LIEUT. WINSLOW'S ADDRESS.

OTHER EXHIBITS AND PREMIUMS AWARDED.

The fourth and last day of the Fair was the most pleasant of all, but. as was expected, less number of visitors. The gates were opened to the children at 1 o'clock yesterday and a large number went through and took a look at the exhibits. At 11 o'clock Lieut. Winslow of the U.S. Navy delivered a highly instructive address upon the subject of oveter culture. We expect to publish it in full in a few days. It has been sugcented and the suggestion is a good one, that the Fair Association have it published in pamphlet form. It is well good document to circulate.

There were many meritorious exhibits in the ladies department that were omitted in yesterday's issue, among them, lambrequin and strawberry paper rack by Mrs. Wm. Cohen; table rack by Miss Augusta Cohen conti-The Silver Cornet Band has given us nental currency, bill of 1775 by Mrs. W. F. Rountree, also watch charm engraved in 1800 and owned by her father's uncle; cocoanut goblets made by John Gill, the inventor of Colt's pistol, in 1836, feather work, hair work debted to C. T. Watson, Esq , for fine and needle work-very pretty-by Mrs Mary Clayton; fine collection of taxi dermy work by Miss Smallwood, and a joint of huge reed by Mr Geo. L. Wadsworth.

In the poultry line the exibits were very good. H. D. Wood & Bro exhibited buff Cochins, pekin bantoms, brown Leghorns and Langehans; Bray & Crocket, buff Cochins and Plymouth rocks; Will Watson, buff Cochins; W. J. Smith, Langehans and brown Leghorne: T. J. May, ducks, guineas, Cochine and fine pair of turkeys; B. Swert, pure game chickens; ducks by game bantoms by L. J. Taylor; Cochins Alex. Miller.
