THE REPUBLICAN TICKET.

The head of the Republican ticket nominated by the convention at Raleigh last week is about as strong as that party could have put forth. Oliver H. Dockery will go before the people as a farmer, indeed, it is said that he belongs to the Farmer's Alliance, but as this organization is not a political one, he cannot hope to gain political honors by being a member thereof.

But the Democrats must not underestimate Mr. Dockery's strength. Encouraged by the lukewarmness and independence of 1886, the Republicans have brought out the strongest of the old issue Republicans, one who stood by the party in the days of reconstruction and in the Holden Kirk war, and the question now is whether the people of the State are so much dissatisfied with the management of the Democratic party as to elect as their Governor one of the leaders of that party which bankrupted the State and openly defied the constitution and the courts. This was indeed the hour of trial for North Carolina and her people ought never to forget the part acted in that political drama by her leading men. No one who aided and abetted the enemy in that conflict or folded his arms and quietly looked on, should ever receive honors at the hands of the good, law-abiding people of North Carolina.

We are opposed to bringing up old issues, but when they are thrust upon the people they cannot do other than take up the cudgel in defense of themselves. From 1868 to 1871, was the most trying period in the history of North Carolina, save that of the civil war. Where was Oliver H. Dockery doing that period? Did he join hands with the good people of his State in denouncing the attempt to plunge it into civil war? If he neither condemned nor endorsed that unholy crusade upon the rights and liberties of the citizens, is he a fit subject to be honored with the position of Governor? No true patriot would have remained silent in that contest. One that refused to rally to the defense of the constitution and the laws at that time ought not to expect the people to rally to him now and place him in the highest position within their gift.

It is the head of the ticket that the Democrats have got to fight, and they must prepare well for the battle if they expect to succeed.

Cared by Thermometer.
 The importance attached to a clinical thermometer by those in ignorance of its office approaches a superstition. They close their lips tightly upon it. Their eyes roll wildly around the room. They believe that the tube contains some mighty gas or a metal of mysterious power. "There ain't much taste to it, docther," said one of these credulous fellows, "but I s'pose its terrible strong." Dr. — who is something of a wag, encouraged the man's faith in the occult virtues of the thing, and with remarkable results. After the first "dose," the fever abated. The "treatment" was continued, and the patient actually recovered, cured by the thermometer, administered to in this way, without further drugging. — Scribner's Magazine.

Electricity in Place of Horses.
 The Fourth Avenue street railway cars are soon to be propelled by electric motors propelled by storage batteries carried on the cars. About one fourth of the building of the 85th Street stables has been appropriated to the operations of the Julien company, and there are masons and machinists at work on the ground floor putting up steam boilers and machinery. There are also draughtsmen and designers in the second story, all earnestly engaged upon the plans that are intended soon to banish horses and confine steam to the work of turning a dynamo. The dynamo itself is already at work, and two long tables on the ground floor are covered with accumulators undergoing the charging process. The exhibition car which has been seen upon the road during many months past has been taking a rest recently while workmen were engaged in making alterations to lighten it and improve its running qualities. It has been much improved. The first ten cars have been ordered and are expected to be ready soon. The capacity of the charging room, now in preparation at 84th street, will be equal to the supply of accumulators for twenty cars. If the performance of this number of cars is found satisfactory after they have been equipped, the main stables on Fourth Avenue will be taken for the location of the dynamos as the more central and convenient points.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.
 Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Growth of American Railways.
 The evolution of the railway and of its rolling stock follows the same laws which govern the rest of the world; adaptation to circumstances decides what is fittest, and that alone survives. The scrap-heap of a great railway tells its own story. Our railways have now reached a development which is wonderful. The railways of the United States, if placed continuously, would reach more than half way to the moon. Their bridges alone would reach from New York to Liverpool. Notwithstanding the number of accidents that we read of in the daily papers, statistics show that less persons are killed annually by falling out of windows.—Scribner's Magazine.

Why She Hated Him.
 "Father, I hate that Mr. S." said a beauty the other day to her honored parent. "Why so, my daughter?" "Because he always stares at me when he meets me in the street." "But my child, how do you know that Mr. S. stares at you?" "Why, because I have repeatedly seen him do it." "Well, Julia, don't you look at the impudent man again when you meet him. Remember that it always takes two pairs of eyes to make a perfect stare."

No Christian has a right to be regardless of his reputation, for not himself alone is concerned. He may imagine it matters little for him what men may think, since God knows; but, in so far as men do him justice, they fail to render that glory to God which his good works ought to secure; and so, out of regard for the cause with which he is identified, he should not suffer himself to be misunderstood, or misrepresented, when it can be avoided.

ITS USE FOR KIDNEYS.
 JESSE, GA., May 26, 1887.
 I have been suffering from kidney disease for a month past, and the pain in my back was very severe. My occupation requires a good deal of writing at night, and I suffered all the time. I saw one man who said he was cured by using Botanic Blood Balm (B. B. B.) and I commenced using it, and the pain is a great deal less. I have only used two bottles and believe I will effect a cure by the use of a few more bottles. Yours respectfully, J. COLEMAN.

The Century Magazine
 With the November, 1887, issue The Century commences its thirty-fifth volume with a regular circulation of almost 250,000. The war Papers and the Life of Lincoln increased its monthly edition by 100,000. The latter history having recounted the events of Lincoln's early years, and given the necessary survey of the political condition of the country, reaches a new period, with which his secretaries were most immediately acquainted under the captain
 Lincoln in the War
 the writers now enter on the more important part of their narrative, viz: the early years of the War and President Lincoln's part therein.
 Supplementary War Papers, following the "battle series" by distinguished generals, will describe interesting features of army life, tunneling from Libby, narratives of personal adventure, etc. General Sherman will write on "The Grand Strategy of the War."
 Kennan on Siberia.
 Except the Life of Lincoln and the War Articles, no more important series has ever been undertaken by The Century than this of Mr. Kennan's. With the previous preparation of four years' travel and study in Russia and Siberia, the author undertook a journey of 15,000 miles for the special investigation here required. An introduction from the Russian Minister of the Interior admitted him to the principal mines and prisons, where he became acquainted with some three hundred State exiles—Liberals, Nihilists, and others—and the series will be a startling as well as accurate revelation of the exile system. The many illustrations by the artist and photographer, Mr. George A. Frost, who accompanied the author, will add greatly to the value of the articles.
 A Novel by Eggleston, with illustrations will run through the year. Shorter novels will follow by Cable and Stockton. Shorter fictions will appear every month.
 Miscellaneous Features, will comprise several illustrated articles on Ireland, by Charles De Kay; papers touching the field of the Sunday-School. Lessons, illustrated by E. L. Wilson; wild Western life, by Theodore Roosevelt; the English Cathedrals, by Mrs. van Rensselaer; with illustrations by Pennell; Dr. Buckley's valuable papers on Drama, Spiritualism, and Clairvoyance; essays in criticism, art, travel, and biography poems, cartoons, etc.
 By a special offer the numbers for the past year (containing the Lincoln history) may be secured with the year's subscription from November, 1887, twenty-four issues in all, for $1.00, or with the past year's subscription for $1.25.
