The Macadamized Road Appropriation. Hon. F. M. Simmons has secured the passage in the House of the bill appropriating twenty thousand dollars to construct a road from this city to the National cemetery near here, but the bill has not yet passed the Senate. We trust Senators Bassett and Vance will give it special attention and get it through the Senate. The cemetery is a beautiful spot and would have many visitors if a good road was made to it. The U. S. Government is amply able and ought to show respect enough to the memory of those who died in its service to have a decent drive-way to the place where their remains rest. Friends visiting these cemeteries when properly cared for and good roads provided will be greatly impressed with the authority that shows such marked attention to the memory of Baptist Picnic. The Baptist Sunday School went to Morehead City Wednesday on its annual picnic. To keep up the saying that rain is almost sure to fall when the Baptists go off, a slight shower fell while en route, but after reaching our destination it had all cleared away and a bright azure sky assured a fine day. There are numerous places accessible near New Berne for having picnics, but none of them especially inviting, consequently the Baptists desired to get away from home and to a place that had not before been visited this season. In choosing Morehead they made a wise selection as far as having a successful picnic is concerned.

Three passenger cars, exclusive of a freight and baggage car, had been chartered and early in the morning they were filled almost to overflowing with a happy group, among which were many of New Berne's fairest daughters. A delightful run was made to the seashore. The band was along and they were very accommodating with their playing. The New Berne Hotel had been engaged to make headquarters, and the proprietor, Mr. W. M. Wiggins, threw open the doors with true Southern hospitality and contributed no small share of pleasure to the crowd. At noon all danger of rain had vanished and from a perfect calm that had prevailed in the morning, a refreshing breeze blew gentle zephyrs into ripples upon the dark blue waters of sparkling hue.

Dinner was spread in the dining hall of the hotel, and like all other picnics it was one of the hungriest crowds we have ever seen. It is a fact, and peculiarly so, that the enthusiasm and enjoyment at a picnic have no tendency whatever to lessen the appetite. The children were allowed to go to the first table, and when the doors closed out "we grown folks," almost rayenour, thoughts came to us as to what stage of life would our time come. When we were small the children had to wait, and now since we are grown we have got to wait still. It was a sumptuous repast and made all feel better. Immediately afterwards parties were formed and boats hired for a sail over to the beach, some to try the surf and others to look on from the pavilion and stroll along the water's edge to gather shells. About twenty-five put on these unhappily things called bath suits and pronounced the water fine. A good sea bath is pronounced excellent where you do not over exercise or remain in too long. This is a beautiful place to go to and get a full view of the grand old Atlantic with its broad expanse of water reaching to the Eastern Continent. A nice sail back and around the harbor in these elegant and well manned sharpies with their swan-like grace is sport sure enough, especially if you were as fortunate as the writer in getting in a boat with a merry crowd of lively and pretty girls. Two New Berne preachers were with us also and they were not without a fair companion either to help in the hilarity.

We neglected to state that in the forenoon the Teacher's Assembly hall and the new apartment to the mammoth Atlantic Hotel were visited and pronounced handsome structures. At least half an hour before time of leaving the people began filling the cars, each anxious to get a comfortable seat on the return home. Many were compelled to stand even after placing chairs down the aisles. A few miles west of Newport the rear car came uncoupled and it looked as though somebody was going to get left in the woods, but it was discovered and the train proceeded back and again made fast, soon again to be speeding homeward.

Sickness prevented the attendance of Mr. A. M. Baker, Superintendent of the school, which was a source of regret, but those in charge did all they could to make it a happy occasion and it was. The Republican Ticket. The following telegram from Raleigh gives the Republican ticket as completed by the convention: RALEIGH, May 24.—Republican State ticket in full as nominated is O. H. Dockery, Governor; J. O. Pritchard, Lieutenant-Governor; Geo. W. Stanton, Secretary of State; O. E. McKesson, Auditor; G. A. Bingham, Treasurer; T. P. Deyeraux, Attorney General; Jas. B. Mason, Superintendent of Public Instruction; D. L. Russell, D. M. Furches, R. P. Buxton for Associate Justices of Supreme Court. Platform was adopted. J. E. Boyd and A. M. Moore were nominated for electors. The plan of organization was changed and the Chairman of the State Executive Committee was elected by the convention. J. E. Eaves of Rutherford was elected.

That Harvest of Combinations. True delicacy of flavor with true efficiency of action has been attained in the famous California fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs. Its pleasant taste and beneficial effects have rendered it immensely popular. It cleanses the system, cures constipation, etc. R. N. Duffy, agent, New Berne, N. C.

PICNIC—POLITICS—FARMS, ETC.

NEW BERNE, May 21st, 1888. EDITOR JOURNAL.—It was your correspondent's good fortune to be honored with an invitation to the annual picnic of New Berne Grange, P. of H., held at Clear Springs Farm, this county, on Thursday last. But right here we were placed in a very awkward dilemma, for not being one of the fortunate who are able to indulge in the luxury of keeping a horse and buggy, and our finances being on rather a low ebb, we were forced to look upon the prospect of our attendance in rather an unfavorable light. But fortune generally favors "the brave" and "ye correspondents," and our heart was soon made light by the receipt of a kind little note requesting the pleasure of our company, etc., to the aforesaid picnic.

The needless to say our answer must have been satisfactory to the sender, for bright and early Thursday morning our eyes were gladdened by the sight of one of the very best turnouts in our city, and upon our appearance at the door we were greeted by a cheery voice with a cordial "good morning," and "are you ready?" A few moments and we are off. Our fair city is behind us, and we are inhaling the fresh breezes of the country. The model truck farms of Messrs. E. H. and J. A. Meadows, Yeomans, Cox and Wadsworth are successively passed. On we go down Washington road until we reach the farm of Mr. Drew Dixon. Here we make a sharp turn to the left. The fine road that is now before us seems to inspire our "noble animals" to increased activity, and at a rapid gait we pass the farms of F. Arnold, T. J. May, Mrs. House, Judge Green, George Green, Jr., and A. B. Dawson, when suddenly we are unexpectedly confronted by a "rising little village," boasting of two stores, grist mill, cotton gin, blacksmith and carpenter shop, school house, two churches, besides several neat little residences. We were so much struck with the comparative newness of the surroundings that we were forced to stop, as our friends Erdman and Pavie would say, to take a few observations. Upon alighting we were greeted by Mr. J. J. Speir and Edgar May, who under the firm name of May & Speir are doing a thriving business in groceries, dry goods and general hardware. Their store is large, neatly arranged and painted, and while their stock is not as large at this season, they informed me, as in the fall and winter, yet to our eyes it appeared of sufficient magnitude to meet the trade requirements of a very large territory. And when we consider right opposite is another store, we can but wonder that the traffic of our New Berne merchants has of late become so much impaired. And this is by no means an exception, for throughout the entire county we find the same existing state of affairs. Besides, we are informed there is scarcely a farmer of any magnitude who does not keep a small shop to supply his own immediate needs.

And while on this subject before proceeding farther let me tell your readers of a very laughable incident that occurred here. A noid colored man came in during our conversation to buy some groceries. After he had been waited on and his goods wrapped up, he approached Mr. Speir, and looking at him intently, said, "Boss, I understand you is to have a post-office here." Speir told him yes, and that it would be in operation in the course of a week or two. He looked still very incredulous, and scratching his head said, "Well, dey's been tellin' me a long time that we culled folks must vote de Republican ticket, so we could 'peal the revenues, protect ourselves with the high tariff, and educate our children on the Blair's bill, but fore God I'd rather have this post-office that this Democratic Simmons has got for us than all the others combined, if I don't get but two letters a year." And this seems to be the feeling of the people here, both white and black. They look upon Simmons having done more for them in getting the post-office established than all the rest of the congressmen who have preceded him combined.

We would not be at all surprised at the next election to see this very township, which usually gives a hundred or more Republican majority, wheel completely over and give the same amount to Simmons. We do not mean to say it will be the same with the rest of the Democratic ticket, for as regards county politics especially it is more solid than ever for Hahn and Geo. Green.

There appears to be some little dissatisfaction as to the rest of the Republican county ticket recently nominated, but upon these two you can safely count a solid Republican vote, with considerable accessions from Democratic ranks.

But we must lay aside politics for the present, and proceed on our journey, for we are not yet there. Bidding Mr. Speir good-bye, we are off again. A short drive of about a mile, and we are at the home of Mr. Clever Green (Clear Springs Farm), the place of the picnic. Our horse given in charge of a boy, we are soon surrounded by numbers of our farmer friends, who seem to be as glad of meeting us as Joel Kinsey did Wade Hampton.

Buggies, carts and wagons, loaded down with the old and young soon commenced pouring in. In an incredible short time the grove is filled, while seated on the surrounding rocks, usually in pairs, we hear the low and bright laughter of "sweet sixteen's." Oh, how we do enjoy these smiles so lavishly bestowed on their happy companions of the opposite sex. It makes us truly wish we were young again. But we say go ahead, for life is short and youth should be enjoyed, and "lay year comes but once in four years."

The hours pass quickly and ere we are aware of it is one o'clock. Dinner is announced, and how readily we obey the summons, being conscious almost instantly of some long felt want, and such a spread! When our eyes rested upon the barbecues we could but wish that our genial Manly, who was with us at the farmers' dinner last August at the Street place, could be here today. He could have the whole hoghead this time, and none (Nunn) to dispute his claims. Dinner over, and the table cleared off, short, neat little speeches were made by our townsmen Messrs. J. Havens and H. B. Nunn, of the JOURNAL, followed by P. M. Fearall of Trenton. Dr. Woodley was also loudly called for but failed to respond.

To tell you' all who were present would about fill an average New York paper. The crowd was just immense, and every member of the Grange seemed to vie with each other in the effort to entertain and provide for their guests. Turner May, John Speir and Geo. Green were everywhere, and if you wanted anything all you had to do was to ask them and you got it. Prominent among the ladies were Mrs. Edgar May, Mrs. House, Mrs. Arnold, Mrs. T. J. May and others who did the honor in most gracious style. The best of feeling prevailed everywhere and all seemed to enjoy themselves more than on any occasion of this kind we have ever attended. Our journey home being a long one, at five o'clock we were forced to bid adieu to these many kind friends and with the consolation of a well spent, pleasant day, we took our departure.

L. J. Moore, Esq. and other delegates to the Republican State convention returned last night. Mr. Moore is very sanguine of carrying the State just as he and all other Republicans have been for the last twelve years.

Col. Stewart of Maryland is in the city.

Will Wool Be Free.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Although no positive action has yet been taken by the majority of the Ways and Means Committee upon the amendments offered by the Democratic members to the Tariff bill, it is reported by some of the representatives directly interested in the woolen schedules that they have been assured that, by the way of a compromise, the committee will accept an amendment reducing the duty on woolen manufactures from 43 per cent fixed in the bill to 35 per cent. The members of the committee decline to indicate how they will act upon the amendment which was originally offered by Mr. Crain of Texas, and proposed to admit woolen manufacturing machinery duty free, and reduce the tariff on woolen manufactures to 25 per cent.

A Bank Teller Has the Toothache. CHICAGO, May 22.—E. B. Bradley, teller of the Union National Bank has disappeared, and it is announced today that his accounts have been falsified. The seeming irregularity was discovered in the books last week, and the matter was to have been brought to Bradley's attention Saturday. He suddenly pleaded a toothache, and obtained permission to visit a dentist. Nothing has been seen of the teller since. He was supposed to be a young man of most exemplary habits. A wife and child mourn his absence and disgrace. The bank people say that the amount involved is "a mere bagatelle," but will not explicitly deny that it runs up into the thousands.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Today a bond offering aggregated $734,000, of which the Treasurer accepted only $4,000 four and a half at 108. The other tenders were at prices above 108 for four and a half and 127 for four per cents.

Acting Secretary Thompson has determined to discover, if possible, the author of the fraudulent bond offer and with that end in view has sent a Treasury official to Philadelphia to confer with Assistant Treasurer Page and Maris & Smith, brokers, whose name was forged to the offer. There are no new developments in the case so far today but it is intimated that detectives are on the heels of the author of the fraud and that he may be apprehended this evening or tomorrow.

A Missing Vessel.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The well known American ship Burgess is missing. She left this port on November 16th last, bound for San Francisco, with a general cargo and has not since been heard of. Under ordinary circumstances she should have made the passage in 110 to 120 days. She is out 188 days. The vessel was commanded by Capt. Brown and had a crew of twenty-six men.

Large Influx of Immigrants.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Three thousand seven hundred and thirty-five immigrants were landed at Castle Garden today. They were a mixed assortment, comprised of Germans, Swedes and Italians.

WHAT AM I TO DO!

The symptoms of biliousness are unhappily but too well known. They differ in different individuals to some extent. A bilious man is seldom a breakfast eater. Too frequently, alas, he has an excellent appetite for liquids but none for solids of a morning. His tongue will hardly bear inspection at any time; if it is not white and furred it is rough, at all events.

The digestive system is wholly out of order and Diarrhoea or Constipation may be a symptom or the two may alternate. There are often hemorrhoids or even loss of blood. There may be giddiness and often headache and acidity or flatulence and tenderness in the pit of the stomach. To correct all this if not effect a cure try Green's August Flower. It costs but a trifle and thousands attest its efficacy.

Two Freights Wrecked and Five Men in all Killed.

KANSAS CITY, May 23.—At 3 o'clock this morning a freight train on the Rock Island went through a bridge near Randolph point, crushing into a ravine twenty-five feet deep. A short time after a freight train on the Hannibal and St. Joe went through a bridge which adjoined the Rock Island and which had been weakened by the first wreck. The two engineers, a fireman and two tramps were killed.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., May 23.—Col. John A. Fagg, one of the last surviving officers of the Mexican war from North Carolina, died suddenly this evening, aged 81.
