Good Friday.

It continues to rain.

Ulrich has nails for barrels and truck boxes.

A lost watch charm is advertised in this issue.

E. G. Hill offers valuable real estate for sale. See "ad."

T. E. Mace & Co. announce a full line of druggists' articles, paints, oils, garden seeds, &c.

A correspondent presents the name of Rev. G. W. Sanderlin for State Auditor. He would make a fine representative of the farmer element on the State ticket.

The News and Observer informs us that Col. Tate's examination of the affairs of the State National Bank shows the defalcation to be about $75,000, and that all the private valuables are safe. He thinks depositors will get at least seventy-five per cent.

The Pearson meetings in Wilmington continue to grow in interest. It is a pity that the place of the meetings is such that the patter of rain prevents the people from hearing the preacher. His sermons are worth hearing.

A communication to the News and Observer, copied in this issue, reflects the sentiments of a large portion of the Eastern people in regard to the gubernatorial nomination. Whether the writer be a Western or Eastern man we have no means of guessing, but he certainly knows what the masses want.

Factory Scraps.

Moore & Brady's canning factory shipped by the steamer Stout yesterday 2500 cases of canned oysters.

The S. H. Gray Manufacturing Company shipped per steamer Stout yesterday thirty tons of wood pulp and a large quantity of wood plates.

Personal.

Miss Emma Beaton left yesterday on a visit to friends and relatives at Harlow.

Miss Laura Taylor, who has been visiting in the city, returned to her home at Adams creek yesterday.

Steamer Movements.

The Annie of the E. O. D. line arrived yesterday with a cargo of merchandise and will sail at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The Vesper of this line will arrive tomorrow.

The Hester of the O. D. line sails this morning at 9 o'clock for Norfolk.

The steamer of the Clyde line sailed for Baltimore yesterday at noon with a full cargo of canned oysters, wood pulp and wood plates.

Rev. Barrett's Communication.

The published elsewhere a communication from Rev. W. J. Barrett in reply to the "Tuesday's" issue. We wish to say that we did not know what Federal character was referred to by "X" when we made our comments on the communication. There are about a dozen or more Federal officers in the county.

The lawyer with the matter in a different light. There is certainly a misunderstanding. Jarvis' friends want to see the steamer for four years and would not have them leave Barrett's hands. They say they should have them.

A Hard Case.

The man Mitchell that was sent to jail a few days ago upon the charge of attempting to leave the State for the purpose of defrauding his creditors was released on Tuesday last. His wife, who is said to be a very respectable young lady of Beaufort, had returned home, her friends here having raised money sufficient to pay her board bills and release her baggage.

There was a rumor in the city yesterday that Mitchell returned to Beaufort after getting out of jail and endeavored to obtain recognition from his wife, but she refused to meet him and some talk about tar and feathers caused him to look for more genial quarters. He was seen in this city last night.

The Shoot Yesterday.

In the sport of the Craven County Club yesterday the best score was made by Mr. C. S. Bell, he having broken thirteen out of fifteen balls and won the first prize, a half dozen shirts. Dan Jones broke ten balls out of fifteen and took the second prize, which was a quarter dozen shirts. The lowest score made was by F. B. Lane, C. K. Hancock and Asa Jones, who broke one each. In shooting off the tie C. K. Hancock broke six and took the prize—a quarter dozen shirts.

The tie of W. W. Clark, Dan Jones and R. G. Mallett on the cost and vest prize offered by Howard & Jones was broken by Dan Jones and the prize was awarded to him.

Important to Merchants of New Berne.

The Farmers' Alliance of Onslow county held a meeting of the County Alliance at Jacksonville on the 25th of February and adopted the following with other resolutions:

Resolved, That a committee of one from each Alliance composing this Alliance be appointed and known as a Trade Committee, whose duty it shall be to meet in the city of Wilmington or New Berne, on a day to be named by their chairman, to negotiate and make terms with one commission house, one grocery, one shoe and one dry goods house, for cash discounts on wholesale prices, and cash discounts on retail prices, and report progress to the Executive Committee of this Alliance for adoption or rejection. When adopted, the sub-Alliances, through their secretaries, shall issue to each member thereof a trade certificate, and each sub-Alliance may bulk their orders and order their supplies through the County Agency, or through their own sub-Agency.

The merchants of New Berne would do well to communicate with the County Alliance that meets again in April and inform them of the inducements that can be offered by houses doing business in this city. The matter seems to be optional with the committee to meet in Wilmington or New Berne to negotiate terms, but their action is not final until reported to and adopted by the County Alliance.

A New Way to Cross a Stream.

The treasurer of the late Fair Association and one of New Berne's brightest attorneys attended Jones Superior Court on Tuesday last, leaving New Berne in a buggy together. The heavy rains on Monday and Tuesday night had much swollen the streams and on reaching Beaver Dam near Mr. Joe Bank's place and after getting in the stream they concluded that it would be safer for them to take the foot log. The treasurer concluded that he could walk the foot log and drive the horse, so he reigned up near it and got out of the buggy but made the mistake of putting the attorney in front. When they were fairly landed on the log the word was given to the horse which moved forward into the stream, but the attorney being in front of the treasurer instead of moving on so that the treasurer could keep up with the horse dropped astraddle of the log with his legs in the water and jumped along about six inches at a time. The treasurer was compelled to let go the reins and soon the horse was swimming and the buggy out of sight. The horse was kind enough to wait on the opposite side for the arrival of his company who came up in about the same condition that he was—dripping wet. At the next stream the attorney stuck to the buggy and kept out of the way of the treasurer's walk on the foot log.

Of course they both had important business or they would not have taken such risk in crossing the stream. The attorney was bound to go in the interest of a client and the treasurer with equal zeal was looking after the interest of the new Fair Association and we are glad to say was quite successful.

RECAP OF FIGS.

Is Nature's own true laxative. It is the most easily taken, and the most effective remedy known to cleanse the system when Bilious or Costive; to Dissolve Headache, Colic, and Fevers; to Cure Habitual Constipation, Indigestion, Flatulency, etc. Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Company, San Francisco, Cal. B. N. Duffy, agent, New Berne.

The First Republican Gun in the East.

What is known as the Stimson wing of the Republican party of Craven county assembled in convention at the theatre yesterday and selected delegates to the State and district conventions. The convention was presided over by E. R. Dudley who made a strong, conservative speech, recounting the scenes that were enacted in the same hall two years ago, the good that had been accomplished by the true Republicans of the county in their efforts to break up the corrupt ring that had existed in the party, and urging peaceable and harmonious action for good and honest government.

Every precinct in the county, save one we believe, was well represented. Sheriff Stimson being present was called upon for a speech and responded in one of his humorous talks, bristling with good points against the old corrupt ring.

The proceedings of the meeting will appear in full tomorrow.

The Jarvis and Ransom Contest.

KINSTON, N. C., March 28, 1888.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—My attention has been called to a communication in your yesterday's issue, over the nomination of J. I. Jarvis for Governor, and I am very much surprised at its contents, and if I am the one alluded to I beg to state that the only conversation I ever had on the subject was with Mr. W. B. Moye of this place. In this conversation (it being in my private apartments and confidential as I supposed) Mr. Moye asked me who was my choice for Governor. I answered by stating Jarvis, Fowle, Clark or any other good man. Mr. Moye then eulogized Gov. Jarvis very highly, and then in a significant way turned to Mr. R. C. Strong and said to him, "Well, we will nominate and elect Jarvis as Governor, and then he will kick Ransom out of the U. S. Senate and take his seat," to which I replied, "Then he will not get my support." I then further said, "If it is a trick to nominate Jarvis for the purpose of defeating Gen. Ransom for the Senate then I will not vote for him if nominated. This is the conversation in substance as it occurred and any other statement to the contrary is an unmitigated falsehood. I deny further that there is a disposition on the part of Gen. Ransom's friends to antagonize Gov. Jarvis for Governor or any other position he may aspire to other than that of U. S. Senator. Now sir, I wish it understood that I have no desire to shift or dodge any responsibility for anything I have said and now for the benefit of Mr. Moye and your correspondent I will repeat, if it is a trick of Gov. Jarvis's friends to nominate him for Governor for the express purpose of defeating Gen. Ransom for U. S. Senator, then I will not vote for him. If it is in treason then they can make the most of it. I wish further to state that I am not taking any part in politics, and that this conversation was drawn out of me by Mr. Moye who I looked upon as a confidential friend and I had every reason to suppose it would never be repeated.

Very respectfully,
W. J. BARRETT.

Rev. G. W. Sanderlin for State Auditor.

We have seen the name of this accomplished gentleman mentioned in connection with this conspicuous position, and we heartily endorse the recommendation. No citizen in Eastern Carolina carries with him a nobler influence, or possesses more of the nameless charm of a beautiful character than Mr. Sanderlin. He is one of that ever enlarging number of intellectual and finished men, who today makes the old North State east of Raleigh glow like a city set upon a hill top. With a stately, imposing presence, a face luminous with intelligence and amiability, a mind cultivated and attuned to lofty thought and practical uses, the honor of his friendship is at once a pleasure to gifted men and a blessing to women. He would adorn the position, and would carry to the capital a representative influence founded in all the best qualities of a pure and polished character. One of the old school of trained and effective speakers, who have built their work upon a deeper foundation than dollars and cents, he would bring strength to the party ticket, and if needful could uphold the honor of the cause in the most critical canvass. We are sure that old Craven would be glad to see him nominated, and would show her appreciation of his merits by a full and enthusiastic vote.

A Short Retrospect.

It is held by scientists, we believe, that the impression of a thought once made upon the brain is never completely obliterated. There is an impression on our brain to this effect, that about five or six months ago there was a "fever" for a military company here in New Berne, and though we never hear anything said about it now, and the large number of young men who had the "fever" are as silent as the grave on that question, we still feel that impression on our brain. It seems according to our dim recollection, that the brave young men of the "Elm City" had a meeting or two and even elected officers, and the prospects for a fine military company were simply grand. In our enthusiasm we dreamed of the old town's former glory in this line and that she was again about to become heroic. We could see "our boys" in their handsome uniforms, with brass buttons, and their glittering guns; we could see them with steady step and forms erect as they marched our streets in martial array; we could see them the gallant recipients of smiles of approval from our fair women as they watched them from every door and window along the line of march; we could hear the small boy's loud applaud—but, but it was all a dream, a dream. What's the matter? Don't you see that New Berne once had a military company?

A special to the News and Observer from Greenville, N. C., says: John G. James, a prominent citizen of this town for many years, and proprietor of the Macon House, died at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening. In his death Greenville loses one of her best and most influential Christian men.

Reports of great floods come from home and abroad. A dispatch from Berlin says the banks of the Elbe are flooded for many miles, and an enormous amount of damage has been done and many lives lost. Alabama reports the heaviest rainfall on record, 7.77 inches since Sunday night. There is a great flood in the rivers and much damage has been done to the railroads.

Let the Dogs Lie.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—I noticed a piece in your paper of last week taken from the Progressive Farmer, in which the writer severely attacks the poor dogs, the much abused animals, complaining that she could have no eggs and chickens. Now I propose to say a few words in favor of the dogs. I myself am a farmer and have bound dogs, and my neighbors have dogs, but I have plenty of eggs and chickens for my own use, and some to sell. I do not see why Farmer's Wife can't have plenty of them also, and if she would bestow that care and attention upon the hens she would have an abundance of both eggs and chickens. We could not have them were there no dogs unless we devoted some of our time and attention to them. The way I manage to raise chickens and get eggs in the same yard with my dogs is this: I build my nests in boxes about four feet from the ground, high enough so the dogs cannot get to them, with a plank leading up to them on which the hens may reach the nests. They soon learn to go to the nests and lay. By this means I get plenty of eggs and raise my chickens. If farmers wives would be a little more careful with their eggs and eggshells, and not leave them lying loosely around the yard where the dogs can get them, there would be a great many less dogs that eat eggs. They are to blame in a great measure for so many egg-eating dogs. If we had no dogs we would have no chickens, for the mix and wessel would soon take possession of the poultry yard and the foxes would destroy the pigs, so that we would have neither chickens nor hogs.

Put your nests in boxes as described above, then you will always know where to get your breakfast. I think the majority of the people in the State are in favor of the dog.
