One of the large St. Bernard dogs belonging to Mr. J. A. Patterson, which weighs about one hundred and sixty-five pounds, leaped from the third story of the Weinstein building, about fifty feet from the ground, yesterday landing in Pollock street. The limb of a tree was in the course of the leap and broke the force of the fall and perhaps saved bones from being broken. The dog does not seem to be hurt seriously.

A Good Hotel.
We call attention to the advertisement in this issue. Our old friend Will G. Humphrey of Goldsboro is manager and any of our Eastern friends who stop there will be made to feel at home. Read the advertisement and see what is offered.

A Good Yield of Beans.
Maj. Denbison shipped on yesterday fourteen boxes of beans picked from a little patch in his garden. He thinks as many more will be gathered from the same vines before the season ends. Apropos to this we heard an experienced hand at estimating say that he thought that at least ten thousand boxes of beans would be grown within the corporate limits of the city this season. And this all besides lots of other vegetables for table use.

THE GATHERING AT ST. LOUIS

IMMENSE CROWD

NO NOMINATION YET

SPECIAL JOURNAL
St. Louis, June 5.—The Democratic National Convention assembled here today at noon. An immense crowd was present. Hon. Henry Watterson was elected permanent chairman. The convention took a recess without a ballot on transacting any business. Important business will be transacted tomorrow.

Shooting Tournament.
At a regular meeting of the Craven County Gun Club held last night a committee was appointed to complete arrangements for the shooting tournament to be held at Morehead City this summer.

Telephone Extension.
A company has been organized and arrangements perfected to extend a telephone line from Pollockville to Mayeville in Johnston county, and to Stella in Carteret county. We learn that work has already begun on the line, and the probabilities are it will be further extended to Lakeville in Onslow county.

The Prohibition Election.
Seventy-seven North Carolina voters on the question of prohibition on Monday with the following results: for us we have four.

Kinston, ward for license by 26 majority, Raleigh by 141 majority, Pittsboro by 7, Warrenton by 72, Charlotte by 69, Statesville by 115, Asheville by 250.

Durham, ward against license by 2 majority, Concord by 105, Monroe by 93, Washington by 12.

Persons.
Mrs. Jas. E. Taylor and her sister Miss Mollie Dickerson left on the New Bern yesterday for New York where they will spend the summer.

Mrs. Appleton Oaksmith and Mrs. Elizabeth Oakes Smith arrived from Hollywood yesterday morning. Mrs. Oaksmith, we learn, is taking steps to complete the handsome residence on the corner of Pollock and East Front streets that was under way by Capt. Oaksmith.

Charles R. Thomas, Jr., Esq., of Beaufort, is in the city.

Home Raised Stock.
We find the following on the Asheville Citizen, and while it is a satisfaction to our people to know that the money paid for their teams does not go out of the State, yet it would be more so if it could be kept in the respective counties that buy the teams. Why can't our people raise as fine horses and mules in Craven, Pamlico and Jones? in fact in any of the eastern counties as Jackson or any other of the western counties? If not, why not?

Until we can do that however we hope Capt. Enloe will continue to bring on his stock which we think has given the best of satisfaction to the purchasers and keep the money in the State.

Mr. W. A. Enloe, of Jackson, who had been here for some days—returning home yesterday—informed us that for the past three years he had been in the habit of spending the winters at New Bern, where he had established an agency for the sale of home-raised horses and mules. They are raised in Jackson county, and he sells about one hundred each season. This brings about $10,000 into the county that produces them, and keeps that much money at home or in the State which otherwise would go to Kentucky or Tennessee.

The Marshal Wanted in the 5th Ward.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—As we have neither seen nor heard of the city marshal in the ward since he left the office, we should like to know what has become of him. He has been engaged in the arduous task of superintending the police guard at the station house. If he only had sense enough to ride around in the city "turn out" to the frog pond before the flood gates we shall be very glad to see him. He has had a very good time of it, but he has not seen the city marshal since he left the office. He has been engaged in the arduous task of superintending the police guard at the station house. A Juvenile Cyclone.
SUFFOLK, Va., June 2.—The bad storm (a real juvenile cyclone) Wednesday evening injured our Lower Parish farmers to some extent. All the crops were beaten down considerably, weak buildings torn down, and trees. The outer buildings of Mrs. Boston's farm, occupied by Messrs. G. A. and W. Friebee, our model farmers, were completely demolished, a large tree falling on the smokehouse, which was filled with barrels, were all crushed up. The blow spayed of these gentlemen were blown about quite badly, and nearly all the cows killed. Sad to tell that the watermelon are ruined.

The agitation against the payment of titles at British Wars is still reaching the military was called out yesterday and dispersed the crowd that had gathered. No one was injured.

June 5.—The first publication of the authorized publication of the Holy Scriptures in the new Italian code, His Holiness says:—what causes us the greatest pain is the desire to maintain at all hazards the unity between the Pope and Italy, which from 1870 has not been terminated. The desire expressed by the States was against the Holy Scriptures and a refusal to sign the same.
