We were glad to see a larger number of young men than usual in attendance at the Y. M. C. A. services Sunday. These meetings are not only instructive but are a source of pleasure. While the singing is composed entirely of male voices it is nevertheless good, still much further improvement could be made by the addition of some musical instrument, either a piano or organ. With one of these placed there and used at all the meetings we are satisfied it would prove one of the strongest features that could be obtained.
