Notice change in the schedule of the A. & N. C. R.

Tomorrow is the last day of April and then comes the month of pines.

A good many strawberries were in market yesterday with their luxurious appearance.

Seventeen hundred boxes of truck went into Goldsboro over the A. & N. C. R. on the fast truck train yesterday.

It is getting a little too dry. Rain would be beneficial to truck and all planted crops that have not yet come up.

Grady Smith, convicted of passing counterfeit coin, was taken to Kenansville yesterday where he is to remain in jail for six months.

The law firm of Clark & Clark have removed from their former office on Craven street to the north side of Pollock street second house west of Middle.

This promises to be a big season at Morehead City. Nearly one hundred rooms have been added to the Atlantic Hotel besides other improvements which will add to the comfort and pleasure of visitors.

We are requested by Mr. E. B. Hackburn to acknowledge the receipt of fifty dollars from the U. S. Mutual Accident Association of N. Y., indemnity for the accident which happened to him during the Fair. The policy to Mr. Hackburn was issued near two years ago from Mr. W. H. Oliver's agency.

Picnic at Swift Creek. A picnic is to be held at Swift Creek next Saturday, the 5th of May. The steamer Trent runs from New Berne for the convenience of those who wish to attend. Rowing and racing in boats and a foot tournament are among the amusements. A string band has been engaged to make music.

Special Meeting. There will be a called meeting of the "L. M. Association" on Tuesday, May 1st, at 12 m., at the residence of Mrs. John Hughes on Broad street. At this meeting the final plans and preparations will be made for the ceremonies and exercises of Memorial Day, May 10. All members are therefore earnestly requested to be present.

Steamer Movements. The Eagle of the E. C. D. line arrived yesterday morning with cargo of general merchandise and will sail Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Vesper of this line will arrive today.

The Newberne of the O. D. line arrived last night and will sail Tuesday at noon for Norfolk.

Notice. The registration books of the first ward will be open at the office of the city clerk, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, 3d, 4th and 5th May.

J. T. Law, Registrar.

U. S. District Court. Court was called at 7 45 a. m. yesterday, Judge Seymour on the bench.

The case of J. E. Hudson, mentioned in yesterday's report, was called and the defendant answered. A jury was empanelled and the case submitted the same as that of the others on Friday. The same sentence was pronounced—thirty days imprisonment and a fine of ten dollars and cost.

The court then adjourned.

The Democrats of Lenoir.

The Democrats of Lenoir held a convention at Kinston yesterday to elect delegates to the state, district and national conventions. The meeting was a harmonious one and every township was represented. The delegates go un-instructed. There is a strong feeling in the county for Stedman, also for Alexander, and some for Fowle. The full representation from most of the townships shows that the farmers will take an active interest in the conventions this year.

Some Beautiful and Rare Flowers.

A box of choice and most beautiful flowers were presented to the JOURNAL sanctum yesterday. The collection consists of many different hued roses, varietal geraniums, white, purple and scarlet pansies, pink and white daisies, some large and rich fuchsias, verbenas, pinks, and other varieties of pleasing colors that our knowledge of botany fails to reach. They are from the hot houses of Mrs. G. L. Kilpatrick of Kinston, and were so well arranged for transportation that they appeared as fresh as though just pulled. These lovely gifts of nature have a cheerful effect.

Some Error in This.

The Durham Recorder says Mr. John Green of New Berne has moved his family to Durham and will engage in the plumbing, gas fitting and trimming business. Mr. Green is one of the city aldermen of New Berne and a most excellent gentleman. The Recorder welcomes him to Durham.

Now Mr. John Green has not moved to Durham nor is he now nor has he ever been an alderman of New Berne, but he is a most excellent gentleman, and does plumb the track of rectitude pretty steadily, and does a considerable amount of gas fitting.

The notice above was of our former townsman, John Greer, who has moved to Durham and of whom all the above may be said in truth.

Persons.

Maj. Gordon from Cobton was in the city yesterday. He says there is but little politics in his section, that the people are looking more to business than occupying their time in political gossip and gatherings. The Major is a good and practical farmer and many might profit by patterning after him.

Hon. F. M. Simmons arrived last night.

Col. John D. Whitford arrived last night. He has exhausted the appropriation for the work on Contentnea river and greatly improved the navigation. Another appropriation should be made by the present Congress.

T. C. Daniels of the Davis High School arrived last night on a visit home.

Laying Corner Stone Assembly Hall, Morehead City.

We learn from the officials of the A. & N. C. R. that they are anticipating a large crowd on Tuesday, May 1st, that will tax them to their full capacity. [All of their passenger coaches will be in service on that day, and as many more coaches as can be procured from their connections. They will run three sections of trains on this occasion to Morehead City, and every arrangement will be made as far as possible to accommodate the public. The first section will contain ten solid coaches from the R. & D. R. R., and the second section will follow for the local travel on the line of the A. & N. C. The third section will be through solid coaches from the W. & W. R. R. connections.]

Friends of education from all parts of the State will be present. The management has extended the siding at Clark's so as to hold any number of coaches, and will make it a passing point. Seven trains in all will be run over the A. & N. C. R. on Tuesday next including excursion and scheduled trains.

These trains will in no wise interfere with the fast truck train which has the right of way from New Berne to New York over all trains.

W. O. Tuggle, LaGrange, Ga., writing about Darby's Prophylactic Fluid, says: "It is a priceless jewel as a disinfectant and deodorizer. My wife states for the benefit of young mothers that it is a valuable adjunct to the nursery. It is equally so to parents traveling with children. Not only is the fluid valuable as a deodorizer, but a few drops put in the water in bathing will remove all eruptions from the skin, chafing, etc., and greatly refresh and soothe."

Look to the Children.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—It is said that the best works were written by those who had but little or no practical experience in the matters upon which they wrote.

The author of "Home Sweet Home" was said to be a wanderer and never had a home. The most learned disquisitions on agriculture are written by men who never followed a plow or bridled a mule. The ablest work ever written giving rules for health and to insure longevity is said to have been from the pen of one who died at thirty-five.

These anomalies encourage me to write upon the subject that I wish to do the duty of mothers, though myself not a mother.

When I go through the streets of our city I shudder for the coming generation of our race. At nearly any corner on a pleasant afternoon or morning a group of children may be seen, composed of both sexes and of both races, assembled in an indiscriminate gathering for enjoyment and amusement. Now is the street a proper nursery for the tender plants of our home and fire-side?

Many of these children are of the tenderest age, while others are more advanced in years. Is the street a proper place for them unrestrained by any influence but their own will and inclinations?

Our old school master used to "set us a copy" to write "Modesty is a virtue that greatly adorneth a female. Often have we written it and often have we had cause to refer in our minds to the truthfulness of it and the sad truth of the reverse proposition. Now can a girl who romps in the street without any regard to the companions she is with, grow up with any reasonable supply of this adorning virtue?

Mothers who are permitting this thing are sowing to the winds and must not be surprised if they should reap the whirlwind. The boys thus growing up are not promising much attainment in that line, but for the girls one feels the deepest solicitude.

If any reader thinks my story overdrawn let him or her venture to speak to one of these little fellows as he runs across their path. Ten to one they will receive a sneering recognition or the very elegant salutation, "hello." If not satisfied with that experiment pause a few minutes and see the antics, listen to the language used to each other, and I think they will agree with me that the raising of children in the street is a dangerous experiment. This is written under the impression that many of these mothers are ignorant of the whereabouts of their precious little ones, and this timely notice served upon them, may lead to a remedy. As I said, I am not a mother, but I had a mother and one of blessed memory, and well do I remember the care she exercised over my little sisters, brothers and myself. How she would always accompany us to the door when starting to school, imprinting the warm kiss and urging us to run on to school and not loiter by the way. But my imagination cannot grasp what she would have said or done had she seen us romping in the street in a miscellaneous assembly of children regardless of race or sex. My imagination fails because such could never have occurred in that day of home discipline and government. As I may be suspected I will boldly sign myself AN OLD MAID.

THE JEWELS.

The Panel has not been inclined to take a hand either in religion or politics this early in the campaign of the latter and picnic season of the former. Short crops, low prices and such, has given the members rather too much of a private character to think about to waste their valuable time in discussing matters of public interest.

The price of herrings ran down to "only five cents a bunch" and "tenon bunch" much to the relief of all concerned in the consideration of the substantial comfort of the "fisher man" and inspired hope in the breast of the dependent as well as afflicting the stomachs of the hungry.

The controversy over the total nomination has given such a shock to the political structure as to decide decided cracks in the wall of the same, and the brains of some of those engaged in the discussion. The Panel yielded to no man, living or dead, the palm in admiration or appreciation of Hon. T. J. Jarvis, but the idea of recalling him from an exalted and remunerative political position to take the poorly paid one of "Governor" never for a moment found a lodgment in the astute minds of the Panel. A pay of $6,000 a year for six years with the privilege of retaining a second term might attract their attention. For Hon. D. G. Fowle and Judge Stedman the members held the most cherished recollections of past services and present usefulness to their State and country, and would delight in seeing to put the Hon. D. G. on the Supreme Court Bench where his talents, learning and unspotted purity would lend additional lustre. And will in the course of coming events see that J. A. goes on and up to a position to which his abilities and attainments so eminently qualify him. But we repeat, but when it comes to the present canvass for Governor there has never "a wave of trouble rolled a cross their peaceful breast." Still in the faith and doctrine that promotion from the line being the surest way of securing good and efficient soldiers.

Keeping clearly in view the rising and gallant recruits as they take their place in line, that there is a wreath of laurels hanging up for them to strive for, and with reasonable assurance of gaining it by earnest devotion to duty, the Panel advocate with much zeal, that Lieutenants should be made Captains have never, never doubted the propriety, the sagacity, the entire justice of nominating and electing the Hon. Chas. Manly Stedman to the position which his nomination as Lieut. Governor clearly pointed, and which an overwhelming majority predicted then, and will repeat in November, that he is the undoubted choice both of the PANEL and the PEOPLE.
