The Advantage of Insuring in the Connecticut Mutual Life.

The Company is peculiarly strong by reason of the character of its business and its financial condition, with over forty years experience.

It offers no speculative inducements It has no special class of policy-holder who are to get the dividends earned and forfeited by others. It has no stockholders to absorb profits directly at its actual cost to the company year by year; the surplus earned being fe turned to him at the end of each year. It selects its risks with great care and in the healthy sections of our own country only.

It seeks new business only at such cost as will enable it to continue to give insurance at as low a cost, at least as retofore, so far as the fall in the rate

Each policy now issued provides that in case of lapse after two or three years' premiums are baid, is is full paid up for all about stated byen to policy, without any action on the part of the insured; also gives large cash of the insured; also gives large cash values after the years, which are printered in figures in the policy; hence each member will set all he pays for, and nothing of what are other member pays for. No one is made to lose because he cannot continue, paying; no one else gains at his expense. For full particular, the expense.
