YELLOW FEVER QUARANTINED. Although poor old New Berne has received ridicule and abuse from her sister towns, she is still prepared to say there is not nor has there been one case of yellow fever this season and with the present prevention of the physicians and city council, with the assistance of the proprietor of the Only Cash Store in North Carolina, at Humphrey & Howard's old stand in New Berne, there will not be. Hence the proprietor, Hill Humphrey, wishes to say to the people of Eastern North Carolina they need not hesitate to visit New Berne, that his quarantine against high prices is a protection for all.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO CONSUMERS. Having put my delivery wagon on the street, I am now in a position to furnish all my customers with FINEST CLASS Groceries at a cut price and a very small profit. I defy competition, warrant my goods, and only ask a trial to convince the most doubtful. Now some of my friends say that my advertising and my wagon don't pay me (with my small profit), and that I will soon break. Let me be the best judge of that. I am still paying 100 cents on the dollar, my property is in my own name, and I am determined to sell good groceries cheap.

Very respectfully,
THE GROCER, E. B. HACKBURN.

The joint debate between Fowle and Dockery is absorbing interest. Both claim the victory, but the prisoners taken show that the Republicans were routed.

On last Wednesday Senator Reagan, of Texas, introduced a bill to place imported jute bagging on the free list, which was referred to the committee on finance.

ACCORDING to latest advices received at the headquarters of the National Democratic Committee the formation of campaign clubs throughout the country is going on with remarkable rapidity.

The Charlotte Chronicle, a favorite with the JOURNAL and consequently one of the best dailies in the State, has changed hands. Mr. Hemby retiring and Mr. Chalk taking his place. Both gentlemen have our sincere regards and best wishes.

In Congress for sale? The Sun's London dispatch says: The trunk money here say they will spend money enough to buy Congress, if necessary, to defeat any legislation hostile to their interests in connection with the transit trade of the States. We don't know how far it will be done in the future, but the liberty of saying that so long as Grover Cleveland is President of the United States, Congress will not be for sale.

THE Wilmington Star says: "We notice in the public prints that there are now three 'silver-tongued' orators in North Carolina. As we have some recollection that we first applied this descriptive phrase to Fowle, we suggest that golden-mouthed and honey-gifted be applied to the other two and let Fowle enjoy alone the prefix. He must mend his place or he will not be entitled longer to the place.

We like compliments when they are gracefully paid, and even when they are wrung from reluctant opponents they fall as balm, albeit, they are "like angel's visits," few and far between." Sometimes a compliment is paid when anything else was intended. For instance, the highest compliment to the Democratic policy of tariff reform is the assertion of its opponent that "it will make this country a free trade land in less than twenty years." The compliment consists in the covert admission that the people are so enamored with tariff reduction that they will continue to call for it until no tariff remains. But the truth is, the American people are sensible, and as soon as the tariff reaches the point where custom duties will meet the expenses of Government, economically administered, it will rest there. It is not the fixed policy of the Government to levy taxes upon the products of our people. The present international revenue system is a temporary expedient to meet an extraordinary condition of affairs, and when it passes away the tariff must provide means for defraying the expenses of government.

LOCAL NEWS.

September.
That was a fine business meeting at the Board of Trade rooms last night.

The farmers say that the cool nights the last week or two in August have somewhat damaged the prospects of cotton.

The board of trustees of New Berne Academy was in session yesterday evening. Nothing of importance was done.

Rev. Henry W. Battle will return from his vacation trip tonight and resume regular pastoral duties Sunday morning.

The steamer Florence ran against the Clyde wharf yesterday causing a steam pipe to break, and the sudden escape of steam created some little excitement. Nobody hurt.

H. F. Chatham, one of the Republican candidates for Congress in the second district, has been in the county a few days and addressed the people of James City on Thursday night. It is Mebane's time next.

That thoroughbred Kentucky steed that ran over Mr. Stephen Priest a few days ago did not belong to Dr. R. N. Duffy as we formerly stated, but is the property of that rising young bard that habits not a mile from the Doctor's place of business.

Wonder if Bro. Robinson of the Argus has seen a copy of this week's issue of the Free-Will Baptist, a religious paper published in this city? Many of our citizens are very much interested, and read with a great deal of pleasure an article in that paper on the quarantine difficulties.

One of the good results of electing F. M. Simmons, Esq., to Congress from this district is the securing the passage of an act to build a new revenue cutter for the waters of Eastern Carolina. The headquarters of the cutter being at New Berne our merchants furnish the supplies and our mechanics are then given employment in making repairs.

Steamer Movements.
The vesper of the E. C. D. line sailed yesterday afternoon with full cargo of lumber, naval stores, cotton, shingles and general merchandise. The Regist of this line will arrive today.

Personal.
J. L. Rhem, Jr., has gone to Chapel Hill to enter College.

Mr. D. T. Swinfield and family of Washington arrived in the city last night on their return home from a visit to the mountains.

The Board of Trade Meeting Last Night.

In response to invitations sent out by the Board of Trade, a large number of our business men met with the members at their rooms last night.

The President of the Board, Mr. J. J. Tolson, being absent on account of sickness in his family, the meeting was called to order by Mr. Hill Humphrey, who called upon Capt. K. R. Jones, the former President, to explain the object of the meeting.

Capt. Jones responded and gave a brief history of the organization and the scope of the work which it had undertaken, and what class of men constituted its members. He explained that the object of this meeting was to increase the membership of the Board by making every business man of whatever profession or trade in the city eligible. He gave a synopsis of the work of a public nature that the Board had accomplished in the past, and pointed out what it might do in the future.

The Secretary read a communication from Mayor E. H. Meadows, who regretted his inability to attend, but assured the Board that his sympathies were in full accord with any movement for the purpose of advancing the interest of our city.

Maj. John Hughes was called upon and responded in a short speech urging the importance of co-operating. He suggested the propriety of an auxiliary organization to the Board of Trade to be called upon on extra occasions, and insisted with much force that there should be no rings, no cliques, but the one object in view should be the prosperity of New Berne.

Capt. S. H. Gray was next called on and responded in a short speech.

Capt. Jones in reply to Maj. Hughes' suggestion of an auxiliary, said that it would not do. His remarks were pointed and sensible.

John S. Long, Esq. was called on and responding eloquently pictured the advantages of New Berne, the past work of the Board of Trade and its future possibilities.

Clement Manly Esq. responded to call and when he had concluded Capt. Jones pronounced it the best speech yet made. It was practical and to the point.

Gen. Cullen A. Battle was next called upon and he responded in a few well chosen remarks.

W. E. Clark, Esq., was the next speaker, and he favored coming right down to business. As the Board of Trade had concluded to throw down the barriers and invite all to come in, it was their duty to accept and join together for the good of the city.

Maj. John Hughes moved that the names of all present be called and the names of those who desired to become members be taken down as applicants.

Capt. S. H. Gray made a forcible speech in support of the motion of Maj. Hughes.

The motion was put, unanimously adopted, and every gentleman present, and there was a large number, announced his willingness to become a member.

The President then invited the guests and members present to the rooms below, where refreshments were spread and short speeches made by a number of gentlemen present. One who was present says "the man's name who made that punch ought to go sounding down the sides of time."

The meeting was exceedingly interesting one, but our space is up.

Death of Seth Green.

To a community whose largest interest is fishing, the death of a man whose whole intelligent life has been devoted to fish and fish culture and all the mysteries of the denizens of the deep, who has proven by his own observation that fish may be so artificially supplied that a broiled shad, than which an epicure or a millionaire can devise no better table delicacy, can be every day upon the table of the humblest and poorest man in the land, is a sensation and a loss that should not be passed by in silence. Such a loss to his friends, to his country and to mankind, was sustained in the death of Seth Green, the world-renowned pisciculturist, at his home in Rochester, New York, on the 30th of August. He had passed the scriptural period of life, but was still actively engaged in his life work, being Superintendent of the New York State Fishery Commission, when last winter he was severely injured in his back by being thrown from a sleigh, since which time he has been a confirmed invalid. The business to which Mr. Green had devoted his life greatly influenced it and gave him those peculiarities of character which has greatly distinguished him from those of his calling. He was observant, meditative and quiet, and observed when quite a young man the salmon in Canada preparing their nests to cast their spawn. He then first conceived the idea that fish could be hatched artificially and he cherished the idea until his most enthusiastic hopes were realized. In 1867 he began the artificial propagation of shad in Connecticut river, and after many obstacles from ignorance and other causes, he at length succeeded in numerous cases. The sole ambition of his life, as he himself expressed it, was to make good fish abundant.—E. City Economist.

STATE NEWS CONDENSED.

Asheville Citizen: Mr. B. A. Newland is getting up a big excursion to Los Angeles, Cal. The tickets will be issued from September 17 to 31, and will be good for sixty days. The rates will be one full fare for the round trip.

Kinston Free Press: Sweet potatoes on our streets.—Columbia is a new postoffice at Wooten's store.—Attention is called to advertisement of funds remaining uncollected in hands of Superior court clerk.—Court adjourned Monday morning. Judge Merriam did not create a favorable opinion among our people as judge.

Washington Gazette: Crops in Currituck are promising.—Eight large sea-going schooners in port yesterday, besides a number of small craft. Our wharves are beginning to assume a business-like aspect.—A man living near Everett's has a melon vine that has on it twelve melons that average 30 pounds each, besides a number of smaller ones.

News and Observer: Mr. D. W. MacRae, an old gentleman living near Maxton, who, suffering under an attack of mental aberration, fatally shot David McQueen, son of Col. A. J. McQueen, last Tuesday, without cause. MacRae is now in jail. McQueen is living, but is just alive.—The next examination of applicants to practice law will be held on Friday and Saturday, the 21st and 22d of September, 1888. Fifteen applicants have been registered up to date.—There was a grand farmers' dinner and speaking near Auburn yesterday, at which Mr. A. D. Jones and Col. L. L. Polk, of this city, and Col. G. B. Pickett, of Texas, delivered addresses. There was a large gathering of farmers and their families, and the day was passed pleasantly and profitably to all.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Yellow Fever.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 30.—A special from Jacksonville, Fla., says: The situation to-day is not only no better but rather worse. A great jump in the number of new cases caused dismay among the people left in town, and the trains out were crowded from 10 till 2 o'clock. Health certificates are now issued daily by the Board of Health. It has been decided here by the Auxiliary Association to try to get the people to move out to the camp so as to depopulate the place more, and by this means endeavor to check the fever's course. The poor who are unable to go will be assisted and every effort made to get rid of a large number of our people. New cases today spring up right and left, and the prospects are good for an increase in the number tonight. Thirteen cases were reported up to noon, with three deaths. This rapid increase helps on the exodus and will carry out 1500 people this week. The number discharged could not be learned last night, but Dr. Mitchell approximated it at eight. The physicians are not prompt in reporting the cases which pass out from under their charge cured. The work of cleaning up and disinfecting goes forward most gratifyingly. All that possibly can be done has been done already upon the Grand Union Hotel and adjoining premises, but the infection still appears to crop out in that neighborhood with alarming frequency and violence. One gratifying feature of the situation is the mild form of many of the new cases. There are striking exceptions to this rule, however.

NEW ORLEANS, August 31.—A Jackson, Miss., special says: The following order, approved by the Governor, was issued today: On account of the increase of yellow fever at Jacksonville, Fla., it has, by the opinion of the executive committee of the State Board of Health, become necessary to adopt more stringent measures for the protection of the State. It is therefore ordered that on and after this date no persons shall be permitted to enter the State of Tennessee unless they possess a certificate from the Health Officer that they have not been exposed in yellow fever. By order of executive committee of the State Board of Health.

Washington, N. C., July 20, 1888.

It is with pleasure I add my grateful testimony to the hosts of witnesses who have attested the virtues of Mrs. Joe Person's great Remedy. After years of debility and suffering, it has proven to me the best of tonics and blood purifiers. An obstinate, irritable ulcer on my ankle, from which I suffered agony for years, seems to have healed entirely and healthfully under its purifying effects, and my general health has greatly improved.
