His heroic example inspired his engineers, firemen, conductors and other employees. and they, too, worked obserfully and An officer of the company advised him to leave Baldwin and locate himself at some more healthy point along the road where there was less danger of contamination, but he refused, and has manfully remained at his post with a courage of which it is difficult to find an equal.

It has been frequently asserted since the outbreak of yellow fever in Florida Saturday, October 20 that all passenger travel from Havana. through Tampa, Fla., to Northern cities has been stopped. These assertions are disproved by the records of the custom house at Tampa, which show that during the months of August and September, this year, 251 people were landed points North, Not only were these pasbaggage were allowed to take it with them to their destination North. These Northern points had no difficulty in continuing their journey after arrival at Tampa. No record of the coastwise passengers who arrived at that port and proceeded northwest has been kept by the custom bouse authorities, but it is certain that the coastwise traffic great ly exceeded in number the foreign travel.
