Can the Tie be Broken?

Our attention was called yesterday to the score made by Mr. C Rizenstein at the glass ball shooting of the Craven County Gun Club on Thursday evening as reported in the JOURNAL It was observed that Mr. R.zenstein made the same score that Hon C.C. Clark usually makes which is 000000000000000, and it is suggested that the Club call a meeting and have them shoot off the tie. The question is, are there any prospects that the tie would be broken within a ressonable time, or would they be more breaking balls.

Gorham-Hobgood Affair.

The Advance is pleased to state that the unfortunate shooting affair in which Mr. W. C. Gornam was anot by Mr. Theodore Hobgood, did not terminate fatally. The two balls that Mr. Gorham received have been extrated and he is doing as well as could be expected. Mr Gorham says that he was not shot while he and Mr. Hobgood Wele clinched on the floor, as the Advance stated upon information gathered on the night of the unfortunate difficulty. He claims that he had turned to leave the room when Mr. Hobgood fired the first shot at him. Mr. Hobgood claims that the shooting was entirely in selfdefence.

We regret, and the whole community with us, the unfortunate difficulty and extend our sympathy to all the parties interested in the sad affair. We hope Mr. Gorham will soon be up and well of his wounds .- Wilson Advance.

NUMBER 8.

EDITOR JOURNAL:-At the risk of being pronounced tiresome, I will ven-ture further to call the attention of our East Carolina people to the progress and development of the middle and western portion of North Carolina, and the Southern States.

While we are standing still; or rather getting ready to mortgage another crop, and by the sweat of the brow. pay liance was well attended last night at tribute to the hay fields of New Eng. the Baptist Church. Short, earnest and land, and the slaughter pens of hicago interesting talks were made by several it will be seen that our neighbors are re-ping a substantial pro-perity.

The Manufacturers' Record, in its annual review of the industrial growth of the South for 1887, says it is was in many respects the most remarkable year in the hist ry of that section, as during he year more was accomplished for the progress and prosperity of the

From Maryland to Texas the progress during 1887. as remark ble, covering almost the entire range of human in dustry; and there is scarcely a single line of manufacturing or mining business in which the new enterprises reported during 1887 is not more than twice as large as in 1886. Of the four teen Southern States there are are only four in which the money invested in new enterprises was not double the of timber would bring in the markets capital stock of incorporated companies organized during 1887, was as follows:

$47 982 000 Alabama. $47 982 000; Arkansas, $24 466 000; Florida $2 786 000; deorgia, $15.861.000; K macky, $40.053.000 L ui-iaua 88 218 000; arylani, 815 187 000; Missieripi 84 771 000; North arolina 89 767 000; South Carolina s8 895 000 tennessee. T. xas. $16 480 000; Virginia $23 255 0-0. West Virgina, $8 266 000 Total $256 298 000, as against a total of $129 226 000 during 1856

In cotton manufacturing there has been great activity, and 77 new mills have been projected, which is the largest number of new mills ever reported in one year. Cotton mills are re ported to have largely over sold their production, and many old mills arbeing greatly enlarged to meet the demands for their goods.

The increasing diversification Southern industries is illustrated in the during 1887, the location of five large car-building works; one at Auniston to cost $1,000,000, and to turn out 20 complete cars a day, from freight to passenger, parior and sleeping cars; the entire work from wheels' to the up holstering to be done in these shops saccessful in breaking a tie than in The large works at Urbane, Ohio, is to be removed to Decatur, Alabama, where the Louisville and Nashville where the Louisville and railroads is also erecting large car works.

In the building of rolling mills, pipe the same activity is seen, while furni-ture factories, agricultural implement works, flour mills, gas and electric the soreness of my lungs, by the use of four small bottles only. My cough was establishments are being started all so severe as to produce hemorrhages, at over the South.

Such an exhibit ought surely to set our people to thinking. Here is nearly two hundred and sixty millions of dollars as one year's investment in the Southern States.
And in North Carolina the grand sum of nearly ten millions of foreign capital brought into the State. But in our section how much?

Here is ten millions of taxable values for the counties in which these enterprises are variously located. Most of paying taxes to meet the interest on the taxable values of the railroads themselves, and the new enterprises, and more money from the'r taxes than the ished. tax necessary to provide the interest for the county railroad bends.

the price of land has increased so much that the tax on the lands that have passed into the hands of outside pur chasers, is sufficient to more than pay the railroad indebtedness of the county and in one instance in Western North Carolina, enough to defray the whole expenses of the county; and as a result. the county tax is lowering all the time, while county improvements are steadily ong on; new and better roads, new bridges new court houses, jails, etc. There is our neighboring county : One low, about the richest county in the county that has not had navigation or railroad service, being now precisely in the condition the world was before the discovery of steam.

What are a people so situated to do in this age of progres? What can they expect or promise themselves?

Their county finances are in bad con dition. Their county credit down, and their taxes going up. Are they going to stand still, and sink still deeper into or the property and doesn?

public poverty and decay?

A railroad through Onelow would open up to investment and settlement one of the finest portions of the State. It would carry new men of money and enterprise into the county, and in a few years make it one of the wealthiest, sections of the State. sections of the State It would double and treble the crop productions of the county, and quadruple the value of the lands. Taxes that are now borne as a burden, would not then be felt; and a burden, would not then be felt; and a new prosperity would apread over the whole county, touching and enlivening every brech of industry.

The importance of improving the navigation of the county would then be seen and appreciated by an enterprising people county in, and the matter would be present with such vigor, and receive such attention as to speedly convert the waterways of Ondow into a splendid system of inland navigation.

perity to Onslow, it would result in no less advantage to Craven, through her city of New Berne, and the people of Onslow. Jones and Craven are alike interested in the construction of a line of railroad that shall bring them into closer business and industrial relations. They are more or less inter-dependent and one cannot well prosper without the other. They are each possessed of great undeveloped wealth, and once united by railroads, and given a new start, they would constitute one of the wealthiest communities in the State.

Traven, Jones. Onslow and New Hanover are closely allied. Their early traditions and history are of a people closely united; and in the annals of the State the names of their sons stand conspicuous among the great men of North Carolina.

A closer union would result from ine of railroad skirting the coast to Wilmington, and a bright future would open up for the people of these regions brought into daily communication with each other, and given the aid and facilities for developing their hidden re sources and stimulating the latent life in them

Upon any line of railroad that could be located from the Neuse to New River there lies (now maccessible) large and nexhaustible bodies of the ffuest timber which the manufacturing centres of the Northern and Western States are in daily pursuit of. These fine bolies many millions of dollars, and in the The amount of capital, including the getting out give employment to many bundreds of hands

Eastern Carolina, properly supplied with the facilities for making her ma dustries remucerative, would not witress the daily scene of bundreds of her est Inborers leaving for South Carotina eorgia and Florida

The time is not far off when, without change in the industrial situation. Javen, Jones and Oneow will be de uded of labor. How far from that condition are many portions of these counties now? More Anon. won settanoo
