The Day of Execution.

Governor Scales has issued the death warrant directing that the sentence of the court in the case of Charles F. Jones, now in Craven county jail, convicted of the murder of his wife, be executed on the 16th day of December, 1887.

Officers Elected.

At the annual meeting of the Craven County Gun Club, held last evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Wm. Ellis, President; W. W. Clark, Vice-President; M. D. L. Dinmore, Captain; F. T. Patterson, F. H. Cook, W. B. Ellis, Game Wardens; R. A. Richardson, Secretary and Treasurer.

Connecticut Butter Nuts.

Mr. Jonathan Havens of this city has several trees, some of them now in bearing, of the Connecticut butter nut. He brought a couple from one of his trees to the Journal office yesterday and they were found to be equal if not superior to the English walnut. They bear within three or four years after planting.

Personal.

T. E. Gilman, Esq., of Jacksonville, is in the city.

We were pleased to receive a call from Mr. C. C. Hamilton of Brooklyn, N. Y., last evening. He has spent a day or two in New Berne and is highly pleased with the climate and people. He leaves for his home this morning, but his daughter remains for the winter. If our climate and facilities for accommodating visitors were better known a large portion of the travel to Florida would be turned in this direction.

Welcome.

We find the following item in the Goldsboro Argus. New Berne is always ready to welcome such citizens.

Mr. John R. Dixon, who for two years has been filling a position in the freight office of the Atlantic Coast Line in this city, has moved to New Berne, having accepted a position in the Auditor's office of the A. & N. C. R. R. Mr. Dixon by his uniform courtesy and affability and by his close attention to business has gained for himself both in social and business circles many friends here who regret very much to lose him and whose best wishes go with him and his young wife to their new home.

Another Store Breaking.

A thief entered Mr. J. M. Reel's store on South Front street on Wednesday night a little after 12 o'clock by ripping a bar off the front door. Fortunately Mr. Reel was sleeping in the back room of the store and the noise awakened him. The thief heard him get up, and Mr. Reel got in the store-room just in time to see him slip through the hole at which he crawled in. No goods were missed.

As Mr. Reel's sleeping apartment is in the same building and adjoining the store-room, the offender is guilty of the high crime of burglary, and if caught would likely be put upon trial for his life.

The Margie in a Gale—Serious Accident.

The steamer Margie on her trip from Bayboro last Monday was struck by a fierce gale at the mouth of Bay river and was driven to Swan Island where she found harbor until Wednesday morning when she proceeded to this city arriving on Wednesday night.

During the gale the steward, Stephen Hill, colored, had his left hand caught under the anchor chain when the anchor was cast which mashed several fingers so badly they had to be amputated.

The Margie is all right and will leave on her regular schedule tomorrow morning.

Murder Near Cobton.

News was received in the city yesterday morning that Luke Russell, the son of R. A. Russell, a prominent farmer near Cobton, was shot and killed on Wednesday night about 10 o'clock by Bill Williams, colored.

From the best information we could get it appears that Williams was accused of stealing cotton from young Russell and a warrant was issued for his arrest. Russell, with four or five other men, were in search of him and went to an out house on Jesse Jones's place. The house was a cooper shop with a loft in it, and when it was surrounded by the party young Russell climbed up on the outside and as soon as he appeared above the floor of the left Williams fired the load into his breast. The balance of the party turned their attention immediately to Russell who died in a few minutes, and the Williams escape. Russell said to them, "he has killed me and I want you to kill him."

Williams is about 19 years old; black, spare build, medium height, and has a scar on one cheek. The officers of the law and the whole neighborhood are on the lookout for him.

Coroner Bates was notified early yesterday morning and repaired to the spot to hold an inquest. The jury found a verdict in accordance with the above facts.

Items from Cove.

After a protracted spell of bad weather we have prospects of bright, open fine weather.

The farmers generally wear long faces about the 1st of November, as is generally the case, and has been for the last four years on account of short crops and long mortgages.

Mr. A. B. Carroll, a very enterprising gentleman, is building a new dwelling house on the lot adjoining the lot occupied by Capt. F. W. White. We welcome all such citizens in our midst.

Our little village seems to have caught the spirit of progression and is somewhat on a boom. We have a new warehouse at this place, commodious and comfortable, and in the waiting room the railroad company has recently fitted up a new stove which adds materially to the comfort of the passengers who come to take the train.

We have two stores here in full blast, one post office, one rail and office, and we need a telegraph office. We have here also one bar room, but we don't boast on that branch of our industries, but on the other hand we are constrained to blush at the way some of our citizens show their weakness in controlling their appetites for the ardent. It is almost a daily occurrence to see some of our neighbors wrestling with tangle leg Ben.

One Source of Congratulation.

When General Phil. Cook was presented to Miss Winnie Davis at Mason, Ga., she was alluded to as the "Daughter of the Confederacy." The gallant General was led captive at once by her beauty and grace, and, extending his hand, said "Miss Winnie, I am a widower please enroll me as a candidate for the position of son-in-law of the Confederacy." This sally met with a round of applause, and Col. Hardin remarked that "there would be one source of congratulation in marrying the daughter of the Confederacy—the groom would never be bothered with his mother-in-law."

OBITUARY.

JACOB McCOTTER.

Died at his home near Hell's Ferry, Pitt county, October 1, 1887. Mr. Jacob McCotter. He was born September 19, 1809. Mr. McCotter occupied several places of trust in both church and State. He was baptized in 1842, and took membership with the Christian Church. During the same date, he was a delegate from his congregation to the convention of the Disciples held at Hookerton and proved to be quite an active member of that body. He was a resident of Craven county until 1852, after which date he made Pitt county his adopted home. In 1849, he attended the ratification of President Harrison's election at Raleigh.

After the close of the civil war he became a leader of the Republican party of Pitt county, and was twice elected to the lower House of Representatives, and to the Senate in 1870-72.

He was married twice. A widow and four children survive him. His funeral was largely attended, and his remains were followed by a large concourse of mourning relatives and friends to their last resting place where they were interred in the family burying ground.

In the death of Mr. McCotter, the church to which he belonged loses one of its faithful and devoted members, an able citizen of Pitt one of its honored citizens. He was a man of a kind, genial and benevolent disposition, and the hospitality of his home was unbounded.

His name is a household word in Pitt county. He loved that which is right, and hated that which is wrong. In all places of political or religious positions, which he filled, he did it with marked ability. While he was not an educated man in the popular sense of the word, yet by experience and observation, he was eminently fitted to be a true representative of his people. But God's finger touched him and he slept. The places he filled in the hearts of his people and around his domestic altar will be filled no more forever.

He has laid aside his mortality with all of its cares, toils, sacrifices and disappointments for the sublimer heights of heaven.

We tender to the bereaved family and relatives our sincere condolence in this their sad bereavement. He has left to them an example of faithfulness, devotion and christian character worthy of the highest emulation.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health, but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up, disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof that Green's August Flower will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms.
