These last cold winds almost ruined the sweet potatoes set out the THIRTIETH day of JUNE 18 about that time. It is said by many, and we believe it, that a sweet potatoe plant set out on a north or east wind will not turn out anything. We set out a few and Dr. Sanders set on Saturday, that cold windy day 8,000, and says he don't expect to make a bushel of, potatoes from them. We have marked our few set out on that day, and will see if they turn out as well as those along side of Ending of schools at different places bring home the pupils. Mr. George T. Farnell arrived in Swansboro last week from Nashville, Tenn., where he has been to school for two years. Dr. G. N.
