The Fair is booming. Shad are coming in good quantities.

The truckers are about done planting Irish potatoes.

Our merchants are now closing their places of business at 7 o'clock p. m. in order to give their clerks an opportunity of attending Rev. Mr. Pearson's meetings.

A meeting of the Committee on Fine Arts and Fancy Work is called by the chairman to meet at the residence of Mrs. John Hughes. See notice elsewhere.

The Bible meetings conducted by Rev. Mr. Pearson at 11 o'clock each morning are interesting and instructive. All should attend. Services begin promptly at 11 o'clock.

Information was received yesterday from New York that a large number of Burnside's veterans were arranging to visit our Fair. Let them come. We will give them quite a different reception from what we did in 1862, and we are certain they will allow us to remain at home while we do it.

We publish today the list of premiums on Game and Wild Fowl, to be awarded at the coming Fair. This is in advance of the full list, because of the wide range of the subjects necessarily included in those terms. The premium list complete will be given out in a short time, and we are authorized to say the handwork of the fair sex will not be neglected while Mr. Oliver is chairman.

Steamer Movements. The Eagle of the E. C. D. line arrived yesterday morning with a cargo of general merchandise and sailed yesterday afternoon with lumber, fish, etc. The Vesper of this line will arrive this morning.

More Premiums. Mr. John Ruter, our furniture dealer, has a handsome lady's work basket and stand combined, all cane, worth five dollars, which he offers as a special premium for Fancy Work to be exhibited at the Fair. Let others follow the example. A good list of premiums will bring out a large and interesting exhibit.

Another Valuable Premium. The firm of James Kay & Co., wholesale dealers in butter and cheese, of New York, represented in this city by James H. Moore & Co., send their check for $25.00, to be used by the committee on premiums for the Fair. The people of New Berne will appreciate their kindness.

Our Fair Edition. The special edition of the WEEKLY JOURNAL is now ready for distribution. We are sending copies to parties in the surrounding counties. We wish to reach every North and must rely upon our business men and others who have friends North to furnish us names. All we want is the names and postoffice address. We furnish wrappers and pay the postage.

Personal. Dr. Wm. Wood, Esq., of Lenoir, one of the Vice Presidents of the Fair, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. J. H. Thomas, Jr., Esq., of Beaufort was in the city yesterday.

Rev. Mr. Pearson's Meetings.

The Bible reading, conducted by Rev. Mr. Pearson at the Presbyterian church, was largely attended yesterday. The subject was "At the feet of Jesus." Numerous passages of Scripture bearing on the subject were cited, and those present were requested to turn to them while the preacher submitted appropriate remarks. These meetings are very interesting and instructive.

At night the church was literally packed, the largest crowd since the meetings began. Rev. Mr. Crawford conducted the preliminary services. The preacher arrived promptly at 8 o'clock, he is always on time, and after prayer announced the text, "What is a man profited if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" He asked his hearers to look at this text in the light of common sense and as a plain business proposition. He knew there were many present who were sharp in business, knew how to drive a trade, but did not know how to save their souls.

The following questions were discussed in connection with the text:
1st. What is the soul worth?
2nd. Is there any danger of losing the soul?
3rd. How may I lose my soul?
4th. What is it to be lost?
5th. May souls be saved here now?

The remarks upon each of these questions were striking and powerful. His illustrations, as usual, backed by the Word of God. He is fearless in his condemnation of sins of all kinds. The "old pious fraud in the church who won't pay his just debts, and is trying to serve God and the devil both at the same time," is put right along on the "broad road" with the gambler, the drunkard, the horse racer and other sinners.
At the after meeting the M. E. Church was filled to overflowing. The ministers and members of the Church went earnestly to work and a large number of penitents went forward and made the good confession.
Bible reading this morning at 11 o'clock.

Our Fair!
Our Fair to be held on the 13th 14th and 15th is daily growing into huge proportions. The exhibit promises to be large and varied, but as it is now evident that a large number of visitors from a distance will be present, it is important that we have the entire East here, and as much more of North Carolina as possible, here in a nutshell. The committees are all earnestly at work and everything looks bright for a grand success.

Valuable Fertilizers.
Below is the analysis of Meadows' special guanos as reported by the chemist, Prof. H. B. Battle of the Experiment Station:
No. 4620. Meadows' special guanos for all crops, manufactured by E. H. & J. A. Meadows, New Berne, N. C., sampled at New Berne, N. C. Avail. phos. acid, claimed 9 to 11, found 9.18 per cent; ammonia, claimed 2 1/2 to 3, found 2.38 per cent; potash, claimed 2 1/2 to 3, found 2.91 per cent.

The analysis shows that these guanos are just what the manufacturers claim for them and are perfectly reliable. These guanos are kept in the finest and driest condition which insures uniform distribution. Our farmers who buy fertilizers should give them a trial.

The Journal Appreciated.
We have received many letters of commendation for the manner in which we conduct the JOURNAL, but we have not thought it necessary to publish these as we desire to put the JOURNAL entirely on its merits as a newspaper, preferring that one who reads it should be his own judge. But it is occasionally necessary to show our people at home how the JOURNAL is appreciated in the neighboring counties and we therefore take the liberty of publishing the following letter from a prominent gentleman of Onslow county:
WARD'S MILL, N. C., Feb. 13, 1888.
H. S. NUNN, Esq.—My Dear Sir—The JOURNAL failed to come to me last week, and I suppose the time paid to you and you have stopped according to order, which of course is all right; but I miss it too much to be without it, and you are and have been doing so much good work in favor of the railroad and everything else imaginable for our people, that I feel just like I ought to continue; so send it on as usual.

Meeting of Committee on Fine Arts and Fancy Work.
A meeting of the above committee is called this Thursday afternoon at half past five o'clock at Mrs. John Hughes'. M. E. ALLEN, Chairman.
Feb. 23, 1888.
Booker's arctic diary.

Kinston Items.

Mrs. Robt. Rountree is spending a few days in Kinston with relatives.

Mr. Kohl of Washington, N. C., has taken a position in the new buggy shop of the Ellis Bros.

Mrs. Ada Hunter has opened a grocery in Tuckahoe next door north of Lewis House.

N. J. Rouse, Esq., has a very convenient law office directly in the rear of the court house.

The failure of Dall Bros. is a real calamity to Greene county. The trade is largely going to adjoining counties and many have not been able to get supplies.

The farmers of Lenoir, Greene, and Pitt are making extensive preparations for another crop. We think there will be more than an ordinary effort made to produce a good crop.

Miss Hatchett has recently canvassed our town for the Orphan's Friend. She secured a number of subscribers and it took a pretty hard case to squarely withstand such a bright, sharp Hatchett.

The hop at the Hotel Tull on the 14th was evidently an elegant affair. The Free Press gives a half column which tells of silks, rubies and diamonds, and reminds one of the plentiful times before the war. Kinston must be growing rich.

Bob Harper of Trent township was before U. S. Commissioner Dan E. Perry last Friday on a charge of illicit distilling and selling without a license. He waived examination and gave bond for his appearance at next term of the district court.

We have examined the "simultaneous cartridge crimper," patented by Cox & Haskins of our town. They have obtained a brass model of the patent. It crimps six cartridges at once. They have been offered a large price but have not sold.

Married at Jno. F. Wooten's, Esq., on Thursday, the 16th, Miss Carrie Pugh and Dr. Fordham of Tuckahoe, Jones county. Several friends were in attendance, and a very pleasant affair was given at the Doctor's at night. Accepted best wishes from the JOURNAL.

The Salvation Army have had at different times "free and easy meetings," "hallelujah meetings," "soldiers' meetings," "children's meetings," and we don't know how many other kinds of meetings, but several report a new kind of meeting on Monday night—a "begging meeting."

The road from Thomas Phillips' through by Capt. Carraway's place and one by the widow Taylor's should be made public. It shortens the distance from Kinston to Hookerton two miles and is travelled very much as it is. It would not require much work to make it as good as most public roads.

Farmville, Pitt county, is a thriving village. There are not less than fifty thousand dollars worth of goods sold there annually. W. E. Meworne and Miss Addie Smith teach an excellent school there with Miss Daniel of Wilson, music teacher. Robt. Davis and Willie Lang have elegant residences under way, and rumor has it that the latter intends to have a Kinston lady for his bride. Give Farmville a railroad and it would soon rival our most progressive towns.

A new firm, under the style of "Cook & Co., hailing from New Berne, have been doing business in a very novel way for some days at Mrs. F. B. Becton's old stand. They keep closed doors except when receiving or delivering goods and spend most of their time at Hotel Tull. It is reported that they are selling goods remarkably cheap. We would suggest to our merchants and citizens that if you do not wish to be a witness in court it might be best to buy your goods from other parties.

Our deputy sheriff, Park Nunn, claims to be a gentleman, and one eyed Ed. Harrison, col., has learned that it is not healthy to dispute the proposition. A colored man brought in a load of fodder last Friday, when Harrison bid one dollar per hundred for it. Nunn told him he could get one dollar and ten. Harrison became enraged and was pretty loud in his declarations that "a gentleman would not run fodder up that way." Nunn took it until patience ceased to be a virtue and then went for Harrison's cranium with his fist. In the tussle Harrison stepped into the gutter and broke his ankle. He was taken to Dr. Tall, who set the broken limb, and he was taken in a cart to his home.

Rumor has it (and it is pretty reliable this time) that "Speckled B.," Esq., of Trent township, and his big brother went fishing last Sunday. If "Speckled B." had lived in the days of the Puritans he would have been in danger of the authorities, for he is a good church member. If the pastor and the officers of the church knew who is known by this name he might be brought before the judgment anyway. We do not mention this important occurrence for the purpose of encouraging Sunday fishing, but if you should happen to do such a thing, use good judgment like "Speckled B." and take along your big brother for ballast. Then the boat will not be likely to turn over and spill you and the fish, if it is Sunday.

On Sunday morning, about nine o'clock, Dr. F. M. Rountree, departed this life after a serious illness of about a month with pneumonia and a complication of other diseases. His remains were interred in the family burying grounds at the cemetery on Monday afternoon. The Masons conducted the burial services, which were attended by a large concourse of citizens, white and colored, who delighted to pay this last tribute of respect to one who had been so useful in many ways to the community. He was raised in Pitt county near Rountree's Church, which took its name from the family, lived at Hookerton about 55 years and moved from there to Kinston several years ago. His wife and several children survive. Friends to be notified by R. N. DUFFY.

wise he has abundantly provided for his family.

A good number of the farmers of Pink Hill township assembled at Nunn's school house on Saturday last for the purpose of organizing a Grange. Mr. J. C. Wooten made a strong presentation of the objects of the Grange, the good it had accomplished and the necessity of farmer's organizing. He was followed by short talks from Rev. Henry Cunningham and Mr. H. A. Edwards. The editor of the JOURNAL, being on a short visit to his old home was called upon and responded in a short talk upon the good to be accomplished by organization, and having once been a farmer and a granger commended that organization. A representative of the Alliance was also present and announced that he would hold a meeting at night and one on Monday night for the purpose of organizing a Farmers Alliance. Some of the farmers present could not see the necessity of different organizations for the same purpose. Enough names, however, were secured to organize a Grange which will hold at a subsequent meeting. One gentleman being asked to join was on the point of consenting, but "Deaver" and the Pink Hill Law School Association, came vividly before his vision and his confidence was shaken. This was the same ghost that kept him from joining the Salvation Army when at Kinston, but it is probable that the ghost will vanish and he will become an enthusiastic Granger. Pink Hill has the material to organize a Grange that will accomplish great good, and when once into it they will become earnest workers for the cause of the farmers.

GRAVEN COUNTY FISH, OYSTER AND GAME FAIR.

To be Held at New Berne, N. C. March 13th, 14th and 15th, 1888.

LIST OF PREMIUMS ON GAME AND WILD FOWL.

For the best exhibit of game birds of the State of North Carolina, a premium of one hundred silver hunting case watch will be given, price $25 dollars.
For the second best exhibit of game birds of the State of North Carolina, a premium of one barrel of flour will be given.
For the best exhibit of game and game animals, of the State of North Carolina, a premium of $15 will be given in gold silver or green backs.
For the second best exhibit of game and game animals of the State of North Carolina, a premium of one barrel of flour will be given.
For the best exhibit of wild fowl, Swan, geese, brant and ducks of all kinds, a premium of $10.00 will be given in silver or gold.
For the second best exhibit of wild fowl, a premium of one barrel of flour will be given.
For the best exhibit of live game or game animals, of the State of North Carolina, a premium of $12 will be given.
For the second best exhibit of live game and game animals of the State of North Carolina a premium of eight dollars will be given. Under this head is included all birds of prey—eagles, hawks of all kinds, owls, crows—and all and any kind of birds known to the forests and fields of North Carolina, not included in the list of game birds and wild fowl.
For the best exhibit of live game birds a premium of five dollars will be given.
It is highly important that all persons presenting game, game birds, wild fowl, or a common collection of birds not included in the list of game birds or wild fowl, should take the utmost pains to have these exhibits in the best possible condition, so that will assist the judges in arranging and classifying for the award of premiums.
The following persons have been appointed judges to arrange, classify and award premiums for all kinds of game, game birds, wild fowl, and all common collection of birds of the State of North Carolina: Rev. V. W. Shields, Dempsey Wood, Lieut. W. H. Hland, Rev. H. W. Battle, R. Berry, W. S. Edmonds, Hon. C. C. Clark.
By order of the Game Committee.
C. K. HANCOCK,
A. L. WAY,
W. B. ELLIS,
JAMES B. DUFFY,
E. T. PATTERSON,
O. N. TURNER.

Chairman Committee.

Committee Meeting.

The Committee of Arrangements for the Fish, Oyster and Game Fair are requested to meet at 8 o'clock Thursday, Feb. 23d, at the Graded School to plan and designate space for exhibition. The committee request all persons desiring space for dining hall or refreshment stands to make written application to this meeting.

DONT EXPERIMENT.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems, at first only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because its real value and its profits he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived, but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all chronic, long and chest afflictions. Trial bottles free at R. N. Duffy's drug store. Large bottles 25c.

THE JEWELS.

The twenty-second of February found the Panel in an unusually patriotic mood. The birthday of the immortal Washington—first in peace, first in war, and first in the hearts of the Jewels. The discussions necessarily turned upon Revolutionary times and incidents in the life of the Father of his Country, and sad to say, of nobody else.
Birth days had a fair share of the mature consideration of the Panel. They were thought to be good things to have in a family, and moderately close together. Washington himself was an admirer of them and consequently had two, the 11th and 22d, both in the short month of February.

But the patriotic G. W. showed a rather unbecoming selfishness on the subject, for after taking two for himself and for Mrs. W., one he never allowed another in his family.

Reminiscences of the General were told over again as fresh as if of the occurrence of last year. The story of the Cherry Tree and Hatchet was repeated with all the rich embellishments of the modern vernacular, and the pathos brought so pointedly out that more than one pair of jewel eyes watered up at the embracing scene between the truthful little George and his over-delighted father. The members wept because it reminded them of their own truthful habits in bygone days, and brought fresh to their memories scenes somewhat like that, but not altogether so completely victorious to the junior actor in the drama. An old hatchet was passed around and gazed upon as talismanic of truth, and the great rewards that were bestowed upon the honest boy who dared to tell the truth when there were so many limber cherry twigs laying around loose and the strong arm of an irate parent just ready to gather on to one. Hence the proverb, "Truth is mighty and will prevail."

While dwelling on the greatness of truth, a modern Pilate injected the question, "What is truth?" After some considerable investigation the conclusion was reached that the members had only a speaking acquaintance with it. The truth was they did not know what the truth was. Truth has been said to be stranger than fiction, which is probably so in some instances—possibly among the Jewels.
Having wandered off from the patriotic subject of Washington's Birthday, Hatchet and Cherry Tree, into the abstruse regions of the philosophical world, the Panel took a recess, and will look further into the subject on the next anniversary of Birthington's Washday.

In the meantime suitable arrangements will be inaugurated to celebrate in a proper manner a day now unfortunately rapidly losing its hold on public esteem, in appropriate ceremonies, Washington's Farewell Address will furnish a text for an oration of no mean proportion, not entirely void of interest to all lovers of this glorious country of OURS.
