Lenoir Superior Court convenes tomorrow, Judge Shepard presiding. Our truck farmers have put in their pea crop and are now preparing for potatoes.

Definite information has been received from Moore & Brady that their force will be on hand this week. The oyster men can bring on the oysters.

Rev. Mr. Pearson is to begin work in New Berne on the 19th inst. He is now at Statesville where a considerable religious awakening is going on.

The repairing of buildings has begun earlier than usual in New Berne this season. Put your houses in order. A great many people will be here next November.

The county commissioners will be in session tomorrow (Monday) It is the time for opening the sealed proposals and plans for building a bridge across Neuse river, and for purchasing the county's stock in the A. & N. C. R.

The Newberne, of the O. D. line, arrived last night from Norfolk.

Lecture. At the Presbyterian Church tonight a lecture will be delivered by Rev. Dr. Vass on the wonderful history of the Martyr Church of Bohemia, the land of Huss and of Lieke. The trial and triumphs of the Gospel of Christ were exhibited here as almost no where else. The public are invited to attend.

Money for the Fair. There are doubtless many people in New Berne who are willing to contribute to the Fair who have not been called on by the finance committee. There are only three members of the committee and while they have been diligent in their work they have not been able to call on all. Any one who feels willing to contribute should not wait to be called on but come forward with your mite.

Progress of the Fair. The outlook continues promising for the Fair. The finance committee is doing its work nobly and effectually and everybody is becoming interested. The well known firms of Wylie, Smith & Co. and Jas. D. Mason & Co. of Baltimore, represented in this city by Jas. W. Moore, Esq., have offered liberal donations for premiums. As the thing is canvassed it grows in magnitude. It will be an exhibit that will do credit to the East. Remember the time, 13th, 14th and 15th of March.

Levy Coming. By all who have ever heard of Levy, the great cornet performer, the announcement of his coming will be hailed with delight. He is said to be supported by an able concert company, and will be here on the 18th inst. That will be on Saturday, but the people will hear Levy just the same, for he stands at the head of the list in his profession. New Berne has been fortunate in having good troupes this season. They have been high-spirited and refined, which only ought to be patronized.

THE LATEST NEWS

Condensed from our Exchanges.

Hold it at Morehead City. A communication to the Beaufort Record urges that the Democratic State Convention be held at Morehead City. Not a bad idea. With the fast schedule that President Bryan contemplates making for the summer Morehead City will not be more than six hours' run from Raleigh, and a more delightful place for such a convention cannot be found in the State. Let the delegates assemble at Morehead City and see the progress the old State is making in the way of a summer resort.

A Merited Compliment. The editor of the Methodist Advance paid New Berne a visit recently and speaks thusly of our marble man, Mr. J. K. Willis.

Mr. Willis is one of the best workmen we know, a fine business man, an earnest Christian and will give satisfaction to every customer. We have seen many monuments and tombstones made and erected by him and no better, more durable or handsomer work can be obtained anywhere North or South. His prices are lower than northern marble workers, generally, for the same class of work, and this is a home industry that should have preference. We have known Mr. Willis for many years and feel that we cannot commend him too highly.

Church Services Today. There will be services in the Methodist Church at 11 a. m. and 7 1/2 p. m., conducted by the pastor Rev. L. W. Crawford. Pews are free. Ushers are all ways in the vestibule to receive strangers. All persons are cordially invited to worship with the congregation. Sunday school at 3 p. m.—J. K. Willis, Supt.

Presbyterian Church—Rev. L. C. Vase, D. D., Pastor. Services at 11 a. m. and 4 45 p. m. Sabbath School at 3:30 p. m. Subject at night: "The Bohemian Church, its Trial and Triumph." All are welcome at these services to worship the Lord together on his holy day.

Catholic Church—Rev. Father Price, pastor. Morning service at 11 o'clock, consisting of Holy Mass and sermon on The Liturgy of Baptism. Evening service at 7 o'clock, consisting of Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament, and sermon on The Confession.

Christ Church—V. W. Shields, Rector. Sermon Sunday. Services at 11 a. m.—Holy Communion—and at 7 p. m. Sunday school at 4 p. m. All people will be welcomed to the services of this church. Ushers at the door.

Baptist Church—Praise and prayer meeting at 11 a. m. After which there will be a church conference to hear the letter of acceptance of Rev. H. W. Battle. Every member of the church is earnestly requested to be present. Sabbath School at 3 p. m. There will also be a prayer meeting every night during the week in the church except Saturday night, preparatory to the series of meetings soon to be held in this city by Rev. Mr. Pearson. The public are cordially invited to attend these meetings.

Y. M. C. A.—Devotional meeting at the rooms of the Association on Middle street at 5 p. m., conducted by J. J. Wolfenden.

Second Adventist Church—Elder Eugene Scott, Pastor. Services at 11 a. m. and at 7 1/2 p. m. The public are cordially invited.

President National Bank McMinville, Tenn., writes: "In my opinion from experience in my wife's case, your Lemon Elixir has few if any equals, and no superiors in medicine for the regulation of the liver, stomach and bowels. Your Lemon Hot Drops are superior to any remedies we have ever been able to get for my wife's throat and lung disease. I feel certain, and so does she, that your Lemon Elixir and Lemon Hot Drops have been the means of greatly prolonging her life. We have not the least idea that she would now be living only for these remedies. Had she only used these remedies sooner she would long since, in my opinion, have been well and been saved the great suffering she has undergone. Truly, W. H. MAGNES, To Dr. H. Mosley, Atlanta, Ga.

From a Prominent Lady. I have not been able in two years to walk or stand without suffering great pain. Since taking Dr. Mosley's Lemon Elixir I can walk half a mile without suffering the least inconvenience. Mrs. R. H. BLOODWORTH, Griffin, Ga. Lemon Hot Drops.

I had for several years a severe ulcerated sore throat, causing much pain and uneasiness, as there was considerable hemorrhage when coughing. I bought one bottle of Dr. Mosley's Lemon Hot Drops. It gave me almost immediate relief; have used it only twenty-four hours, and my throat and cough is almost entirely well. It is certainly an efficient and speedy remedy. N. F. THORNTON, 116 S. Forsyth street, Atlanta, Ga.

For sale in New Berne, wholesale and retail, at R. N. DUFFY'S drug store. Cash must accompany the order.

Portraits. In oil or crayon from life or small pictures done by Miss Aurora Mace, who is teaching drawing and painting by latest methods, at her residence on Johnston street. [Initials.]

Work has been resumed in several of the Pennsylvania iron furnaces and coal mines.

Earthquake shocks were sharply felt in different parts of England and Scotland Thursday.

In the Charleston cotton fire (reported yesterday) eight thousand bales were burned. Total loss $300,000.

Two railway accidents are reported for last Thursday. One in Texas, in which an engineer was killed, and one in Illinois, in which two men were killed.

Dr. Richard K. Gregory, of Greensboro, N. C., has invented a bandage for surgeons' use, which attracts favorable comment from doctors and army surgeons.

Richmond, Va., has the electric street railway in operation again. It was formally opened to the public last Thursday. It was successfully run over the line for a distance of seven miles.

Mr. James A. Robinson, ("Old Harry-graph,") associate editor of the Durham Recorder, has done what all sensible editors should do, married a wife. He is receiving the congratulations of his brethren of the press on his good fortune.

Last Thursday a citizen of Chicago, Mr. Briggs, dropped dead in the street a few minutes after leaving his home in perfect health, and when the news reached his wife she went into a series of fainting fits which ended in her death in a short while.

Georgia railroads are lowering passenger rates. The Atlantic & Western Railroad has reduced its rates from three cents per mile, the rate throughout the State, to 2 1/2 cents per mile, which railroad men say will force other roads to do likewise.

Eliza Randall, of Clay county, Ga., who was to have been hanged Friday for the murder of her father, had her sentence commuted to imprisonment for life. Her crime is one of the bloodiest on record in that State, but public sentiment against capital punishment saved her neck.

The Presbyterians raised by subscription on yesterday $5,000 toward building their new church. We learn they contemplate putting up a handsome structure to cost between $10,000 and $15,000. Yesterday's work is a splendid beginning.—Winston Daily.

Very favorable reports are made of the progress of work on the government vessels at Cramp's shipyard, in Philadelphia. The gunboat Yorktown, the dynamite cruiser and the cruiser Baltimore will all be completed in a few months, and material is arriving for the construction of the cruisers Newark and Philadelphia.

During 1887 the Oxford Orphan Asylum provided for 203 children at that institution. Now there are 221, and 90 applicants for admission on file. The superintendent estimates that there are 1,000 children in the State who ought to be in asylums. The receipts of the institution were $19,072, expenditures $18,427.—Ex.

A special to the News and Observer from Williamston, N. C., gives an account of a fire which occurred there about two o'clock Friday morning. The fire originated in the residence of Mr. S. H. Newberry. Mr. Newberry's large frame livery stable caught from the burning residence and both were entirely consumed. Loss about $3,000, insurance $1,900.

All of Charlotte's new cotton mills will be lighted by electricity. There are already three electric light plants in the city, of which two are private and one public.—The graded school commissioners have received forty applications for the position of superintendent of the Charlotte graded schools. The election, we understand, is to take place next week.—Charlotte Chronicle.

The store building and entire stock of goods of ex-Sheriff W. A. Deans, at Greenleaf, near this city were completely destroyed by fire yesterday morning shortly after midnight. The fire in all probability was accidental, as there was no one in the store, and a lamp was left burning for the night. Mr. Deans's loss is perhaps $6,000 with but $3,000 insurance, we learn.—Goldsboro Argus.

A special to the Raleigh News and Observer from Washington, N. C., says: "About five miles from Makeleville, in Hyde county, a man named Lepton kept a bar-room and grocery. Last Thursday morning his store was found in ashes with his charred remains in the midst. He is supposed to have been murdered, robbed, and his store set on fire. No particulars."

Quite a number of people from the neighboring towns and country are here attending Mr. Pearson's meetings.—Messrs. Wallace Bros. have lately prepared an exhibit of medicinal roots, herbs and plants from their herbarium for the museum of Harvard College, Cambridge, Mass. and will shortly begin the preparation of a similar exhibit for the museum of the University of North Carolina—Stateville Landmark.

THE JEWELS. The late cool snap drew the Jewels closer together than they have been for some time past, and also nearer to the fire place of the Cotton Exchange where the jointness dispenses the best heat attainable from burning the decayed planks of the last year's platform. The meeting was an enjoyable one and nearly a full panel present. The long separation of the members led to a narration of individual experience much after the manner of that which followed "the tour of the virtues."

Some had been to the mountains some to the seaside while others had romped the luxuriant fields and meadows of the vicinage. All had enjoyed a good time and had more to tell than the boy in "Eyes and no eyes or heart of seeing."

The panel is impressed with the fact however that great loss to the country at large has been the result of the long vacation of the Jewels.

Indeed so strong is this impression that a fixed determination to dare and do in the future was impressively stamped on the countenances of each and every member present.

The short crops of this section has somewhat curtailed their income while no responsive sympathy has reached them from an overloaded treasury at Washington.

Slight relief is now beginning to dawn upon their vision, in the efforts being made to repeal the internal revenue laws. This relief will be small because the Panel are only interested in the tax on tobacco, it being well known that they but seldom drink anything, and never except when alone or with somebody. It is contemplated after the tobacco tax shall have been taken off to pass rigid laws against begging a chew, a matter that up to this time has apparently escaped the notice of argus-eyed politicians. Two and a half cent pieces will be coined in order that a purchaser of one cigar worth "two for five" shall not be extorted on to the amount of three cents for want of ability to make the right change as is the case now. Until such coins shall be enforceable, requiring all vendors of "two for five" cigars to take only two cents for one, unless the purchaser shall satisfy him that he has already had one for two cents in the last purchase. This may be established by the evidence of two respectable witnesses, or his own affidavit made before any Justice of the Peace or Notary Public, living, moving and having his being anywhere in a reasonable distance of a cigar stand or tobacco store. In such case he may be allowed to take three cents. This, it is hoped will promote the sale of two at a time, and thus enable the buyer to have one for a friend who might be destitute.

The Panel on this occasion were in excellent health, the best of humor and declare themselves prepared to enter the campaign of 1888 with vigorous blowing at command.
