PICNICERS. Remember no well regulated family will go on the picnic tomorrow with an old bucket or box to put their dinner in. No picnic is a success without a nice North Carolina Ham and a nice covered basket to put it in. At the only cash store in North Carolina at Humphrey & Howard's old stand you can find picnic hams, picnic baskets and picnic biscuits, cakes and crackers for the picnic tomorrow.

PURE Paris Green and Lead Flashes certain death to potato bugs, for sale by GEO. ALLEN & Co.

SAY, HUSBAND, have you seen that tremendous crowd of customers at Hackburn's, The Grocer. Well, the cause of it is, they are getting nice goods for the same money than at any other Grocery Store in the city, and you know that it is what the people want. I declare I have not failed on my bread since time since I have been getting that nice flour of his at only 35c per lb. and that butter is always sweet and nice and is perfectly delicious on those hot rolls.

This conversation is correct, that is just what I am doing. If you don't think so, come and try. Money refunded if goods not found as represented. To the smokers I will say that I have 15 cases more Tar Heel at 40c per lb. in any quantity. Also the best 2 for 3 Cigar in the world.

REDMOND'S Ginger Ale, Lemon Soda, etc., equal to imported.
JAMES REDMOND.

Two bales of cotton sold at the Exchange yesterday at 97 1/2.

Ex Sheriff Hahn is putting in a new foundation in his lively stables.

Maj. Wm. A. Smith of Johnston county died in Richmond on Wednesday night. He was a man with a noble heart.

We regret to hear of the serious illness of Mr. N. S. Richardson. His condition was better, however, last evening.

The schooner Stonehill, Moore master, arrived from New river with a cargo of tar and turpentine to master.

The A. M. E. Z. Conference reconsidered its action yesterday in regard to electing two bishops on the last day of the session and will elect them this morning at 11 o'clock.

The city marshal calls attention to the ordinance against cattle running at large within the city limits. A number of complaints have been made and the marshal takes this moderate course before proceeding to gather them in.

The schooner Marine, Moore master, loaded yesterday for Jacksonville, N. C. A steam dry kiln is to be used by the Onslow Lumber Company at their recently erected saw mill at Jacksonville, of which Mr. Wm. C. Lamb of New York, is superintendent.

Congressional Convention. The congressional convention of the second district will be held at Weldon next Thursday, the 24th inst. Besides nominating a candidate for Congress, two delegates to the National Democratic Convention, and a Presidential elector will have to be chosen.

We believe it is generally conceded that the present able representative will be nominated for re-election. With this we presume Craven will be content. There is plenty of good material for delegates and elector in other portions of the district and we hope the convention will be fortunate in its selections for these places.

Steamer Movements. The Eagle of the E. C. D. line sailed yesterday afternoon with a good cargo of lumber, cotton, truck and general merchandise. The Vesper of this line will arrive today.

The Manteo of the O. D. line left yesterday with a good cargo of cotton, naval stores and truck and several passengers. The Newberne will arrive tonight.

The Delance of the Clyde line arrived from Baltimore yesterday morning and left last night on return trip with a cargo of shingles, lumber and naval stores.

M. E. Sunday School Picnic.

Though Thursday dawned with somewhat gloomy prospects for the M. E. Sunday School to have their annual picnic, as it had been the day set apart and many preparations made, the damp atmosphere from the previous night's rain and the still threatening rain did not prevent its coming off.

The ringing of the bell at 7:30 o'clock signaled the assembling of the school at the church where prayer was observed by the pastor and a few remarks from the superintendent and chief marshal. Led by the New Berne Steam Fire Engine Band, the school formed in line and marched to the foot of Craven street where the splendid and nicely lined up steamers Carolina and Trent were in readiness to receive a freight that at this time might feel proud to bear.

With the blowing of hawsers, a lively air by the hand and a parting salutation from the whistles, the two steamers backed out into the stream and headed up Trent river, with an abundance of the lovely and beautiful all eager to obtain a full share of only what a pleasant and profitable day at a picnic could bestow. A gentle breeze gambled about the docks to fan the brow and cool the curls of the joyous girls.

As has been said before and will be said many times more to see this enchanting river is to be filled with rapturous delight. A high tide enabled us make landing at Fox-mill without the inconvenience of having to be transferred by that.

Rambling up upon the top of the hill must be something attractive in the young boys and girls as they gathered along the banks, with strawberries, wild flowers, jumping the rope, rowing, etc., engaged the time until dinner. A table about seventy-five yards long, and it was a beautiful sight, was spread with all the viands the best caterers could produce. Rev. H. W. Battle offered up a blessing after which the sumptuous repast was served. Again on board we weighed anchor for Pollocksville, fourteen miles farther up the river. There a half an hour was spent and then a return made homeward.

Where the river was narrow one steamer would follow in the wake of the other and where wide enough they would gracefully steamside by in conversational distance. Every body seemed happy and mirth ran high. Though the Trent had the largest number of ladies aboard an assistant marshal on the Carolina avows that his boat had the prettiest. The New Berne band crowned itself all over with glory in continuous playing and their change from one boat to the other buried all spirit of selfishness. Superintendent J. K. Willis and chief marshal D. S. Willis with his assistants were watchful of their duties and did all they could to make the occasion one to be held in fond remembrance. They need have no fear of their success. The absence of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Crawford, with his pleasant countenance, was much regretted. The children were well behaved on the whole trip, and the officers of the boats clever and obliging.

On account of having said that the last picnic we were on previous to this was the most enjoyable of any we had ever been on, it would seem rather wavering to change so soon, but we must bow to the inevitable, still, probably it may be something like unto the young man who said that the prettiest lady he ever saw was always the last one.

Personal. Mr. Albert Way and Mrs. Way left yesterday on the Manteo for their Northern home. Mr. Way has spent several winters in New Berne and the departure of himself and lady is regretted by a large circle of friends, but their return in the fall is looked forward with great pleasure.

Dr. H. D. Harper of Kingston arrived last night.

Another Beautiful Boquet. One of the handsomest bouquets sent to the New Berne Fire Company on the occasion of occupying their new quarters on Thursday night, was from Mrs. C. E. Slover. We mention this because it was placed on the table after our reporter had made his "notes," and it was consequently not mentioned in the notice yesterday, and for the further reason that it came from a lady friend of a rival company, the Atlantics.

DON'T EXPERIMENT. You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems, at first only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived, but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all throat, lung and chest affections. Trial bottles free at R. N. Duffy's drug store. Large bottles $1.

The "Clear Springs" Farm.

Belonging to Mr. Cicero Green, distant 12 miles from New Berne, is probably one of the most beautiful and picturesque places in Eastern Carolina. Through the portion of the farm in front of the dwelling, runs a beautiful, clear, cold stream of water fed from a gushing spring, running from under a huge boulder of conglomerate shell rock; both banks of the stream, for a distance of several hundred yards, are of this rugged rock lying in detached boulders of enormous size. In one place a huge slab of stone has been thrown by some Titanic force across two boulders. Standing in an erect position, forming a natural bridge, underneath of which runs the stream of water. The banks on each side of the stream rise gradually and would be very easy of ascent, if it were not for so many boulders protruding from the ground. All along the banks on both sides is an immense grove of very many varieties of trees. Some are of unusual size. I counted 43 red cedar trees in a row, two of them measured over eleven feet in circumference. The shade is dense and almost impenetrable to the rays of summer sun, and in the hottest weather the atmosphere is delightfully cool. It is a first class place to linger in and aside from its great beauty there are associations connected with it, that makes it one of the interesting places in North Carolina. It was first settled upon by James Green, to whom it was a wedding gift. Here in John Green was a colonial military officer. I took the warden of the principal room in the dwelling, hung two portraits, one of John Green attired in a military coat of red cloth, the other a portrait of his wife, Mary, who in her day was beautiful, as her portrait informed me. The foundation of the building is a shell rock wall rising to the height of 8 feet in mortar which is now as hard as the hardest granite, unlike the concrete mortar so freely used in New Berne. The building and kitchen were erected in 1754 as recorded on the kitchen chimney top, and upon an iron slab in the back of one of the fire places in the dwelling. The fire place in the dwelling is very large, will take a stick of wood 4 feet in length the fire place in the kitchen is twice as large as the one in the dwelling. I visited the grave yard near the house, and read the following inscriptions:

James Green died Oct. 4th 1788 aged 25.
His wife Mary, died 1789 aged 30.
Holland Green consort of Furnifold Green, died May 15th 1795, aged 29 years.

Not long since I was searching the old records of Beaufort county, in the court house in the town of Washington, I found the name of Furnifold Green, spelled as I have written it, to whom was granted a tract of land in payment for having brought some immigrants into the country in the year 1697. The entry was made in the town of Bath then containing 12 houses some time in the year 1707, five years before New Berne was settled by the Graffentons. I have no doubt that he was the ancestor of both James and Furnifold Green, both buried in the above mentioned grave yard. He was a man of note during the settlement of the State, and judging from the numerous grants of land recorded in his name, many of them on Neuse River, he was a very large landed proprietor. John Green, though an officer of the crown, soon became a rebel of some note, unfortunately he was stricken with the palsy, consequently debarred from much service in the field. It is related of him, that while his farm was raided by a band of Tories in search of liquor, under the command of one Cox, whom he had brought up from a boy, his body servant came in the house and told him that the commanding officer was Cox. The old gentleman became so angry that, lame as he was, he seized his stick, limped down the high steps, and made his way to the cellar door, entered, and in the face of the entire band of Tories belabored Cox with his cane, and in language more forcible than polite expressed his opinion of him. What was the language used tradition has not informed us, but the reader may rest assured that it was sufficiently strong, as he lived in a swearing age. John Green lies buried under the Episcopal church in this town. He was grandfather of Judge George Green, Mr. Cicero Green and Mrs. Elizabeth Green. His wife was Lydia Cogdell, whose sister, Mrs. John Wright Stanley, was mother of the distinguished John Stanley whose remains lie in the Cedar Grove cemetery near this entrance in a lot surrounded by a shell rock wall. I neglected to state that the 10th township, in which Mr. Green's farm is situated, is the best township in the county of Craven.

Keep the Cattle Up. The attention of the public is called to chap. ix., sec. 7, of the city ordinances: "No horse, pony, bull, oxen, cow, calf, mule, hog, goat, sheep, geese or ducks, shall be allowed to roam at large or to remain for the purpose of pasturing or to graze upon any of the streets or open lots or ground within the corporate limits of the city of New Bern. It shall be the duty of the city marshal to impound such, and to sell the same at the court house door to the highest bidder, after five days notice at the court house door and in a daily paper of the city, unless the owner shall have reclaimed them by paying to the city marshal one dollar and all expenses of impounding them; and one dollar shall be collected as often as any of these animals shall be permitted by their owners to go at large."

J. T. LEWIS, City Marshal.

ADVICE TO NOTHERS. Mrs. WINLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

THE A. M. E. Z. CONFERENCE.

The fifteenth day a session of the general conference of Zion Methodist convened yesterday morning and after devotional exercises was called to order by Bishop T. H. Loman.

that are of the highest type of Christian ministers. Our race as well as other races of mankind must be elevated from immorality. Let the ministers of Christ take the lever of God's Holy Word, and from the sacred rostrum raise the millions of our people to a higher religious standard. The time is short let us work while it is day. For the night cometh, when no man can work. I meant well, if I spoke wrong.

Yours for the spread of Christ's Kingdom.
