January.
New Year.
Leap Year.
Write it 1888.

Make good resolutions if you keep them but one day.

The county commissioners will be in session tomorrow.

The banks and cotton exchange will be closed tomorrow.

The Weston Brothers appear at the theatre tomorrow night.

The handsome new banking house of Green, Foy & Co. is fast approaching completion.

A good many improvements in the way of building, and repairing are going on in the city now.

A successful Fair about the 15th of March will give New Berne a good send off for the new year.

We believe New Berne beats any town in the State on saw mills. There are seven in sight of the city.

We are requested to announce that the colored graded school will not open until Tuesday, Monday bring a legal holiday.

The schooner Lucretia arrived from Hyde county yesterday with a cargo of cotton, cotton seed, corn, etc., mostly consigned to W. P. Barrus & Co.

One of the peculiarities of the new year is that there are more figures in it of the same denomination than there has been for any other year more than a century back.

Every year C. I. Hood & Co., of Lowell, Mass., send out their new Household Calendar which is always of different design and very handsome.
This year it seems to be prettier than ever. It can be obtained by sending them six cents.

The appearance of the Weston Brothers at the opera house tomorrow night in the comic drama, "The Ways of the World," will be something enjoyable and full of laughter, judging from the many commendable presentations they have received. Tickets on sale at Bell's jewelry store.

The usual bitter cold reports from the northwest are coming; in Minnesota the thermometer registered as low as 30 degrees below zero and in a number of places great snow storms have prevailed blockading railways and causing much suffering. Ought we not more appreciate our own genial climate than we do here in North Carolina?

PERSONAL.
Hon. F. M. Simmons left yesterday morning for Washington and will be at his post on the reassembling of Congress.
He is thoroughly acquainted with the needs of his district but his constituents must make known their wants by petitions.

Rev. Pullman of Raleigh arrived last night on a visit to her daughter, Mrs.
L. W. Crawford.

R. F. Mayhew, Esq. of Goldsboro arrived last night.

Baltimore yesterday morning.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.
Mrs. Winslow's MOTHER'S STRENGTH should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures colic and is the best remedy for diarrhea. Price, 25 cents a bottle.

Steamer Movements.
The Vesper of the E. C. D. line will sail tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.
The Eagle of this line will arrive today.

Our Railroad Articles.
We are publishing a series of interesting articles on "Eastern Carolina Improvement" which we commend to the careful consideration of our readers. The election will not be held for the present on subscribing to the Wilmington road, out the question is worthy of consideration, and we trust our correspondent will continue on the line he is writing until our people become thoroughly aroused on the subject of improvement.

Evangelical Alliance.
The week of prayer by the Evangelical Alliance begins today. Services will be held on Monday night at the M.
E. Church, Tuesday night at the Presbyterian Church, Friday night at the Baptist Church. Union services at M.
E. Church on Sunday night, January 8th.

The topics for each week handed in last evening but too late to appear in this issue.

To the Voters of Onslow County.
We print today a circular letter which Judge D. L. Russell has issued to the voters of Onslow county. This is one of the most important elections ever held in Onslow, and we learn that her citizens are fully aroused to its importance. Let Onslow vote for the subscription. She will not have to issue one single dollar of her bonds unless the road is built in accordance with the terms of the contract, which means a railroad from Wilmington to New Berne. The important position in Craven county just at this time has caused a temporary delay, but we expect the question to come again with renewed force.

Better Road walks.
We are glad to know that this question is being much agitated because we are so badly in need of good walks. We need them for our own comfort and we need them that strangers and visitors may not form a bad impression of our city. Bad as they are it is a pleasure to know that there has been more permanent improvement made upon them lately and that they are in a better condition now, than for a long time. Of course from the amount of earth that has recently been thrown up and the heavy rainfall immediately afterwards, necessitated some slush and made it quite disagreeable to the pedestrian, but this will be obliterated with one or two days sunshine, and can go through mud and a day or two be as bad as having to wade pools of water every rain?
Certainly not. The surface to the walks can be made smoother with a slight incline towards the gutter to run the water off, and, if properly arranged, will cause no wash. It has been until lately that you could not walk the east side of Hancock street, after only a moderate rain, without encountering pools of water, the entire width of the sidewalk and they were generally fashioned by those who were along there after dark.

Church Services To-day.
There will be services in the Methodist Church at 11 a. m. and 7:15 p. m., conducted by the pastor Rev. L. W. Crawford. Pews are free. Ushers are always in the vestibule to receive strangers. All persons are cordially invited to worship with the congregation. Sunday school at 3 p. m., J. K. Willis, Supt.

Christ Church—V. W. Shields, Rector.
The Circumcising of Christ. Sunday after Christmas. Services at 11 a. m., Holy Communion—and at 7 p. m. Sunday school at 4 p. m. All people will be welcomed to the services of this church. Ushers at the doors to seat strangers.

Presbyterian Church—Rev. L. C. Vass, D. D., Pastor. Services at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sabbath School at 3:30 p. m. Strangers and the public are invited to attend and participate in these services.

Baptist Church—There will be no services in this church today except Sabbath School at 3 p. m. to which the public are cordially invited to attend.

Y. M. C. A.—Devotional meeting at the rooms of the Association on Middle street at 5 p. m. Exercises appropriate to New Years—conducted by J. V.
Williams.

Malaria.
Darby's Prophylactic Fluid is held in wide esteem as a specific and preventive. In it we have the means of refreshing the air and water wholesome.

"Darby's Fluid is a good deodorant and destroyer of miasmatic matter." O. Booth, Chemist U. S. Mint, Phila.

"It should be used everywhere when impure gases are generated from decomposing matter."
Holmes Smith, M. D., Savannah, Ga.

The parlor is probably the most frequented of all court rooms.

EAST CAROLINA IMPROVEMENT.

A Coast Line of Railway.
NUMBER 5.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—There is no portion of Eastern Carolina more favored by nature than Craven county. The Neuse and Trent, both good navigable streams, flow through it and lead out directly to the sound and sea, constituting, in the lower Neuse, one of the finest bodies of inland waters in any of the South Atlantic States.

In Neuse river and its tributaries, the Trent and South rivers, Adams creek, Smith's creek, lubfoot creek, Baird's creek, Hancock creek, Sloucomb creek, Broad creek, Goose creek, Swift creek, Batchelor's creek &c. Craven county possesses a distribution of water transportation facilities unsurpassed by any other locality, the resources of which are illimitable, if taken advantage of, utilized and developed.

In the first place these bodies of water constitute a system of natural irrigation, with which a failure of crops is forever impossible, by drouth, no matter how protracted; the dry season. The swamps bordering these and their tributaries furnish an inexhaustible supply of timber, and firewood. They are perpetual storehouses of the best food-fishes, in the catching of which numbers of people find their living, and they are the ever ready means of cheap transportation, against which all extraneous combinations are powerless.

But, unless these natural advantages are supplemented by and made auxiliary to the modern system of rapid railroad transportation, Craven county will soon see the day, if she does not already see it, when she would have been better off if no navigable stream existed to her borders, or in any of the group of counties of which she is the centre.

To a people who sit down on their natural advantages, such natural advantages are a curse in every age of progress. Norfolk, the first seaport of the Atlantic, sat still on her magnificent draught of water and fine harbor advantages for a hundred years and worked to find herself an old, decayed village, while magnificent inland commercial cities, of a quarter and half million inhabitants, had sprung up in the midst of the wild Western prairie.

New Berne was old and moss-grown when Goldsboro was still a forest Wilson, Henderson, Durham, Winston, Raleigh, Hickory, and half a hundred other thriving towns in the interior of the State, of superior wealth and prosperity, have come into existence and grown great since New Berne turned her first hundred years. They are every one the outcome and growth of railroad intercommunication and not one of them possessed the natural advantage of water transportation. Great Rich and Charlotte, grown into great interior cities, though old, are younger than New Berne, and Wilmington was a mere village to New Berne until she entered on the work of constructing trunk line and interior railroads, subscribing thereto more money than the entire property value of the town at the time her subscription was made. Since that time two millions of dollars on the river and harbor improvement of Wilmington, showing that the Government as well as the gods, will help those who show the disposition to help themselves.

The people of Craven did respond liberally and with alacrity to the building of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad, and it was thought that the enterprise would result in the upbuilding of our section, and the maintenance of its business and industrial prosperity.

And so it doubtless would have filled the measure of our requirements for many days in which it was inaugurated, and then existing condition of things, but for the interruptions of the war, and the policies of exclusion practiced against it since the war by the North Carolina and the Wilmington and Weldon roads.

But the projectors of the A & N C.
R. R. contemplated giving it branch lines, reaching out north and south from points along the main line, and one of the ideas was this very coast system we are now urging.

It should have been the settled policy, and steady effort of the management of the A & N C. R. R. to secure these branch lines; and the people of Craven county should have seen to it long ago that they were built, since her own welfare and development, and her interest as a stockholder, pointed so clearly in this direction.

The interest of the people of Craven county lies in making as much of the entire territory of other counties tributary to New Berne as possible, and has upbuilding and extending, by business. The county will prosper or not prosper in proportion as the towns prosper or does not prosper. The proposed railroad into Onslow will bring new business to New Berne. It will bring new people into the section through which it runs, and bring a out-new activity in the industrial movements of the people.

This is what railroads do for old and new sections alike. They put new life into the people already there, and infuse new, young blood into every neighborhood. That is what Craven county wants. She wants new people and new life. Go on at the present rate, and a hundred years from now she will be just what she is today; but relatively she will be two hundred years behind the go-ahead sections of the State.

A LETTER FROM JUDGE RUSSELL
TO THE VOTERS OF ONSLOW COUNTY.
WILMINGTON, N. C., Dec. 29, 1887.

DEAR SIR:—The Cou t has decided that the Wilmington election was void on account of irregularity in the registration—but this does not apply to your election. It is the purpose of the Railroad Company to have the proposition re-submitted to the people of Wilmington who, by the election already held have proven that they are four to one in favor of subscription. The people of Grant township, in Fender county, have voted unanimously in favor of it. If the people of Onslow want the road, it is better for them to vote it through at this election. By so doing they take no risk as the bonds do not issue except as the road is built. By voting against it they postpone indefinitely the chance of steam connection with the outside world.

The Railroad Company had succeeded in obtaining the promise of capital sufficient to build the road—provided the city, town and county bonds should be voted and delivered according to the terms agreed on. This ruling of the Supreme Court, while it will delay action, is not necessarily fatal to the enterprise.

The New Berne people have withdrawn their application to Craven county for the present. That will be renewed under such auspices as to insure its success should Onslow vote favorably. So the fate of the enterprise depends on the action of Onslow, and you as a leading man of the county will be an important factor in the determination of the issue.

The advocates of the measure should press this point. The subscription by the county amounts to but little more than an exception of the railroad from county taxation because the tax on the property of the road will almost pay the interest on the bonds.

It is always to be remembered that "subscription" must have a majority of all the votes who are registered. Those who register but do not vote are counted as voting "No." So the leading friends of the enterprise must exert themselves to get those who register to come out and vote for subscription.

Truly yours,
D. L. RUSSELL.

often proud to be independent details. The small things of the world and of nations have often been the cause of great wars and the wrong measures have been taken. And the history of nations is full of such little things.
