U. S. District Court. Court convened at 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning, Judge Seymour presiding. District Attorney Busbee and Assistant R. B. Peebles were present. Marshal Van V. Richardson and deputies Z. Rhodes and S. R. Street were on hand. Deputy collector H. P. Dorich of Goldsboro was also present, and postoffice inspector W. H. Barclay. The only visiting attorneys present were Geo. H. Brown, Esq., of Washington and T. C. Wooten, Esq., of Kingston.

The following grand jurors were drawn: Alex. Miller, foreman; Jas. C. Potter, J. C. Bryan, E. W. Murrill, John Johnson, John Dunn, E. B. Hackburn, K. P. Sugg, John Sugg, G. H. Griffin, O. B. Cox, C. E. Vose, C. C. Green, Daniel Vick, R. C. Kehoe, David Whitehurst, W. P. Midyette, W. E. Grimley and Jos. Brown.

His Honor delivered a brief charge, calling attention to violations of the internal revenue, postal and other laws of the U. S.

Jas. W. Waters, Esq., was sworn as a practicing attorney.

The docket was immediately called, and the case of U. S. vs. W. T. Cherry, postmaster at Latham's X Roads, for opening and detaining a package addressed to one Wm. Powell, was taken up. Busbee and Peebles for the government. No counsel for defendant. After examination of the government's witnesses the defendant made a statement that he opened the package knowing that its contents were purchased with stamps that Powell had stolen from him, and that he thought it his duty as an officer of the government to examine all fourth class packages. A verdict of guilty was entered. His Honor reserved judgment.

The next case taken up was U. S. vs. R. E. Allgood for buying stamps stolen from the postoffice at Latham's X Roads, knowing the same to have been stolen. Busbee and Peebles for the government. J. J. Moore and Geo. H. Brown, Esq., for the defendant. This case was warmly contested by the defendant's counsel, and the evidence showed that there had been some considerable cross firing about Latham's X Roads between the defendant and Cherry the postmaster. After the evidence was in, court took a recess to 3 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

When the court re-assembled another witness was put upon the stand by the defendant as to character. The argument was then open by District Attorney Busbee for the government, followed by Geo. H. Brown and L. J. Moore, Esq., for the defendant, Mr. Peebles closing for the government. These gentlemen consumed a half hour each and presented their arguments with force and zeal. It was proven that Powell stole the stamps and that Allgood bought them, but the point of dispute was, did Allgood know or have reason to believe that they were stolen. His Honor charged the jury as to the law and recited to them the evidence. Verdict, not guilty.

Court took a recess to 10 o'clock this morning.

The New Berne and Beaufort Canal.

The River and Harbor bill was up for consideration in the House last Saturday. When the clause appropriating $15,000 for improving the water way between New Berne and Beaufort was reached, our Representative, Mr. Simmons, moved to strike out $15,000 and insert $35,000. He urged his motion with a strong argument, showing the importance of this canal to national as well as local interest. His amendment failed to pass because the committee would not consent to it, saying that they had allowed to this work the same per centage of the recommendation of the chief engineer as other works got. It is hoped that Senator Ransom will have the amount increased when the bill reaches the Senate, if so Mr. Simmons will be able to hold it when it returns to the House.

FOREIGN NEWS.

BERLIN, April 21.—After a paroxysm of difficult breathing, preceding a discharge of pus this morning, the Emperor wrote on a slip of paper, "How much longer of this?"

For the first time since the final crisis set in the sufferer yesterday and today displayed signs of restlessness and irritable temper, questioning the doings of the doctors and attendants, and giving and countermanding orders. His fever does not show signs of abating, his temperature for the day averaging 103.10 Fahrenheit. The question the Emperor put is in everybody's mind, and every hand with the inquiry, "How much longer?" Physicians are studiously silent, but it is permitted to be known that the Emperor's life may be prolonged for two weeks, though any moment may bring the last phase of the malady—death—by suffocation.

The Empress watches closely at the Emperor's bedside. Besides curtailing interviews with other members of the family, she will not permit any officials to have access to the Emperor unless he specially desires it.

Today the Emperor was able to write a long note to Bismarck which it is supposed was intended for presentation to the Ministerial Council held this afternoon, over which the Crown Prince presided.

In a long interview with the Crown Prince and his father and mother, Thursday, the Emperor referred to the position of the Empress after his death.

Bismarck and the Empress appear to have become reconciled, and the Chancellor never fails, after leaving the Emperor, to hold a long conversation with the Empress.

There is a current report, which however obtains credence, that the Council of Ministers has already discussed the terms of the proclamation to be issued by the coming Emperor. The Emperor Augustus, the Grand Duke and the Duchess of Baden, and the Duke and Duchess of Saxe-Meiningen, came to the castle this afternoon and were permitted to see the Emperor for a short time.

The North German Gazette tonight states that the discharge of pus some what diminished. The Emperor's appetite is not great, but he consumes a sufficient quantity of specially prepared food. His brain remains clear and his capacity for business is not lessened. The Gazette proceeds to comment upon the Emperor's courage during his illness.

The paper states that while conversing recently with the Crown Prince through the medium of pencil and paper, he wrote, "Learn to suffer with cheer." The Emperor's reply to the Crown Prince's letter, hoping for his speedy recovery, "My dear Blumenthal I can hardly bear it any longer."

Queen Victoria, during her visit here, will pass all her time in the Charlottenburg Palace, except when she goes out to drive and to attend a reception which will be given in her honor by the Crown Prince in the Berlin residence. Her stay in Berlin is certain to be marked by popular abstention from any notice of her presence. Papers which predict mob demonstration against her are utterly out of tune with the temper of the people. All classes, from the highest to the lowest, share this common feeling, that the English royalists have steered their way through the circumstances attendant upon the Emperor's illness with more regard for personal gain than for German interests. This impression is supported by a consistent chain of facts. It has been ascertained what is the nature of the settlement upon the Empress, arranged during the current week. Besides 12,000,000 marks, the allowance as widow of the Emperor, the Empress Augustus's residence as fixed by the will of Emperor William. This is a small matter per se, but taken in conjunction with the baffled intrigues to overturn Bismarck, gives the masses a settled sentiment of antipathy to both the Victorias. Still the people of Berlin are not the mob of Paris. Foreign papers are talking as if extraordinary police measures were necessary to protect the Queen against the people of Berlin, but they entirely mistake the habitual self respect of the people, who are too self restrained and well bred to show any disrespect to the Empress or her mother. Should any evil minded person attempt to insult the Queen during her visit to Berlin, citizens would be apt to make an example of him.

PARIS, April 21.—There was a renewal of the conflicts between the students and Boulangerists tonight. The police charged on the rioters and in the scuffle that ensued many persons were injured, some seriously. The Boulangerists assembled at many points, intending to march to the Boulevard St. Michael. The police, however, dispersed them and prevented them from carrying out the idea. The city became quiet after 11 o'clock.
