At the meeting of the city council last night Dr. Slover's resignation was accepted and F. Ulrich was elected to fill the vacancy. A good selection.

A slight change has been made in the mixed freight and passenger train on the A. & N. C. R. The corrected schedule will appear tomorrow.

Read carefully the new schedule of the Old Dominion Steamship Company which appears in another column. Sailing hour 2 p. m. Sailing days Tuesdays and Fridays.

The Sunday School of St. Paul's Catholic Church will picnic down Neuse river today on the steamer Carolina. The steamer will leave wharf at the foot of Craven street at 9 a. m. Thanks for an invitation.

Errata.
In our news yesterday morning from St. Louis Watterston was reported as permanent chairman of the convention. This was an error, he is chairman of the committee on resolutions.

Commissioners of Carteret County.
The Justices of Carteret county at their regular annual meeting on the first Monday in June, reduced the number of county commissioners from five to three and elected for the new board, W. L. Arendell, John B. Russell and John S. Smith.

No News.
We made an effort to get the news from the St. Louis Convention but have almost signally failed. We wired the managers of the W. U. T. Co. at Richmond for terms by which we could get the dispatches, but the answer came that they could not be furnished. We then tried Raleigh but up to 11 o'clock last night could get nothing. The Press Association seems to have control of the matter.

Annual Excursion.
The Y. M. C. A. have decided on Tuesday, the 19th, for having their annual excursion. They have chartered one of the best river steamers and will leave early so as to go as far up the Trent as is practicable. They are going to prepare everything as far as possible to make it an enjoyable trip. There will be a luncheon counter on board, a lemonade stand, ice, etc. It is probable that the band will go and an organ will be taken to make it as pleasant as possible. The fare has been put at the low figure of 50 cents for the round trip. Tickets can be obtained at the drug store of Col. Jordan, H. L. Hall's book store, or from members of the Association.

Bridge Across Neuse River.

One of our leading business men urges upon the Board of Commissioners at a bridge across Neuse river until its construction is assured. We are ready and willing. Already there is manifestly more interest, being taken in the matter than ever before. The county is gradually reducing its debt and taxes from which the people have suffered long and patiently and they dislike very much to incur other obligations until they are free from debt. But a bridge across Neuse river is of more than ordinary importance. Did our merchants ever think of the large amount of trade that the villages and country stores are drawing from them on account of the difficulty in crossing Neuse river? Have the people of other sections of the county thought of the inconvenience and expense their countrymen on the north side of Neuse river have to bear year after year in getting to market and to the courts? And have they all thought of the thousands of acres of good lands in that part of the county that remain undeveloped because of the difficulty in reaching a market? It is time these things were seriously considered.

While there may be hope that the twelve hundred and ninety three shares of stock in the A. & N. C. R. held by the county may some day in the distant future become a source of revenue to the county, still the time when the happy exhibition of things will be reached is so indefinite and uncertain. So rather than put another debt upon the county for a bridge, we think it decidedly better to dispose of the stock just so soon as it will bring money enough to build a bridge across Neuse river.

County Finances.

It is refreshing and encouraging to the people of this county that they can always get an insight into the condition of their finances. Sheriff Stinson submits at each monthly meeting of the board of county commissioners a sworn statement of the amount of taxes collected during the month and how he has disposed of it. Mr. Isaac Patterson, the treasurer, posts at the court house door the first Monday in each month an itemized statement of his receipts and disbursements as the law requires, so that every tax payer can learn what has been done with his money. This is in accordance with law, and the law is a just and wise one for every tax payer has a right to know what has been done with the money he has contributed for the support of the government.

Let these officers continue to comply with the law and disburse the funds of the county in an open handed, honest, straightforward way and they are bound to command the respect of all good citizens. It is hoped that the incoming board of commissioners will be able to make arrangements to run the county expenses upon a cash basis and thereby save considerable in the sum total of current expenses. The present board has been somewhat embarrassed by injunctions which prevented the collection of a special tax for the completion of the court house and the building and repairing of bridges, consequently much of the county work had to be done on credit, and doubtless credit prices were charged.

Dead Body in Trent River.

A rumor has been current in the community for sometime that parties bringing a raft of timber down Trent river several weeks ago discovered the dead body of a man. It was first thought that the parties were mistaken, that it was the carcass of a dead sheep or hog instead of a man. But the report comes again that it is the body of a man, and Mr. J. T. Heath, the mail carrier between this city and Trenton, informs us that he has been near enough to examine and knows that it is the body of a man.

Where is the coroner of Jones county? Why don't he go down and investigate the matter. Surely human life is not of such little importance that the dead body of a man is permitted to remain in the river for weeks without an investigation. Under the circumstances it is to be hoped that the coroner has not received information of the finding of the body, for it would be inexcusable negligence if he had failed to take steps to investigate this matter after it had been reported to him.

The following is the score of Craven County Gun Club, June 6. Fifteen rounds.

D. S. Jones 22
Chas. S. Bell 19
F. B. Lane 11
E. P. Smith 10
Geo. Dunn 7

Jas. Dees Captain.

Steamer Movements.

The Eaglet of the E. C. D. line sailed yesterday afternoon with the heaviest cargo taken out by one of the vessels of this line. It consisted of nearly one hundred thousand feet of lumber, shingles, naval stores, miscellaneous freight of various kinds, a thousand packages of truck, principally potatoes, and amounted to three hundred tons. The vessel of this line will arrive today.

The Superior Court.

Court convened at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning.

The jury in case of Mace vs. Providence Life Association returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff.

The calendar set for the day was taken up.

McComb vs. Pennesson. Juror withdrawn and a mistrial ordered.

Jones vs. Mourning. A suit to recover a raft of timber taken from the lands of plaintiff was decided in favor of the plaintiff.

The other cases on the calendar were continued.

The motion docket was called and court adjourned for the term.

Personal.

Dr. Charles Duffy, of Catawba Lake, Swain county, arrived yesterday. He is just out of a severe spell of sickness and his many friends in this city are glad to see him looking well. He gives a good report of the condition of the Quaker bridge road.

Rodolph Duffy, Esq., of Onslow, is in the city.

John S. Long, Esq., left for La Grange yesterday morning where he delivered the address before the Washington Literary Society of the Davis School. We know he gave them something worth hearing, and we expect a good report from him.

Rev. H. W. Battle left yesterday morning for Oxford where he delivers the address before the female seminary. He is a man of eloquence and power and will entertain the visitors as well as the students at the closing exercises.

Learn the Boys a Trade.

Elsewhere we publish an article on a very timely subject, one worthy the serious consideration of all who have boys growing up without proper training for battling with the world. Our correspondent's stranger is a little mistaken, however, when he says there are no young white men in New Bern learning a trade. If he had gone down to Crabtree & Co's and Edwards' machine shops he would have found several young white men engaged in a very useful trade. But there is no denying the fact that parents are making a big mistake in not having their boys learn a trade. The writer knows of a boy just twenty years old who began a trade when eleven years old. During the time he has obtained a fair education, is almost master of his trade and can make a living in any city in the United States. If all his time had been devoted to books he would very likely have been dependent upon his parents for assistance even after he had obtained his majority. But now he is able to carve his own way and obtain all the education which his ambition desires.

Parents, have your boys learn a trade whether they like it or not. If they live, the time will come when they will thank you for it.

Stonewall Items.

The Justices of the Peace and Board of county commissioners met in the court house in Bayboro on the 4th inst., in joint session, as required by law. The first business transacted, after being called to order by J. S. Lane chairman, was to elect a chairman for the ensuing year. The present chairman was put in nomination by Jno. B. Martin and was unanimously elected. The following board of county commissioners were unanimously elected: C. H. Fowler, Sam Campen and H. J. Reel, for the ensuing year. W. T. Caho, Jas. F. Brinson and Geo. Dees, the present finance committee, were re-elected for another term, and the present Board of Education were re-elected for another term. One dollar and fifteen cents on the hundred dollars valuation was assessed for all purposes, county, State and special. The report made by the finance committee was satisfactory, it appearing that the affairs of the officers of the county were correct.

Portraits.

Learn a Trade.

At this season when school ends and the year the young men ought to review their work done, they should not fail to consider the education they should receive. The education they should receive should be of a practical nature, and should be of such a nature that they should be able to support themselves when they leave school. ### Kinston Items.

Mr. A. E. Vause was in town Saturday. He says it has been too wet at Pollockville to haul boiler, retarding the steam mill work very much.

A prohibition entertainment, rich and rare, was given at Worth's school house on last Saturday night. Two classes of young persons were formed to compete for silver medals given by Mr. Demorest through the National Bureau. Miss Sarah Hartfield and Miss Eunice Worth were successful. Those entertainments will be given from time to time.

The Local Option election in Kinston last Monday went wet by a majority. The anti polled their full strength, while many of our prominent prohibitionists staid away from the polls and did not touch the burden with so much as a little finger. The principal reason given was that they feared it would hurt politics if they voted, and now several who did vote say they are sure that not voting will effect politics very seriously.

Some of the white Democrats who were working for license were very intimate with the colored voters, so much so that they attracted the close and constant attention of a prominent Republican. He held the right till the naked eye could no longer endure and put on smoked glasses. The sight was still painful and he turned over the glasses to Chabbege Cox and left Mr. Cox vouchers for the truthfulness of this item.

It has been understood for years in Pink Hill township that all crops not clear of grass on the second Saturday in June should be rented out on that day to the highest bidder. The following has been posted up at the new postoffice: "Notice is hereby given that the commissioners of Lenoir county will be petitioned on the first Monday in June to grant an injunction forbidding the renting out of grassy crops until the third Saturday in June on account of rainy weather. Many farmers."

Wiley Lowrey's building, which he occupied as a store and residence, burned Friday night. About four o'clock the alarm sounded, but the building was too well under way to be put out when the people gathered. It is generally believed that kerosene was thrown into the cook room and the building set on fire by the same enemy. A part of the stock and furniture was saved. There was not any insurance on the building or contents. The loss is estimated from a thousand to fifteen hundred dollars. Several who reached the fire early express the opinion that a good engine and fire company could have saved the main building. Should we not invest before we suffer severely by a great fire.

REDMOND'S Ginger Ale, Lemon Soda, etc., equal to imported. JAMES REDMOND.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Paris, June 4.—Boulianger took the first step in Parliament today for the revision of the Constitution. He at first at the Chamber was without incident. He gave notice to the Chamber that he would submit a proposal for a revision of the constitution and would demand urgency therefore. He read the preamble stating that events which had produced so many manifestations in his favor compelled him to call attention to the sufferings of the country, and to the intense crises which threatened to become very serious. He declared himself no longer satisfied with the Constitution of 1875 which was necessary to every well governed country. This statement met with loud dissent.

Boulianger continued. The republic is now governed by a group of a state of affairs perilous to our country. We are not republicans, bearing liberty and justice for all. Renewed steps of the kind. My name continues to be made the subject of manifestations. It is an honor for me that several opinions have been expressed in this confidence. These opinions are viewed by patriotic men whose hearts are sore. Proteles from Opportunist Parliamentarians have exhibited culpable cupidity. It has provoked the good will of the nation. Here Boulianger was interrupted by applause from the right and sections of the extreme left and continuing cries of dissent from other parts of the Chamber. The general who had preceded the interruption went on to say that the present system ought to be completely reformed. Revision of the constitution was the only effectual way to take the government from the hands of the present class. How could Ministers have so easily national policy be permanent which rested upon parliamentary cabinets and groups pursuing nothing but selfish interests. It was not necessary to Ministers had drawn many of the public treasury orders were not to be paid. At this point the general was again interrupted by cries of dissent and the President of the Chamber asked him to withdraw his statement. Then Boulianger declared that he had no intention of attacking the present Ministers. This declaration was received with cries of "name names" and many protests. Continuing then Boulianger asked whether a president for the republic was really a necessity and whether France could not do as well without a President.

The President of the Chamber then addressed then Boulianger that it was time to bring his speech to a close.

The general in conclusion said that France reconstituted could promise a continuity of her foreign relations. Supported by a powerful army, she would become the best guarantee for the peace of Europe. The President of the Chamber could not give such a constitution. He then read his motion for a revision of the constitution with a dissolution of the Parliament.

General Sheridan's Condition.

WASHINGTON, June 5. 4:45 p.m.—Gen Sheridan has slept all the morning. There have been two slight hemorrhages from the stomach, which have not apparently weakened him. His pulse is 105 and his respiration easy. There is but little cough, with local expectoration. The excretion from the kidneys, the chemical analysis shows to be normal.
