THE English papers continue to grow, but there is no probability of war.

NOTHING so develops the brotherhood of man as affliction. All sections are responding to the call of Jacksonville for help.

MR. VILAS, the Postmaster General, has taken the stump in the West. He is satisfied with the outlook, and predicts, "an easy victory" for the Democracy.

IT is now thought that Congress may continue in session through the fall and winter. We need our Congressmen in the State canvass, but they must not leave their posts at Washington as long as Congress is in session.

WE are gratified to learn that the crops continue excellent. The corn and cotton is made; and the late rains have greatly benefited rice. Judging from the present prospect this year will be memorable for its abundance all through this section of country.

CLEVELAND is wide awake to everything that concerns the good of our people. He has instructed Dr. Hamilton to give all possible assistance to the people of Florida, and do everything that can be done to prevent the spread of the disease.

MR. THURMAN did not speak at the great meeting in New York. He commenced to address an immense multitude, but had not gone far before he was taken with a fainting spell, and had to stop. It seems that he had cholera morbus, and was told by a physician not to speak. At last accounts he was doing well, and fully determined to continue the canvass.

THERE is no occasion for panic anywhere, but every municipality should stand guard over its people. This is no time for the relaxation of vigilance. Possibly the yellow fever may be confined to those localities to which it now exists, but it is not probable that this will be the case. New Bern is unusually healthy, and we trust and believe it will continue to be so.

ROLL on the ball! The spirit of progress has been displayed most signally in Eastern North Carolina, and must be followed by united and resolute action. Build railroad after railroad, erect factory after factory; crown every hill top with school houses and make every valley vocal with church bells. Press forward; a glorious cause demands our seal, and golden harvests will reward our toil. The garden of the South must be filled with luscious fruits and fragrant flowers.

We call attention to the card published in this issue by a committee of the Board of Trade. This organization has done much good of a public nature for New Bern and this entire section. There is an effort now to enlarge its sphere. Let every man of whatever business or profession read this card and make up his mind to do what he can for the advancement of New Bern and the county tributary to it.

The Meeting Tomorrow Afternoon. The meeting called by President Bryan at his office tomorrow at 4 p.m. is one of importance as it may be the final step to making New Bern one of the finest winter resorts on the Atlantic coast. When railroads take hold of things they generally put them through, and on schedule time. We ought to have Pullman car service, quick time, new cars (built at our own shops) and every characteristic of first class lines, all the year round. The railroad people are working like beavers to give us one of the best roads in the South. Let every solid, working business man join hands with them to establish this winter resort. There is no finer winter climate in the world than ours; all we need is to exercise a little energy and push and the thing will be an accomplished fact.

We believe this thing is going to be put through, because it has merit in it, and the railroad people are ready to act in conjunction with us. Let us attend the meeting and push the thing along. We want every boarding house full of visitors during the coming winter, and we want them to be here as our fair in the spring. Our railroad is a power for good if the managers and people will work harmoniously and in conjunction. When they get to working in concert and harmoniously the foundation will be laid for a new era. Westward the course of Empire takes its way, and Westward the Atlantic coast must go, in order to increase its business and develop this section.

Kinsey School. We have received the catalogue of Kinsey School, located at LaGrange, for the session of 1887-'88. It is neatly printed and contains all the information one may want of the character, design and advantages of the school.

It was our pleasure to visit this school during the first week of its present session—1887-'88—when we had an opportunity of verifying some of the claims and advantages made by its friends. Its location, buildings, etc., etc. have been fully described in these columns and is given in the catalogue.

The present session opened with seventy-eight pupils, and quite a number more were expected the second week. The primary department had, at the time of our visit, twenty-four pupils in a separate building, and was under the charge of Miss Cynthia Tull, a lady of practical experience in teaching, and has the best for winning the love and respect of her pupils. The spacious chapel of the main building is the Academic department with fifty-four pupils under the charge of Miss Bettie Kinsey, a graduate of Peace Institute and a teacher of large experience. The music department has sixty-six students, forty instrumental and twenty-six vocal and instrumental. Miss Lula Pell has charge of the instrumental class and Miss Minnie Watson of the vocal and instrumental class. Both these ladies are graduates of Greensboro Female College and are splendid workers. Miss Farnham, a graduate of Syracuse University, who was to arrive on the evening after our visit is to have charge of the painting, drawing, French and German. Miss Lula L. Whitfield, a talented young lady, recently of the Stanton, Va. school will assist in the general work. Professor Joseph Kinsey, the principal, is so well known in Eastern Carolina, and in fact the whole State, it is enough to say that he is at the head of Kinsey School.

The session opened auspiciously and the work is already, smooth and the outlook very promising. Students are there from many of our extreme Eastern counties and from Florida, in fact, the reputation of the school is already wide and enviable.

Lemon Elixir is prepared from the fresh juice of Lemons, combined with other vegetable liver tonics, cathartics, aromatic stimulants and blood purifiers. W. A. Jones, Bell Station, Ala., writes: "I have suffered greatly from indigestion or dyspepsia. One bottle of Lemon Elixir done me more good than all the medicine I ever taken."

An Old Citizen of Atlanta, Ga., writes: "By the recommendation of Rev. C. C. Davis, I used Dr. Moxley's Lemon Elixir for a severe chronic case of indigestion, palpitation and irregular action of the heart with constipation and biliousness. I also suffered greatly with gravel and great pains in the back and kidneys, much of the time unable to stand alone. I was treated by many physicians and used many remedies, but got no relief. Dr. Moxley's Lemon Elixir alone has made a perfect cure of all these diseases. I am now a well man. My wife has for many years suffered greatly with constipation and sick headaches from which she could get no relief. The Lemon Elixir has permanently cured me."

MARRIED. Mr. George W. Bryan, one of the proprietors of the Central Hotel, and one of the most popular men in the State, was married at noon yesterday, to Miss Julia Conrad, an estimable lady of Forsyth county. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. A. E. Conrad, about fourteen miles from Winston. Rev. F. S. Conrad being the officiating minister. There were no attendants, but Mr. C. C. Adams, who, with Mr. E. K. Bryan, of Charlotte, and Miss Lula Kinyoun, of Mississippi, accompanied Mr. Bryan, acted as best man. The newly wedded left last evening for a trip through the Northern States and will be absent four weeks. It is seldom that our State sends forth a more popular bridegroom, for Mr. Bryan's acquaintance, through his twenty years' service at the Central Hotel, is very extended, and he has a friend in every one who ever met him. We most cordially join the large circle of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan's friends in wishing for them a bright and happy future, and one well freighted with all the choicest blessings of this life.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Mr. Bryan was formerly of New Bern, and has many friends and relatives here who heartily wish to attend him and his bride in their start on the voyage of life.

BOARD OF TRADE.

The Board of Trade was organized in 1879 and soon after organization incorporated by legislative enactment. Its purpose as set forth was "to legitimize trade, to acquire, preserve and disseminate information connected therewith, and increase and extend by all practicable means the volume of business in the city of New Bern, N. C."

Those only in actual mercantile business were eligible to membership. Its members at first were almost exclusively a few local brokers, and those engaged in the grocery and heavy provision line. At that time, by combination, rebates on freights could be had and lower figures obtained on purchases. To prevent local cutting, prices were established and corrected daily by telegraphic tone of market. There never has been anything of a monopolistic tendency or anything not legitimate and proper in this procedure. Members were enabled and always have had as low and generally lower prices than if acting in an individual capacity.

However, a prejudice arose against the Board, perhaps more from ignorance as to facts than any other cause. For a long time there has been no advantage in combination to purchase, or any rebates in freights obtainable. No prices have been maintained or made by the Board on anything for over two years.

For a city as large as New Bern and with her increased and increasing commerce to be without a live organization is to relegate her to a side-track on the road of progress.

The Board, desirous to continue its usefulness, at their last meeting made eligible to membership the "various professions, trades, and any white male resident in good standing." A hearty response has met this action of the Board and many applications received. The committee on behalf of the Board continue and extend the invitation to join. We need a full representative body to discuss from time to time questions and projects that pertain to our commercial and industrial prosperity.
