1837. THE SUN. 1887

A. S. ABELL & Co., Publishers,
 BALTIMORE.

The Paper For The People.

On the 17th of May, 1887, the Baltimore Sun will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary. From the earliest period of its career the Sun has been a "household word" in the homes of its subscribers, and a synonym for accuracy of statement, fair dealing, promptness, energy and enterprise in the collection of news. It is noted throughout the country for its independence, conservatism and thoughtfulness of its editorial utterances. There is probably no newspaper in the United States whose opinion carries more weight or whose influence is more widely extended than the Sun's, a fact upon which it may justly pride itself as the legitimate result of painstaking care in the preparation of all matter admitted to its columns. The Sun's facilities for collecting news from all quarters of the globe are being constantly extended and improved, and new features are added without regard to expense as the occasion demands.

The Baltimore Weekly Sun has long occupied an enviable position as a model family newspaper, containing not only the news of the world and a variety of literary matter and miscellaneous reading for the family circle, but special features of recognized value, including an agricultural department, which supplies every week a mass of well digested information for the people.

Full commercial, financial, cotton, cattle, market and stock reports up to the hour of going to press.

Terms of subscription by mail, invariably cash in advance. Postage on all subscriptions in the United States and Canada prepaid.

One year	$6.00	One month	50c.
Six months	3.00	Three weeks	38c.
Four months	2.00	Two weeks	25c.
Three months	1.50	One week	13c.
Two months	1.00

To Europe and other postal union countries, 76 cents per month.

As an advertising medium its value is, of course, in proportion to its immense circulation.

Diphtheria.
 "I am living in a neighborhood surrounded with Diphtheria and was attacked with Ulcerated Sore Throat. I at once commenced to use Dary's Prophylactic Fluid, diluted about one half, as a gargle. When great blot of hard membrane and mucous came from my throat, and the attack passed off. I am satisfied of its efficacy as a preventive and cure for Diphtheria."—W. P. Woodard, Frankfort, Pa.

Belief in Charms.
 Superstition is not dead, nor is it confined to the savage tribes. Several of our noted ball-players carry charms about them for good luck in hits and catches, and some professional gamblers attach all their hopes of winning to the possession of a certain ring or gem. Beliefs of this kind are, in truth, well-nigh universal. There is an Indian in the Western country who carries about with him at all times a round, smooth stone taken from the inside of a buffalo. It weighs four pounds; and is, of course, extremely inconvenient; but nothing will induce him to leave it at home. It is his "big medicine," and if he should lose it or lay it aside, he believes that evil spirits would have power to spoil his aim and frustrate all his enterprises. White men do not usually confess to a belief in such charms. They only go so far as to say, "There may be something in them, and it is just as well to be on the safe side." Man is an odd compound of sense and folly.

DYSPEPSIA.
 'Tis that misery experienced when we find a daily increase of distress, when a diabolical arrangement called a stomach. The stomach is the reservoir from which every fibre and tissue must be nourished, and any trouble with it is soon felt throughout the whole system. Amongst the dyspeptics no two will have the same predominant symptoms. In some of cases the mental power and a bilious temperament are subject to Sick Headache; those fleshy and plebeian have Constipation, while the thin and nervous are abandoned to gloomy forebodings. Some dyspeptics are wonderfully forgetful; others have great irritability of temper.
 Whatever form dyspepsia may take, one thing is certain—

The underlying cause is in the LIVER, and one thing more is equally certain no one will remain in a dyspeptic who will

It will cure Acidity or the Stomach, Expel foul gases, Alleviate Irritation, Assist Digestion, and at the same time START THE LIVER TO WORKING, WHEN ALL OTHER THINGS SOON DISAPPEAR.

"My wife was a confirmed dyspeptic. Some three years ago by the advice of Dr. Steiner, of Augusta, she was induced to try Simmons' Liver Regulator. I feel grateful for the relief it has given her, and may all who read this and are affected in any way, whether chronic or otherwise, use Simmons' Liver Regulator and I feel confident health will be restored to all who will be advised."—W.
