New York Collon Futures.

NEW YORK, July 6.-Greene & Co's report on cotton futures says: There has been some pretty liberal trading in the old crop again, but with a further decline in values. The heaviness tame accounts from Liverpool and the non-combative policy of leading built operators, who seem un willing to take up the offering coming, but under effort to liquidate long cotton upon which the general line of holders sees no profit. There has, however, in a quiet way, been considerable buying. New crop advices continues very promising, but there is a noticeable absence of positive depression on distant positions, and in deed a pretty good demand up to the end of the year, with January getting a fair share.
