A good rain paid our vicinity a visit yesterday which was much appreciated.

Steamer Margie leaves this morning at 7 o'clock on the excursion to Portsmouth and Ocracoke.

One case before the Mayor yesterday for disorderly conduct. Judgment was suspended on payment of cost.

The mail train was about two hours late last night. A run off of the track at Goldsboro was the cause.

Rev. J. T. Harris, Presiding Elder of the New Berne District Conference, will preach at the M. E. Church this morning at 11 o'clock.

A steeple has been erected to the church of Rev. John Johnson, col., on the corner of End and New South Front streets, which adds much to its appearance.

Councilman Dick Williams is varying the arduous duties of his office with spearing flounders by the light of a pine torch in the vicinity of Slocumbs creek. He is meeting with great success.

Remember that a special train will leave here in the morning at 9 o'clock for Morehead, affording ample time for you to eat breakfast and get off without any great rush for a pleasant trip to the seashore.

Do not let melon rinds or any other kind of refuse accumulate about your premises this hot weather. Decomposition sets in very quick producing an odor that is anything else than conducive to hea lth.

Huckleberries retail on the streets at 5ts. per quart. The pickers report a good crop of the low-ground, but the highland, a much superior berry, scarce, on account of fires going through the woods having injured the bushes.

The number of visitors at Morehead and Beaufort is unusually large this season. There are about five hundred at the Atlantic Hotel, the New Berne House is nearly full, and nearly all the private boarding-houses are patronized. At Beaufort the Ocean House and boarding-houses are also pretty well filled.

Mrs. Susan E. Price, who is so well known by many families here for the exceptionally fine poultry and eggs she brings to town, brought, in addition to her usual supply yesterday, four small eggs laid by a pullet only three and one-half months old. She said she brought them to present to the Editor's children as a curiosity, but she overlooked the fact that this number would not more than half go around. The question of division was not a hard one to solve as one of the group—a five year old—was present. He took the four and marched home with: "I'm going to have me a boil."

Bitten by a White-Oak Snake.

Mr. James Scott, superintendent of the farm near Riverdale formerry owned by Capt. S. H. Gray, was bitten on the finger by a large white-oak snake Thursday. He was out feeding up his stock and when putting some feed in a trough he felt something sting one of his fingers. Thinking it a briar scratch he paid little attention to it at first. In a short while it began to swell and become quite painful. He went back to the stable, and looking in the trough, saw an immense whiteoak snake, which he at once killed. A frog poltice was applied to the wound. He then came to New Berne and went to Dr. Hughes, for treatment. He is thought to be out of danger.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Steamer Movements.

The steamer Vesper of the E. C. D. line sailed yesterday afternoon with a cargo of merchandise, naval stores and truck. The Annie of this line will arrive this morning.

Steamer Blanche arrived from Kinston yesterday with general freight.

Cadetship Appointment.

The two young gentlemen recommended by the committee to Mr. Simmons' appointment to West Point are Geo. G. Ransom of New Berne and J. B. Spilman of Halifax county. It was hard to decide the order in which these two young men should be chosen, but both could not be first and Mr. Simmons has concluded to appoint Mr. Ransom with Mr. Spilman as alternate.

Both of the appointees will have to report to the Academy on the 26th day of August. Should Mr. Ransom fail either in the mental or physical examination, his alternate will be examined at once.

There were eight applicants, all of whom stood good examinations, but Messrs. Ransom and Spilman showed exceptional proficiency in the subject upon which they were examined.

We congratulate our young townsman upon his success. He is a young man of good talents and much promise, and will reflect credit on the State and district. He is a son of Gen. Robert Ransom, a brave soldier and true man.

As we know our citizens will be glad to hear from our popular former townsman, Mr. D. A. Bell, we produce the following from the Chattanooga Evening Herald:

"A Herald reporter walking along East Ninth street was attracted by the manner in which room No. 14 was being fitted up. Entering, he introduced himself to Mr. Bell, the jeweler, who has opened up in this room.

"Mr. Bell is from New Berne, North Carolina, where he occupied a position as one of the leading business men of the city, as is shown by the flattering endorsements given him unsolicited by the New Berne board of trade.

"The Herald is pleased to welcome him to Chattanooga; with ample capital and an unquestioned reputation for honest and reliable business dealings he will prove a valuable addition to the business men of Chattanooga. His stock is one of the finest ever brought to the South, embracing diamonds, watches, rings, charms, plated ware and in fact everything in the jewelry line. He has an elegant store and a stock that cannot be excelled as to quality and beauty.

"The silver toilet set presented by the K. of L. and the silver bugle presented to Chief Whiteside came from this new establishment.

"The citizens of Chattanooga should welcome him to their midst; they will find him personally agreeable and obliging and as a business man prompt and reliable."

Jobbers, Retailers and Chewers are all delighted with OLD RIP TOBACCO.

At Morehead City.

ATLANTIC HOTEL, July 21, 1887.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—One may now say that the success of Morehead City as a watering-place is assured. Its growing popularity is fully shown by the numbers who come every year from a distance, even from across the Mississippi, to enjoy the varied pleasures it offers. This hotel has always been well kept, but never better than at present. Messrs. Cooke and Foster Brothers are most agreeable hosts, and have the sympathy of their guests in making the entertainment received at their house acceptable to every one. They know how to keep a hotel well, and it is manifest to every one that there is no advantage in keeping one poorly. In view of the proposed sale of the property August 1st, it is hoped that the management will continue the same, and the young gentlemen who have added so much to the popularity of the place may reap the reward of their labors.

A writer from the seashore is seriously derelict who does not recite the names of the persons present, and note the characteristics of the more distinguished, but the company there is so large that a general personal mention must be deferred for another occasion. Your readers may be interested in "what is going on," and how the company is employed. No watering place in the country possesses greater variety of amusements than Morehead City.

As every one catches on to a few nautical phrases here let me give you a day's log kept at the hotel.

You are called on deck for breakfast at eight bells to which of you are energetic you respond before two bells are struck. During the watch from eight till twelve, you take breakfast, greet your friends, and ascertain who is here. The last is best done by taking a chair in the nor' west corner of the dancing pavillion, where you can always find a breeze, and see the company pass in review. From this point you listen to the music of an excellent orchestra, observe the children dance, and assist by looking on at a game of lawn-tennis. The players are Miss Richardson, daughter of the great cotton planter, and Miss May Peters, of Atlanta, and Mr. Villepigue, of Georgia, and Mr. Roberts of New Berne. The bright costumes of both ladies and gentlemen and the graceful movements and activity demanded by the game make a very interesting spectacle. There are others who play but your attention is required for a game of whist in which you may learn something from the accomplished ladies who take part in the game.

At two bells in the next watch you hear it announced "we are all going in the sound. You then prepare for a plunge on the incoming tide which you find delightful. If you are fortunate you may be called upon to teach some pretty woman in a bright and becoming head-gear the art of swimming and floating. Dinner is served at four bells during the hour you will be surprised.

Two bells in the next watch five o'clock. All hands are prepared to man the boats for the surf. Soon you start upon the beach. Then the sea thrills you in a friendly struggle with the breaking waves. You embrace it and gayly fully to meet it. It is a contest in which though overcome you gain health and strength from your adversary and from which you withdraw grateful to and praising your conqueror.

Returning to port you prepare for the luxuries of the supper table and the civilities of the bar-room (which is at the same time the general with-drawing-room), making acquaintances among the most agreeable company ever assembled here.

Later in the evening you hear rumors of a hunt. You are asked to join, when you find that it is not the sky curlew you are to wade after in water just above your boot-tops, or the swiftly flying conch you are to bury yourself in the sand and wait for, but the sly and wicked fox—the fox, the gourmet, that robs all the roosts of this peninsula, eating only the breasts of the pullets and leaving the wings and legs to be served to the mountain visitor who doesn't like fish. The hunt is a new feature in the entertainment by the seashore, should be credited to the sportsmen of Wayne.

The stable, which contains ten well-gaited horses, and the kennel in which there are thirteen couples of well bred hounds, are the property of Mr. George Burnett, a popular owner of fine horses of Goldsboro, N. C. If you have ever sat in the pigskin and listened to the sound of horn when first

"The dapple gray couriers of the morn
Beat up the light with their bright silver hoofs
And chase it through the sky,

you thank the master of the hounds and go to the stables to select your saddle and secure your mount.

At eight bells of the first morning watch all are in the saddle and stealing away for the wood. In the absence of Mr. Bennett the duties of master of the hunt devolve upon Mr. Charles V. Romaine of Va., who from the first sound of to giving a hand down to the ladies at the door step, shows himself a keen and capable sportsman.

"Waken lords and ladies gay,"

Once clear of the town the hounds go to work with apparant confidence and without delay give unmistakable cry that the game is up. It is hard to refrain from giving you an account, by one of the ladies who followed the hounds, of the run. It lacked a little more than two hours, the fox being killed at the root of a fallen tree. The hounds ran well together and made excellent music varying greatly in their mouths the high voice predominating to an unusual degree.

The hunt is a daily occurrence. Every morning the bunters who have been rewarded with a good run and a brush. The morning your correspondent observed returning from the chase Miss Amyett, of New Berne, and Miss Mallory, of Memphis, the former having won the brush. The ladies each upon a gray were accompanied by Capt. George W. Charlotte and Capt. Manly, of New Berne, and followed the lead of Col. R. O. Gregory, of Granville, a well known sportsman, mounted upon a handsome thoroughbred. Now Messrs. Dixon, Ernul, Pate, and Carman, of Craven, come down, bring your hounds and test their quality in good company. The return from the hunt which is usually about eight o'clock brings the day's log to a period.

Among the New Bernians at this hour are Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bryan, Mrs. S. S. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Meadows and Miss Meadows, Capt. and Mrs. J. A. Richardson and the Misses Amyett.

The President, Mr. Washington Bryan of the A. & N. C. R. weare pleased to see taking much needed recreation at the sea shore. The Sea Breeze house is now occupied as a private cottage by Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Slover where they entertain a charming company of friends from New Berne.

Great sympathy is expressed for the people at home who are suffering from the heat. Here one is never so warm as to inquire what the thermometer records. Wishing you cooling rains.

Yours truly, N.

If you want a GOOD TOUGH chew of tobacco, try OLD RIP.

The Democratic State convention of Ohio met at Cleveland Thursday to nominate candidates for Governor, Lt.-Governor, Attorney-General, Treasurer of State, Auditor of State, two judges of the Supreme Court and member of the board of public works. The candidates for Governor's office are Congressman James E. Campbell, Thomas E. Powell and Congressman Martin A. Foran.

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, Colds, and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land. Price, 75 cts., large bottles.

STATE NEWS

Gleaned from Our Exchanges.

Raleigh Spirit of the Age: The King's Mountain Military School, Capt. W. J. Bell, principal, is to be moved to Shelby. The fall term opening Sept. 1, will be opened at Shelby.

Wilmington Review: There is some kind of a bug that is playing havoc with the flowering plants and vines in the portion of the city. It is a strange looking bug, such as [illegible] seen in this city.

Goldsboro Argus: The machinery and material for the broom factory have arrived and work will begin in a very few days. The third story of the Argus building has been secured for the work and thus does the good work of building up our city go steadily onward.

Elizabeth City Economist: The oyster crop at Nags Head is reported all spoiled. The prospects are that new beds will better crops than for a number of years past.——Good peaches the most delicious of all fruits are very scarce in our market this season.——It was excessively hot on the three last days of last week. The oldest inhabitant said he had never seen the like.

Chatham Record: We are again called on to chronicle the death of another of Chatham's oldest and most respected citizens. Mr. Aaron Lindley died at his residence, in Hickory Mountain township, on last Saturday, in the eighty second year of his age. He was one of the pioneer nurserymen of North Carolina, having been extensively engaged in the business for more than half a century. He was an uncle of Mr. J. Van Lindley, the well known nurseryman of Guilford county. He was one of the most energetic and industrious old men that we have ever known.

Washington Progress: The penitentiary force is now making twenty eight stone pillars to be used in marking the boundary line between Currituck, Camden and Gates counties, of North Carolina, and the State of Virginia, recently surveyed and settled by W. D. Pruden commissioner for North Carolina, and Major Conway R. Howard, commissioner for Virginia. These pillars will be marked with the date of the original survey—1720—the present survey, 1887, the names of the present commissioners, Messrs. Pruden and Howard, the names of the present Governors, Scales and Lee, the latitude, etc.

News and Observer: North Carolina is getting ahead of everything in another particular—that of mineral waters. The best lithia water in the country is now bottled and shipped in large quantities from Lincoln county, and is known as Lincoln lithia water. It is the best so far known according to the opinions of eminent chemists and physicians. Mr. John S. Pescud, of this city, is handling it, and from the immense quantities he is selling it seems that it will take the place of all bottled waters in this market. It is handsomely put up, looks tempting in the bottles and when drunk has the most desirable effect. The "Old North State" is again ahead.

Kinston Free Press: There is a good chance of the cotton factory being established in Kinston. A stock company, of $70,000 has been organized and near $50,000 of the stock is already taken. Our moneyed men should certainly not let this chance slip them to start the establishing of manufacturies in our midst and to start the town to growing again. Subscribe liberally to the stock—it is almost certain to be a paying investment. Taking no other consideration into view, it is a moneyed man's duty to his fellow beings to furnish work to people by investing in enterprises of this nature. To look at it in a selfish point of view, it is as safe an investment as can be made and will, besides greatly enhance the value of what other property you may own in Kinston and vicinity. Don't let this chance fall through.

Charlotte Chronicle: The people of Providence township have arranged for a big barbecue at Carolina Academy, on the 29th inst. A band of music has been engaged, and a general invitation is extended to the people of Mecklenburg, Union and York counties to attend. There will be speech making, and amusements in abundance. It is to be an inter-county barbecue and picnic, in celebration of the good crop prospects.——Mr. E. W. Hovey, of the Dunn gold mine yesterday exhibited in this city a beautiful specimen of ore, that was taken from the 70 foot level in the Dunn shaft. The ore was studded with black diamonds, which were set off handsomely by little beads of gold. Mining experts pronounced it one of the prettiest sights they ever saw. Mr. Hovey says that he has a large vein of the same kind of ore in sight. Specimens of it will be sent to the Smithson an Institute.

Editors, bank officers and the board of health of Memphis unite in declaring that yellow fever exists there as has been reported in New York.

State Treasurer William Hortsey, of Delaware, and family, six persons in all, were made alarmingly ill Tuesday by drinking buttermilk which is supposed to have been impure but have recovered.

Beach Hawley, aged four years, son of Edgar Hawley, of Brookfield, Conn., a constant reader of light literature, left his home Wednesday morning with the intention of going to Africa. He took with him an old fashioned horse pistol, a quantity of powder and ball, and his bank book. He went to Newtown, drew $20 from the bank, and while waiting for the train went out in a field to practice with his pistol. While he was looking at the weapon it was accidentally discharged and he was probably fatally wounded.
