One of the most soldierly bearing boys among the Davis Cadets is the youngest and the least, James H. Simmons, a son of Hon. F. M. Simmons, is the boy.

It was a general remark in this city yesterday that the Davis Cadets were unexcelled in deportment and gentility. There is no better school in the South for boys than the Davis School.

J. W. Stewart was out driving yesterday with another new style buggy. It is a very light vehicle, with a sun top, yet does not keep off the breeze. Mr. Stewart keeps up with the latest styles of turnouts and keeps good horses.

Eastern Carolinians ought to feel proud of Col. Davis's school. His cadets show excellent training. The Colonel knows how to make a man of a boy. His school is the largest of the kind in the South, and many States in the Union are represented.

Edward Henderson, the colored boy who was lodged in jail a few days ago to await the result of a blow inflicted by him with a deadly weapon upon Bryant Ives, had a preliminary hearing before Justice Brinson yesterday, and was required to give bond in the sum of one hundred dollars for his appearance at the next term of the Superior Court.

Map Drawing.
We were shown a map yesterday, drawn by Master John Shinn, the eleven year old grandson of Mr. S. R. Street of the Gaston House, which would do credit to a professional draughtsman. Master John lives in Washington City, where such talent is appreciated, and we predict for him a useful and profitable career.

Steamer Movements.
The steamer Eaglet, of the E. C. D. Line, sailed yesterday afternoon with about seventy thousand feet of lumber and three thousand packages of truck.

The steamer Veper of the same line will arrive this morning and sail this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Personal.
Among the many people who attended memorial services yesterday we were glad to meet Major W. A. Bieant and Mr. W. A. B. Branch of Chocowinity, Messrs. S. I. Sutton and Josiah Sutton of La Grange, Dr. C. J. Mattocks, H. C. Fossum, Frank Foy and others of Johnston and Capt. Sam Thomas and others of Camden.

Capt. Alex Miller is attending the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., at Raleigh. Miss Hattie Harrison has returned from Boston, where she has been for two years attending the Conservatory of Music.

All who were appointed to take an active part in the Garden Party to be held on the Academy Green Friday evening, for the benefit of the Y. H. C. A. Library, are requested to meet at the Academy Green Wednesday afternoon, at five o'clock.

A committee of ladies will be at the graded school building Friday afternoon at three o'clock to receive the refreshments.

The party will be on Friday from five to eleven p. m., on the Academy Green.

MEMORIAL DAY.

A Large Crowd Present, and the Exercises Interesting.
Notwithstanding the threatening weather a good crowd attended the memorial services yesterday, and the exercises were impressive and interesting. The regular mail train from Morehead City brought in quite a number, and a special arrived at 11 o'clock from La Grange bringing the Davis Cadets, one hundred and fifty strong, under the command of Col. A. C. Davis, and a number of citizens and ex-Confederate soldiers. The steamer Kingston also brought down a large crowd from Jolly Old Field and other points along the Neuse. Those with others who arrived by private conveyance made up a large audience which joined heartily in the exercises to perpetuate the memory of our departed Confederates.

The Davis Cadets landed at the railroad depot, formed and marched down Queen street to Graves, to Craven, to South Front, to Middle, to Broad, to Hancock and to the Academy Green where they stacked arms and dispersed. The soldierly bearing of the cadets and their demeanor on the streets after dispersing was highly creditable, and speaks well for the commander and his assistants.

At 4:30 the people began to assemble at the Academy Green, where a stand had been erected by the Ladies Memorial Association for the orator and the choir. This stand was appropriately decorated with evergreens and flags. The Davis Cadets were on dress parade and the large crowd had the pleasure of witnessing their skill in the manual of arms, after this the bugle sounded, and the services at the stand began with music by the choir. Rev. L. W. Crawford followed with prayer. Next music by the choir, and then followed the address of Major John Hughes.

The address was upon the life and services of Gen. L. O. B. Branch, and was replete with a fine biography of this distinguished son of our State. Gen. Branch was in his first engagement of the late war, at this place in March, 1862, and from then until the memorable 17th of September of that year, the continued activity of his career was almost miraculous, ending in the fatal shot at Sharpsburg which released his gallant spirit from the care and strife of this troublous world.

The large crowd gave close attention to the address, as many of them were carried back to the days that tried men's souls. In the main, it was the same as that delivered by the Major in Raleigh three years ago. But it was listened to with such interest that we think it would bear republication.

At the conclusion of the address, and after the choir had sang "Guard Around the Tomb," the procession formed in the following order:

- New Bernes S. F. E. Co's Band.
- Confederate soldiers and sailors.
- Davis Cadets.
- Orator and chaplain.
- Ex-orators and chaplains.
- Ladies Memorial Association.
- Children bearing flowers.
- Citizens.

The procession moved to Cedar Grove cemetery to the step of the "Requiem March," rendered by the New Bernes S. F. E. Co's Band. Arriving at the mausoleum, the column halted and the Davis Cadets passed through and took position around the circle. Then the Memorial Association and choir passed and took position within the circle. The children and citizens came next and placed flowers at the foot of the monument, completely covering the monument, and filed out right and left, taking position in rear of the Cadets. The choir then sang "Peace to the Memory of the Brave," which was followed with the Benediction by the Chaplain, Rev. Mr. Crawford. The Cadets then fired a salute by companies, and the Memorial exercises of 1887 were ended.

The monument had been most handsomely decorated by the ladies of the Memorial Association to whom we are indebted for the annual reunions held in our city, and we sincerely hope their organization may be perpetuated, and that our citizens will ever respond when called upon to assist them.

We have never seen a larger audience on the Academy Green, save perhaps in 1884, when the monument was unveiled, and we have never known better attention given to a speaker. The presence of Col. Davis' Cadets added much to the interest of the occasion, and the music by the choir and the bands was exceptionally good and appropriate.

NEW ORLEANS, May 8.—This morning a number of colored people belonging to the congregation of Mount Zion Baptist Church, assembled on the wharf at the head of Lizardi street to be baptized by immersion, according to the rites of their church. A large number of persons followed the baptismal party to the wharf for the purpose of witnessing the ceremony. They leaned on the wharf railing, which gave way under the great strain caused by the pressure of the crowd, and about fifty persons were precipitated into the river. The following persons are known to be drowned: Harriet Cook, white, aged 7 years; Amelia Williams, colored, aged 3 years; Rose Edmonds, colored, aged 7; Rosa Lawrence, colored, aged 6; E. Cornelius, 7 year old child; Felice Richards, baby; Rene Regals, 5 year old child, a colored woman; a white woman; a white girl who had a baby in her arms, she finally let the child go and sank. The baby was saved. Rosalie Williams, a colored girl, also had a baby in her arms. She was drowned, but the child was saved.
