Why Religious News is not Reported. How comes it that base ball and horse racing news is reported with great care and fullness, while the leading religious events are either ignored altogether or indifferently reported? Is it not because newspaper editors have learned that persons who belong to the theatrical or the sporting or the mercantile public buy their papers according as they find in them full prompt, and sympathetic treatment of theatrical, sporting, and market news; whereas religious people, as such, do not discriminate in their patronage of newspapers with a corresponding exactness? In other words, do religious people feel as keen an interest in religious news keen an interest in religious news as the base ball public feels in base ball news, or as the horse-racing, public feels in the news of a horse race! Do religious people to any considerable degree, choose one qualified a one paper gives more prominence to religious news than another treats it with a more sympathetic apprehension You can go up one bench and down scother at a base, without delix, without delix. beach and down aoother at a base ball game, and every man in the crowd will tell you what papers of the next morning will have a full and glowing account of the match then in progress, and which will dismiss it in a few cold lines, and very many of then will make their purchase of a paper on the followng morning on that basis of choice.

Now apply that mode of reasoning to religious people. Out of an jan25 dew Administrator. ing to religious people. Out of an audience assembled in a city for some notable religious occasion, how many will be able to predict the relative prominence that will be given to that meeting by the newspapers? And how many will go to the newspaper stand the following day and buy a paper, confident, without looking it through, that it gives a good scoont of the event? In short, it is not, after all, a question of supply and demand. A Good Cause for Gratitude.

A Greek, the wisest man of his day, once cried with bonest fervor: "What a heap of things there are that I do not want!"

How lucky we should be if we could get out of discontent and envy into his habit of loving the good we have, but to have all the good we desire! Well, we think, we really ought to have such and such a thing. If that is so, we shall have it. But we will not whimper meanwhile. We can put on the airs of Socrates, and congratulate ourselves that we can be jolly without it.

The pump handle sees a good deal of the ups and downs of life.

Moman's Discovery. "Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she wishstood its several tests, but her vital or-gans were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and sould not sleep. She hought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first does that she sleep all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus write W. C. Hamrich & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Get a bottle free at R. N. Duffy's drug store.

The Century Magazine

New York,

With the November, 1887, Issue The Century commences its thirtyfifth volume with a regular circulation of almost 250,000. The war Papers and the Life of Lincoln increased its monthly edition by 100, 000. The latter history having recounted the events of Lincoln's early years, and given the necessary survey of the political condition of the country, reaches a new period, with which his secretaries were most immediately acquainted. Under the captain

Lincoln in the War

the writers now-enter on the more important part of their narrative, viz,: the early years of the War and President Lincoln's part therein.

Supplementary War Papers. following the "battle series" by distinguished generals, will describe interesting features of army life, tunneling from Libby, narrafives of personal adventure, etc. General Sherman will write on "The Grand Strategy of the War."

Kennan on Siberia.

Except the Life of Lincoln and the War Articles, no more impor-tant series has ever been undertaken by The Century than this of Mr. Kenan's. With the previous pre-paration of four years' travel and study in Russia and Siberia, the author undertook a journey of 15,-000 miles for the special investigation here required. An introduc-tion from the Russian Minister of the Interior admitted him to the principal mines and prisons, where he became acquainted with some three hundred State exiles,—Liberals, Nibilists, and others,-and the series will be a startling as well as accurate revelation of the exile system. The many illustrations by the artist and photographer, Mr. George A. Frost, who accompanied the author, will add greatly to the value of the articles. A Novel by Eggleston. with illustrations will run thro the year. Shorter novels will fol-low by Cable and Stockton. Shorter fictions will appear every month. -

Miscellaneous Featureswill comprise several illustra articles on Ireland, by Charles Do Kay; papers touching the field of the Sunday-School Lessons, illustrated by E. L. Wilson; wild Western life, by Theodore Rosevelt; the English Cathedrals, by Mrs. van Bensselaer, with limitations by Pennell; Dr. Buckley's valuable papers on Dreams. valuable papers on Dreams, nalism, and Clairvoyance; ca criticism, art, travel, and blog poems; cartoons; etc.

By a special offer the numbers of the past year (containing the Licoln history) may be secured with the year's subscription from 8 vember, 1887, twenty four tenneral, for $6.00, or, with the last year
