the teeth in it, in a good state of preservation; one thigh bone was found remaining whole; parts of the coffin were found, and the screws which held it together, but though the earth was sifted from a spade the silver plate which, it has been said, was in the skull of Marshal Ney, was not found, nor were any of the bullets which he was supposed to have carried to his grave.

Effect of Fog on the Electric Light. It was recently announced that the electric light on May Island, at the mouth of the Firth of Forth, had been sighted in clear weather from a distance of forty-six miles at sea, by the master of the Swedish steamer Frithiof. The same steamer arrived at Granton recently, and the master of the vessel reports that early in the morning, when there was a very dense fog prevailing, he had got within three miles of the May Island before the very powerful electric light recently placed in the lighthouse could be observed, and that it then resembled a dim light from a single candle. These two facts afford a very marked contrast in regard to the penetrative power of the electric light in clear weather and in a dense fog. It is such data as this should be put on record, and accumulated for future reference. Rockaway.

Increasing Woodland Grazing. The pasturage of many pieces of woodland might easily be trebled by allowing the natural Blue-grass to mature seed one summer. If there is no Blue-grass, it should be sown very early, and not be pastured for a year. It does well in even a dense shade, gives early and late pasture, endures close cropping and is not much injured by tramping where the land is wet and soft—an important quality, as it is not convenient to take the stock off woodland pasture in wet weather. The seed will catch on most woodlands without preparation of the surface, but old seed must be avoided.

Orchard grass is another good grass for woodlands, as it does well in the shade. Like Blue grass it is palatable, nutritious, and enjoys close cropping; and, unlike Blue-grass, resists drouth well, hence will afford grazing when the Blue-grass has died down in mid-summer. It may be sown together with the Blue-grass. Red-top and Red clover grow luxuriantly in a rich woodland soil. Very nearly as much pasturage can be had from woodland as from cleared land, and the advantage of shade, and the "mast" from the hickories and oaks, more than make up the difference. How large might be the returns gained from their woodlands, is a thought which has not yet entered even the dreams of many of our people, who would be very greatly and agreeably surprised by results, were the seeding down to tame grasses to be undertaken.

Excitement in Texas. Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Texas, by the remarkable recovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless he could not turn in bed, or raise his head; everybody said he was dying of Consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery was sent him. Finding relief, he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills; by the time he had taken two boxes of pills and two bottles of the Discovery, he was well and had gained in flesh thirty-six pounds. Trial Bottles of this Great Discovery for Consumption free at E. N. Duffy's.
