Quite a number of gentlemen from Pamlico and Beaufort counties were in the city yesterday on their return from the State convention. They of course feel proud of their candidate for Governor, having stuck by him solidly from first to last.

Greensboro Female College turns out thirty-two graduates this year, the largest class in the history of the College, and from this class Miss Hattie L. Dail of this city won the honor of valedictorian. Our New Berne girls gene raily carry off the honors at school.

The JOURNAL is under obligations to Miss Mary Bryan, the efficient and obliging operator of the W. U. T. Co. in this city, for keeping the office open later at night than usual while the State Convention was in session. By this we were able to give the proceedings of the Convention up to 11 p.m. of the first day. Our readers doubtless appreciate the service also.

That is a unique sign on Broad street painted by Berry. It is suspended in front of E. B. Hackburn's store and is an imitation of a barrel of Wylie, Smith & Co.'s family roller patent flour. The brand of the flour is shown on the head ; on the side is a tub of best butter "E. B. H." and the figure of a giant looking man robed with the stars and stripes. holding high in one hand the scales of justice while the other clasps a bar running diagonally across the barrel with the words "Hackburn the Grocer." It is a neat job and indicates the location of a well kept family grocery slore.

. . The Musicale.

Lovers of fine music, and admirers of the beautiful, enjoyed a double feast at the Musicale given by Miss Hatchie Harrison and her pupils at the theatre on last Wednesday evening. The taste ful arrangement of a profusion of lovely flowers had transformed the stage into a ministure fairy land, on which the eve might rest with continuous delight while the ear was ravished with strains of sweetest melody

In glancing over the program, we were surprised to find the names of several difficult pieces of instrumental music by the best classical composers. We were still surprised to find that

Miss Harrison's pupils had not only mastered but could execute them with the boiler were all blown into the wa so much taste and skill The ' Sonata Pathetique," Beethoven, and "Ballet Rubenstein, deserve special mention. Miss Daniels has acquired in their lives were Joseph Hadpin, fire quarter of eight o'clock consisting of a remarkable degree that subtle delisermon on the real presence of Christ cacy of touch and expression so neces- liam Tierney, Cincinnate George Crate, sary to the proper rendering of these musical gems. Indeed, all the young wine, Vesper chant and the benediction ladies did exceedingly well, and gave evidence of fine musical talent and

While all their much faithful study pieces were not adapted to popular con eart purposes, they were of the highest order of music, and were thoroughly sppreciated by the well-trained musica If the performance of her pupils on this occasion is an exponent of Miss Harrison's ability and fidelity as a teacher, she may justly be placed in the first rank of profession, and New Berne should not be slow to accord both to herself and to them the appreciation end encouragement they so well deserve.

Miss Harrison was fortunate in being able to add to the evening's entertain-ment some of our well-known, home, vocal talent, and especially in securing the presence of Miss Southgate from Norfolk. We have rarely heard a more finely cultivated voice, and the choice selections with which she favored the audience elicited the most hearty ap-plause. Miss Marks' well rendered recitations gave variety to the entertainment and was loudly encored. Altogether this Musicale was one of those high-toned, enjoyable entertainments we could wish it our privilege more frequently to attend. A. C.
