Joseph E. Robinson, Esq., says some nice things in the Argus about his visit to New Berne. In the name of the city the JOURNAL returns thanks and invites you to come again.

Prinus Johnson, col., was lodged in jail yesterday in default of bond for his appearance at the next term of the Superior Court. He is charged with the larceny of a gun from Mr. Congdon and was committed by Justice Robt. Hancock, jr.

Justices W. G. Brinson and E. G. Hill have been engaged several days in taking deposition in the case of H. B. Duffy and M. H. Sullivan vs. the Globe Mutual and Reserve Life Insurance Co. The plaintiffs hold policies of the insurance company on the life of Moses Mason col., who died sometime since, the payment of which is resisted by the company. Clark & Clark appear for the plaintiffs and W. E. Clarke for the company. A lively scene occurred during the examination of witnesses a few days ago, one which the justices had to threatened to use stern measures to quell.

The Fair Continued.
By a notice given in another column it will be seen that the State Fair has been continued another day and consequently the Fair schedule and rates over the A. & N. C. R. will continue in force until Saturday night.

Personal.
Hon. F. M. Simmons, Messrs. Geo. Allen, T. A. Green, J. J. Wolfenden and others of the committee on railroad extension left yesterday morning for Raleigh. Other gentlemen of the committee went up on Wednesday.

George W. Smith, Esq., of Onslow county in the city.

Immense Movements.

The steamer Eagle of the E. C. D. line sailed yesterday morning with full cargo of cotton and fish oil. The Vesper of the line sailed at 10 o'clock yesterday morning from Wilmington, Del., for New Berne. The Eagle will arrive Saturday morning and the Vesper Sunday.

The Howard arrived from up Neuse last night with cotton and will leave today for Trenton.

The Carolina arrived from Bell's Ferry yesterday with a full cargo of cotton and several passengers.

The Kinston arrived from Kinston last night with a cargo of cotton. The name of the same leaves this morning for Trenton at 8 o'clock.

The Murderer, Charles F. Jones.

At the last term of the Superior Court of this county Chas. F. Jones was indicted and convicted for the murder of his wife, Tampa S. Jones, near Maple Cypress on the 1st of May last. He was ably defended by counsel assigned by the court, and the last speaker, W. W. Clark, Esq., presented a strong and ingenious argument to show a case of murder in the second degree or manslaughter. His Honor, Judge Shipp, charged the jury that from the evidence it was "murder or nothing." Counsel excepted to this portion of the charge and asked for a new trial, which being refused an appeal was taken to the Supreme Court, which court says there was no error.

A JOURNAL reporter visited the jail yesterday and found Jones in a cell with one Hawkins. A colored minister in an adjoining cell, there for wife beating, was praying so loud and strong that the deputy sheriff was compelled to request him to let up for a season in order that others could talk. Jones appears to have been well cared for during his confinement as he is more fleshy than when on trial. The jailer says he eats hearty and consumes nearly as much food as any other two prisoners in the jail. He came to the door of the cell and responded to the salutation of the reporter.

When asked if he had heard of the decision of the Supreme Court in his case he replied that he had; that Mr. Clark had been in and told him about it. "Have you any hope of pardon?" asked the reporter.

"Yes, Mr. Clark told me I must get up a bill"—"a petition you mean," said the reporter—"yes, petition, and he would do all he could for him."

"You are aware that your time is short unless the Governor does something for you?"

"Yes, but I don't know anything about the law, never been in such a scrape like this before and hope my friends will get me out."

"Upon what grounds do you ask your friends to sign a petition to get you out?"

He did not seem to comprehend this question, but after explanation by his prison mate, and a change in the wording of the question by the reporter he answered:

"Cause I ain't guilty of what they said I was, and I don't think they ought to punish me like they say they are going to."

"Do you wish to make any statement as to how your wife was killed?"

"No sir, only I ain't guilty of what they accuse me of."

"Did you ever live with Mr. Mewborne in Lenoir county?"

"Mr. Levi Mewborne and Mr. Jimmie Mewborne?" asked the prisoner.

"Yes."

"Yes sir, I lived up there at Mr. Thad Akew's with my mother."

"Is your mother living yet?"

"Yes sir, but she can't come down here. I hain't seen her since I've been in jail."

Throughout the conversation remarks were interjected by his prison mate, Hawkins, who explained that Jones was now bright, that he did not understand it and had to trust to his friends to get up a petition for him.

"Poor fellow," said the jailer's wife as the reporter left the room. "I hope the Governor will pardon him. He has pardoned men who had more sense than he's got and had done just as bad."

"Has he had anything to say about his case today?" asked the reporter.

"When I carried him his dinner," said she, "I asked him how he was, he said he was hurt, and turned off and went to crying."

In his conversation with the reporter he hardly seemed to realize his condition. He is evidently of the opinion that something can be done by his friends to save him. When the reporter was about to leave he called to him to know if he would get up a petition for him. He was informed that his counsel would attend to that.

Rev. Joseph E. Foy, D. D., L. L. D. This eminent divine, now of Omaha, Neb., but born and reared in North Carolina, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Disciple Church in this city. The church is to be congratulated upon obtaining the services of one who has such large experience in pulpit and pastoral work. Dr. Foy's acceptance of the pastorate here was based mainly upon letters from prominent preachers, urging his special qualifications for establishing the work on a sound basis. Dr. Foy is a man of 45 years, born on the sea coast near Wilmington, N. C. In 1881 the University of North Carolina conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Divinity, and in 1884 the University of Mississippi the degree of Doctor of Divinity. He will begin his work in November.—Norfolk Virginian.

Dr. Foy has many friends in Eastern Carolina who will be glad to know that he is to be near enough to pay them an occasional visit. The Disciples in North Carolina ought, if were within their power, to have kept Dr. Foy in North Carolina.—Ed. JOURNAL.

THE RAILROAD EXTENSION.

A Voice from the West.
The article below is from the Asheville Citizen. If our friends of the Citizen had been reading the JOURNAL for the past six months they would have known that their friends of the East are thoroughly in favor of the proposition they now submit.

Gov. Soles will be called upon this week by a committee for the purpose of ascertaining his views in regard to a proposed extension of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad with the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Road. The citizens of Goldsboro, New Berne, Kinston and Beaufort have held meetings and appointed strong delegations to confer with the Governor and point out the advantages of such connection.

So we learn from the Raleigh News-Observer. The State owns, nominally, three-fourths of the stock of this road. We say nominally, because the property is and has been, and will continue to be as it now stands, unprofitable to the State as a stockholder. The counties through which the road passes own the other of the stock and suffer a like complaint. Under the present method of railroad management, for the road to remain as it is, with no further connections or influence, it must continue to remain unprofitable to all concerned. The people immediately concerned in this road, as stockholders and otherwise, along its line are anxious and properly so for an extension of the road to other and independent connections, and the proposition is an additional mortgage to be placed upon the present road, which it would readily bear, and extend it from Goldsboro to Sanford or some other convenient point, where a connection will be made both with the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley and Seaboard Air Line.

The Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley ought to have connection with both Morehead, over the above road, and with Wilmington. If the city of Wilmington will make a good subscription toward the connection, the State might, and should place a mortgage on the Atlantic road to complete the connection between the C. F. and Y. V. Road and the Morehead Road at Goldsboro, and with the sum given by Wilmington complete the connection with that city. Both connections could thus be accomplished, and both North Carolina sections would secure additional connections with the great sections of their own State. The people of the State are interested in having both connections made, and we take it would readily consent to having a mortgage put upon their interest in the Atlantic and North Carolina Road to secure both connections, but as the private stock of the road would also be mortgaged, on the one hand, Wilmington on the other ought to assume a like burden to unite with the State in securing both connections. As citizens of the State we feel an interest in seeing these connections made; and after these are made we shall live in hopes of seeing the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley extended through Ashe, Mitchell and Yancey to Asheville. Such a connection can be made, and we believe in time will be made, and we wish the time of the making of all of them hastened. What say our friends in the East to the proposition?

Injunction Dissolved.

The injunction granted by Judge Phillips against the board of city council of New Berne to prevent appropriating funds for the necessary expenses of the city without a six eighths vote has been dissolved by the Supreme Court. A bare majority of the board can now grant a voucher for necessary expenses. The custom heretofore has been to require six of the eight members of the board to favor any appropriation. This decision only makes it the more essential for the people in electing their councilmen to select men of good business qualifications and who will not waste the city's money in extravagance or unnecessary expenses.

The majority of the present board, we feel sure, will endeavor to prove to their constituents that they can be trusted with the management of the city finances. They, above all others, should be cautious in their expenditures and show to the people that the six eighths requirement was unnecessary so far as they are concerned.

Roping a Rattlesnake.

Mr. Killey E. Terry, the superintendent and manager of the large mills on White Oak river in Carteret county has Mr. Nat Porter from Newport employed. A few days ago Mr. Terry sent Porter out in the neighborhood with strict injunctions to procure a cart. Instead of bringing a cart he returned with a live rattlesnake securely roped and not hurt. In passing through a field on Dr. Barker's plantation he discovered the snake near where some hands were picking cotton. He called to a boy and told him to go and bring the calf rope. The boy obeyed and Porter proceeded to rope the snake, which was a pretty large one with seven rattles. He secured a forked limb live or six feet long from an apple tree and advanced upon the snake, which coiled and began to sing. Porter placed the forked stick on the back of the rattler's neck and held it to the ground with one hand while with the other hand he placed the noose of the rope with a corn stalk over his head and he was securely roped.

In the language of our Onslow correspondent when he tells a snake story, "this is a true story." He is at Mr. Terry's now, in a barrel where he is fed well on frogs, boiled eggs, &c., and it is said he can out sing Nash Mattocks's Sunday School.

Application for an Injunction.

We are informed that certain citizens and tax payers of this city are about to, or have begun, an action against the Onslow Railroad Company to prohibit it from receiving the bonds recently voted to it by the city, on the ground that the election was illegal, that the papers are prepared, and that the case will be pushed so as to get it before the Supreme Court at the present term.—Wilmington Star.
