The Republicane in the Second Distrit. At the recent meeting of the reputhean committees of the second contation. The subject is "R-solved that greesional district (the O'Hara and Abbott factions.) an effort was made to barmonize differences and pave the way for a solid front in the coming political contest Wilson Hicks, the chairman of the abbott faction, was selected to call the convention for nominating a candidate to order and appoint the committee on credentials. It would thus appear that the abbott faction gamed a victory over the O'Harfaction but what matters it if they are in carn at about harmonizing?

If the work of making peace is not disturbed by the army of assirants. which will likely be the case, the re-L J Moure, Esq. Of course democrate as well as republicans are interested in having the district well represented. We think the best thing that could be done is for both parties to units and k ep Mr. Simmons in Congress for s v ra terms but republican aspirants will bardly be able to see it in that light

Mr Moore was for several years solicitor of the judicial district which now in a great measure makes up the congressional district and democrats as well as republicans will bear testimony to the able and impartial manner in which he discharged the duties of the office. As a prosecuting officer he was hardly excelled by the genual, honest and vigorous Capa Swift Galloway who succeeded him, and this is saying a good deal. The only thing the democrate would have to fear in his nomination is that he would so arous the republicans in the district and uring them so solidly to the front that the State and national tickets in North Carolina might be in danger.

Mr. Moore, we learn, is one of the most prominent candidates in the district for the nomination, and if nominated will certainly be elected if his party shows a united front. He would make a faithful representative of the whole people, and the interest of the near where there is some of the finest district would not suffer in his hands.

The road would run from Charlotte to county; Locust Level and Albem rie in Stanly county; Troy in Mon-gomer, county, and thence to Sanford. Stanly and Montgomery are two of the richest counties in the State, and both are wit . out railroad facilities Several of our prominent citizens have interested themselves in the matter, and have been in correspondence with people along the line of the proposed railroad. The responses have been encouraging Mr. Syd. W Hearne, of Albemarie says that his county wants the road, and wants it bad. "We are ready and wiling to do our whole duty," Bearne, "and I to not think there will be any doubt of our ocupty voting a subscription of $100 000 or probably more, in aid of the road. We, as a county, much prefer to be in railroad com unication with Charlotte, than ither Salisbury or Wadeeboro. The route proposed is a most feasible one; first be cause it would pass through the best dogwood, etc.; second, it would puss torough one of the finest small grain sections in North Carolina; third it would cross the Great Pre Dee at or water power in the world; fourth, it Fa se Packed Cotton.
