Late Trains

There is considerable grumbling about the delay of the east bound train. It is annoying, it is true, but we learn that the delay is caused by truck trains on the road. Our farmers are anxious to get off their potatoes and if a little delay in the mail train for a few days will aid them we ought to submit to it willingly.

Can't We Have One !

We see that Wilmington has a "Cata"s Get-Away Club," and that they take steamer Passport for a day's recreation. There is necessarily a large number of citizens who in fact, if not in name, belong to this distinguished order in our city. It does not always represent those who are not able to get away, in a financial sense, but such as cannot get away in the sense of official duty or engagements which require continued presence in the city during the heated term. Such, for instance, as the editor of a daily paper, the collector of the government revenues, physicians, ministers and many merchants whose duties allow no neglect or any continued absence from the post of duty, and not for want of the financial considerations.

Now, since we are not an exception to the general laws of trade and other things, can't some of our steamboat lines get up a place to which they can take us, daily, for refreshment and recreation from the wear and tear of daily toil. Let our enterprising carrying companies locate the place for an "Out-for-the-day" resort, and the "Can't-get-aways," will, we think, come promptly to the front and organize a club of no mean proportions.

The Magistrate's Case.

Many of the Magistrates were in the city Monday and we understand some of them were much exercised about the indictments recently found against

The following gentlemen justices of this county, Alexander Miller, J. A. Eraul, C. E. Foy, Wm. Hay, J. B. Russell, Robert G. Mallett, A. P. Davis, rain. D. W. Smith, F. S. Erani, J. J. Tolson, The W. B. Lane and Edward Whitford, were Band indicted at the present term of the court. The facts seem to be about as follows: The law requires all Magie trates to make a return to the Clerk of the Superior Court of the cases finally disposed of by them.

Each of the defendants in these in-dictments allege (and we believe it is undisputed) that they have not tried prayer, compositions will be read, and finally determined a single case, and hence had nothing to report; but out of the list of there cases the solloi-tor selected the case against Mr. C. E.

Closing Exercises of the New Berne Graded School.

The principal, teachers and pupils of the New Berne Graded 'School 'assembled at the Theatre last evening, where, in the presence of a wast audience, the closing exercises of the session of 1886-'87 were begun.

The exercises opened by the first will do." All he wanted was a chance and he would leave Zeb. Vance in nooks and ousspeak General Ransom.

Bradley Hanff told about "Our Holiday" and did it nicely.

W. Russ told them how to "drive the nail aright." He hit it square on the head to the delight of the audience.

The recitations of this grade were closed with "Good Night" by the little girls. Sweet, innocent little creatures they were, and did their part well.

The recitation by the second grade opened with "Spring," by the little girls. They recited in concert and did it splendidly. This was followed by "Days of the Week ." Seven little girls represented the seven days of the week, each telling her appropriate work, winding up with the Sabbath, repeating the commandments and singing a song. It was a beautiful and impressive performance.

Sam Eaton recited the "Wreck of the Heeperus" as though he was aboard the til-fated vessel.

Alberta Snelling followed with a recitation well spoken.

The Principal an nounced "Music by the band

Till I lift my hand. He soon raised his hand and "Little Boys Pell Mell" was rendered by about a dozen boys rushing upon the stage. "pell mell" sure enough and reciting a piece in perfect consert. This closed the exercises of the second grade.

"What are little girls good for," was the recitation by the girls of the third grade.

The fifth and ninth grades were represented by Miss May Hendren and Miss Lottie Hubbs. Miss Hendren recited "The face against the pane" which she did neatly. Miss Lottie the unity of the empire and the wish of Hubbs gave "The raising of Jairus" the Irish. In his afternoon speech Mr. daughter" in a sweet and impressive manner.

The battle then began between the competitors for the declaimer's medal. This was opened by T. F. Simmons with "Curfew must not ring tonight." His "Now Children," said the Pretty School delivery was good, his gesture graceshort sojourns down the river on the ful and he spoke with ease and confidence.

Robert Crawford followed with "The Launching of the Ship." He spoke de-liberately and with perfect composure. must I wait before I have enough to buy There is eloquence in his voice; he is a 'chip of the old block."

"The Mariner's Dream" was thrill ingly rendered by Jack H. Neal. It cannot have the answer so soon.

John T. Hollister was the next speak successful competitor should have no easy tack. His subject was "Bernardo Del Carpio" and he held the audience from beginning to end.

"The Polish Boy" was well recited by Shepard Bryan. He threw himself into his subject, soul and body, so to speak, and once or twice "stirred the slumbering embers of dramatic fire."

John S. Thomas followed with "Sparacus to the Gladiators." He is one of a family of young orators, and he well sustained their reputation. But few and forfeited by others. It has no orators ever spoke with more case and graceful deliberation.

The last speaker was Willie H. Bar ker. His subject was "The murderer cannot keep his secret." Few lawyers of this day present their cases to a jury in the healthy sections of our own with more force and earnestness than country only. did he repeat the words of the great Daniel Webster.

We are of the opinion that the com mttee to decide who is the successful competitor will have no easy task.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. L. W. Crawford and the large audience dispersed, satisfied with the Gardney, A. J. Chestnut, Wm. Foy, evening a entertainment but not pleased M. W. Carman, V. A. Thomas, R. A. at going home through a drenching

MR. HLADSTONE'S DECEPTION IN WALLS London, June 5 — A monster procession in honor of Mr. Gladstone was held at Swansea, Wales, yesterday, Mr. Gladstone, with prominent liberals of Wales, occupied a special stand, from Williams' Freight Line which he reviewed the parade. hundred thousand Weishmen marched past the stand. Cannons were bred and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed. After the men had all passed they massed to hear Mr. Gladstone, who spoke for an hour on the home-rule will make regular tree- to hallow to uestion. A banquet was given to Mr. Hadstone last evening by the Welsh members of the House of Commons and officials of the liberal party. In the course of a speech at the banquet Mr Hadstone said he would accept any ffective measure for home rule, subject to the supremacy of Parliament Gladstone dwelt largely upon the his torical questions in view, showing that though the Welsh were a distinct nationality it was in no way inconsistent there should be a perfect, harmoniouunion with England

eason of the character of its business and its financial condition; with over forty years experience.

It offers no speculative inducements. It has no special class of policy-holders who are to get the dividends earned stockholders to absorb profits directly or indirectly. Every policy-holder is, therefore, sure of getting his insurance at its actual cost to the company year by year; the surplus earned being returned to him at the end of each year.

It selects its risks with great care and It seeks new business only at such cost as will enable it to continue to give insurance at as low a cost, at least as heretofore, so far as the fall in the rate of interest will permit.

Each policy now issued provides that, in case of lapse after two or three years' premiums are paid, it is fully paid up for an amount stated upon the policy, without any action on the part of the insured; also gives large cash values after ten years, which are printed in figures in the policy; hence each member will get all he pays for, and nothing of what any other member pays for. No one is made to lose because he cannot continue paying; no one else gains at his expense. For full particulars inquire of William H. Oliver, agent, Newbern, N. C.
