A New Bernian Dead.

We copy the notice below from the News and Observer:

The sad news was received here yesterday of the death of Banner Elk, Wataga county, Sunday, the 10th inst., of Rev. George Badger Wetmore, the well known Episcopal minister. Mr. Wetmore was in his 65th year. He was born in New Berne, N. C. When a boy his parents moved to Raleigh, and here he spent most of his youth. He was a nephew of Hon. George E. Badger and read law with him before going into the ministry. He was pastor of St. Andrew's and Christ churches in Rowan county and St. James' in Iredell for 30 years. He was a prominent and effective temperance worker in the State. He leaves four sons and four daughters, one of the former being our esteemed fellow citizen, Mr. W. H. Wetmore.

Personal.

Prof. Geo. T. Farnell and Rev. Mr. Love of Pamlico arrived yesterday en route for the Teachers' Assembly. Mr. Farnell has been unanimously elected by the board of trustees as principal of the school which he has so successfully conducted during the past year.

Col. S. B. Taylor and daughter, Miss Annie, of Osharins Lake arrived yesterday and left last night for the Teachers' Assembly.

Mrs. J. E. B. Stuart, widow of the famous Confederate cavalry commander is at Morehead City.

Prof. Joseph Kinsey and Mrs. Kinsey of Kinsey School, LaGrange, passed down for Morehead City last night.

Mrs. D. T. Carraway with her sons Thomas and James left yesterday for Round Knob where they will spend the heated term.

Dr. D. H. Abbott and Mrs. Abbott of Vandemere arrived yesterday.

J. W. Shepard, Esq. of Pollockville arrived yesterday.

W. T. Caho, Esq. of Pamlico arrived yesterday on his way to the Teachers' Assembly.

A Re-Survey of Trent River.

We suggest to Hon. F. M. Simmons to make an effort, if he has not already done so, to have a new survey of Trent river and a new estimate made for improving. When the first move was made for the improvement of this stream it was considered doubtful as to whether much practical good would result. People would ridicule the idea of ever running a steamboat to Trenton, and the engineer who first made the survey must have had doubt about the results or he would have recommended one hundred and fifty thousand dollars instead of thirty thousand. The result has exceeded the expectations of the most sanguine advocates of the first appropriation. Steamboats now make regular trips to Trenton the year round, and the commerce carried on on this magnificent river, once used only for fishing and floating turpentine rafts to market, is getting to be considerable. The increase of commerce demands larger and swifter boats, and the river is capable of being made navigable many miles above Trenton.

For these reasons a re-survey and new estimate ought to be made. One hundred thousand dollars might be profitably spent on this river, which is beyond dispute one of the finest small streams in the whole country. The engineer who first made the survey would be astonished at the results of the small expenditures that have been made, and could with safety and consistency with his duty after a re-survey, recommend much larger appropriations than formerly.

Craven County Politics.

The young Democracy of Craven is organizing for work for the success of their State and National tickets, and we presume as soon as the Republicans get out their National ticket, they too will begin to organize.

But what shall we do about our county and legislative ticket? The same necessity that existed two years ago for Democratic representation in Congress and in the General Assembly exists today. Let a thorough examination be made, and a comparison instituted, between the work of the county officers put in by the coalition movement and their predecessors, and if there has been no improvement let the old set come back. A better administration was promised the people and it ought to be shown where they have had it.

The good effects of having Mr. Simmons in Congress have been felt throughout the district. It is of the utmost importance that he be returned. Good would have resulted to this county had our members of the General Assembly gone untrammelled and been permitted to have remained there.

Now the question is, will the Democrats of the county unite as one man and endeavor to help themselves, or will they simply rally around the State and National tickets as they have always done and trust to a Democratic Legislature and a Democratic Governor to do with us just as they see fit? It strikes us that the more manly course and one that will make us more deserving in the eyes of the public, is to try to do something for ourselves. If the Democrats of Craven once thoroughly make up their minds that they will have a voice in who shall be county officers and who shall represent them in the General Assembly they will accomplish something that will redound to their benefit.

Notes from Morehead City.

June 19th, 1888.

EDITOR JOURNAL: The crowd increases and the big Atlantic is full. The train tonight brings upwards of one hundred guests, and cots are now being placed in the parlors. Among the arrivals we note Mrs. Gen. J. E. B. Stuart, Principal of Va. Female Institute, Stanton, Va.

Judge Fowle (our next Governor) Chief Justice Smith, and many other distinguished people are here.

The first German of the season was danced tonight, and the hotel presents a brilliant spectacle.

Prof. Frank Beard, the inimitable chalk talk humorist, delighted a crowded house in the Assembly tonight.

A large number of New Bernians came down on the excursion train today.

Miss Ella E. Ives addresses the Assembly on Friday morning—subject, "Music in the School and Home." We hope to see many New Bernians present on that day.

This is by far the most successful meeting of the Assembly.

THE CHICAGO CONVENTION

The Work Progressing Slowly

The National Republican Convention convened in Chicago Tuesday, and after a temporary organization adjourned until 12 o'clock yesterday. J. M. Thurston, of Nebraska, who was selected as temporary chairman, was vigorously opposed by the Kansas delegates, but they were finally squelched, and the regular business proceeded with. In the opening speeches the names of the several Presidential candidates were loudly cheered, while that of Blaine was received uproariously. Old Fred Douglass was accorded unusual honors, and old John Brown was lovingly remembered.

There was quite a spat between Mahone and John S. Wise over the Virginia contest. The chair announced that the Mahone delegation had been placed upon the roll as prima facie entitled to seats. Mr. Wise made a speech against the ruling, declaring that it was the same old story that had been going on in Virginia for years. The decision was always in favor of the plaintiff. William Mahone's name was sent up by William Mahone to William Mahone to decide whether William Mahone was a delegate or not. He was willing to trust to the fairness of the Republican party from other States of the Union outside of Virginia, but he did not want William Mahone to remain on the committee on credentials and vote on his own case and prejudice the Mahone camp, claiming that he represented ninety per cent. of the Republicans of Virginia.

He was prepared to show that the men who were opposed to him had no standing in the party. Contesting delegates at large were chosen by a bolting convention, consisting of eighty-one members from nearly seven hundred members of the regular convention. The contests of the district delegates were upon equally ridiculous grounds. In one case the convention which selected the contestant was called by three men who constituted the convention, one of them took the chair, and the other was made secretary, and the third the floor.

Mr. Wise, who was on the platform, here caused a laugh by exclaiming, "Yes, and you took the result."

Gen. Mahone proceeded to give a sketch of the troubles of the party in Virginia and was proceeding with an appeal that the Convention should stand by the regular party men in his State.

At this point Mr. Wise broke in energetically with the declaration, "I charge you with frauds by which I was cheated out of my contest."

"Then," retorted General Mahone, "Your charge is as false as you are foul."

"I will put the stamp where it belongs," fired back Wise.

After voting down a motion to refer the whole matter to the committee on credentials the Convention adjourned to 12 o'clock Wednesday.

CHICAGO, June 20.—Convention was called to order at 12:30 by Chairman Thurston. Estee of California was chosen permanent chairman, after which the Convention adjourned to 8:30 p. m. Balloting will hardly begin before tomorrow.

National League of Democratic Clubs.

Organizations joining the National League of Democratic Clubs have heretofore been required to subscribe to a specific declaration of principles. These principles having been in substance incorporated in the St. Louis platform, the Executive Committee of the League, at its special meeting in New York on June 15, voted to admit all political clubs which subscribe to that platform and support the Democratic nominees.

There is a great rush for accommodations at Baltimore, where many thousand visitors are expected during Convention week. Clubs desiring accommodations or information as to reduced railroad fares, hotel rates, etc., should apply at once to the Citizens' Committee, Robert Crain, Secretary, 8 West Fayette street, Baltimore. Credentials should also be sent to that address before the convention. Each club admitted to the League is entitled to at least five delegates.

Clubs desiring representation should be enrolled without delay, so that their delegates may obtain admittance at the opening of the convention. Application for admission to the League should be made to the secretary, Edward B. Whitney, 67 Wall street, New York city.

The Baltimore convention will open at noon on July 4, in Ford's Opera House and will last at least two days. Nearly all the States will be represented. A few, as Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois, have already organized State Leagues, which send delegates at large. The others will organize themselves on the spot in Baltimore. Besides setting the permanent organization of the club system in the United States, the convention will be addressed by leading speakers from Washington.

Kinston Items.

Mr. Jones of LaGrange is making stencil plates in our town.

Dr. R. H. Lewis was summoned from the Teachers' Assembly to Weldon on Monday by the death of his brother.

Black, a colored man who committed murder near Dover a few years ago, is reported at large in the woods north of Kinston.

Mrs. S. R. Dixon of Greene county, left Tuesday morning for Troy, N. C., to visit her daughter, Mrs. R. W. Stancil.

Mr. Vaughan spent Sunday with his family and returned to Raleigh on Monday where he is engaged in the bakery business.

J. W. Granger, Esq. left for Boston Tuesday morning to accompany Miss Capicola on her return from the governor's victory of Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Harpole's little child died on Thursday last week and was buried in the cemetery on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. McKay an elderly lady of the Neck township, died on Monday. We have not learned any of the particulars connected with her death.

Jesse Bright the 60 year old blind of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Brights died Monday night at their residence near the iron bridge and was buried Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. A. J. Hester, Esq. of a reputation at the North Carolina bar, who was from town on Monday, June 19th, has left a wife and child and returned to his departure.

Departed this city on Wednesday, June 20th, Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, nee Bell, of the First Baptist Church. She had been over 85 years old and had been afflicted with a longer and better life than most.

Mrs. M. M. Mearns has recently returned home from a year's sojourn where she has been teaching music in connection with Mrs. Travis's school. Her husband gave a very interesting and interesting account on June 19th.

Mr. J. I. Barnes was a candidate for turned from an extended period among the Christian churches of America and Hyde counties, left on his return on Friday to visit his family in the central part of the State.

Mr. H. C. Bailey, Esq. of the law office of the Green and getting their beds made in that condition.

Daniel Frazier, a colored man, who lives at the crossing near Tracy's swamp, had stolen from him on Saturday night about 50 lbs. of home made pork and two bushels of corn. He thinks he tracked the thief to the latter's Monday morning, but has not yet found him.

A number of our citizens who have lately taken a trip through the country express their regretful surprise to see the crops looking so well, and in excellent condition. They say they are small general opinion is that good seasons will yield a crop much above the average.

Mr. R. A. Swain, the feather renovator, has moved his machine to Snow Hill. He has done the business in this county. With four agents remaining, he has renovated about 60 beds, working 20 days. The proprietor and his agents are an energetic and ever company of young men.

Among the many reforms needed in our laws is one forbidding the contractor of a mail route, submitting to other parties, which would break up the present system of speculation. The four routes leading from the river were awarded to Henry C. Kemp, Carrollton, Ga., and Z. T. Carpenter, Washington, D. C. After abolishing living rates they submit to our people at starvation prices.

On Thursday morning the steamer Kinston got stuck on the sand a few miles below Kinston. The water was falling rapidly, and it was soon landed high and dry. At the last hearing they were about to get this excellent boat back into its natural element, and it is hoped it will not again tarnish its fair name by going astray, but be content to follow the even tenor of its way. The steamer Blanche has been keeping up the regular schedule of the Kinston.

Judge Fowle was greeted on Monday afternoon by a large crowd. Our colored (Republican) band met in front of the depot. The music was the signal for the assembling of the people, and a number of ladies as well as gentlemen, and not a few colored citizens, gathered "to see what kind of a Fowle he is, and hear his speech." As the train rolled in the music gave place to shouts for Fowle, who promptly appeared on the steps of the car and was introduced by J. C. Kennedy, Esq. He crowded into the few minutes of time so happy periods about Gov. Caswell, Grover Cleveland, Thurman, Lenoir Democrat and the 55-100 of a vote for Fowle—cheers as the train leaves.

FOREIGN NEWS.

VIENNA, June 18.—Viennese opinions of Emperor William's proclamation are not very favorable.

The Nue Freie Presse, in a cautious article, says: "Frederick, as a victorious general, had no need of boasting; William, on the other hand, was only a boy when the great battles which established the German Empire were fought."

The Tagblatt thinks that Germany's loss is irreparable, and says: "Frederick aspired to freedom and progress. The new Emperor's manifesto is an eulogy of militarism, such as has rarely been seen."

The Freidenblatt says: "It hopes that Emperor William's only intention is to strengthen the warlike character of the army and establish order and maintain peace."

N. C. TEACHERS' ASSEMBLY

Fourth Day.

MOREHEAD CITY, June 19.

Just before the regular business began, Judge Fowle was introduced to the assembly by Pres. Alderman. He made a ringing speech and enlarged upon the nobility of the teacher's profession. His happy illustrations brought forth frequent applause, and at the close he was vociferously applauded.

The morning speech in the assembly was made by Rev. Dr. Thos. Hume of the University—subject, "The Higher Education of Women." He spoke of its imperative necessity, and of the need of a complete and rounded education of the fair sex. The address was very well received indeed, and elicited the unanimous verdict of the audience in favor of the proposition stated and argued. Further discussion on this topic was carried on by Dr. A. D. Mayo, Major S. M. Finger, Prof. D. M. Iyer, Prof. George T. Winston, and others.

Prof. Frank Beard gave another one of his very charming entertainments, "Chalk Talk." He is a master of his work and has the rare gift of sifting first class humor all through it.

Dr. R. H. Lewis of Raleigh, by letter, was present.
