MR. GLADSTONE is in Naples enjoying an outburst of Vesuvius.

THERE can be no solid religious character except founded on solid religious conviction.

THE colored men who want to be presented in the Harrison Cabinet are still in the dark as it were.

THE Ashboro Courier says the Governor's mansion is the "Jumbo" for consideration in the Legislature.

FAITH is that act and habit of the soul by which the idea of God is brought in from the far distance and enthroned over character and over life.

GOV. GREEN of New Jersey, in his message to the Legislature, makes a strong and clearly reasoned plea for a ballot reform law in that State.

"THOU who dost quick remove what hurts the eye. Why dost thou day by day postpone to cure Diseases of thy soul? Dare to be wise! Begin!"

THE Vanderbilts are richer than all the people of North Carolina. The whole value of personal and real property in the State is $217,700,000. The Vanderbilts have $274,000,000.

THE Wilmington Messenger says: "Governor Scales shows what manner of a man he is, and where he was during the war, by his feeling, touching and handsome tribute to Col. John Ashford of Clinton, who, together with his two sons and a colored employee, lost his life through the disastrous explosion at his mill in that place last week."

RUSSIAN peasant tell of an old woman at work in her house when the Eastern sages passed by seeking the infant Christ, and guided by the star: "Come with us," they said; "we are going to find the heavenly child!" "I will come," replied, "but not just now; I will follow very soon and overtake you." But when her work was done the wise men were gone, the star had disappeared and she never saw the Holy Child.

IN his message to the Legislature the Governor says: "I would also recommend a (Railroad) Commission of three wise, patriotic and impartial and unprejudiced men, with salaries sufficient to render them independent and enable them to give their whole time to the work." In this we entirely agree with the Governor. In stating the qualifications of a Commissioner his Excellency has described Major John Hughes, of New Berne, exactly. If the gallant Major had set for the picture it could not have been more like him—"wise, patriotic and unprejudiced." No section of the State is more interested in the Commission than the Eastern section, and Major Hughes is her loyal son. True to the East, his mind is broad enough and his heart large enough to take in the whole commonwealth. In business qualifications, social standing and personal merit he is the peer of any man.

LOCAL NEWS.

The finishing touches are being put on the Exposition grounds.

Hand in your advertisements for the special Weekly edition tomorrow.

The committee of ladies in charge of the Ladies' Department of the Fair are at work.

Our quotations for sheet yesterday morning were a little erroneous, bucks commanded from $1.45 to $1.50 per pair yesterday.

In publishing the proceedings of the General Assembly we select only such as are of interest to this section. We will endeavor to keep our readers posted on these.

Councilman R. P. Williams, Warren Ellis, Esq., and others returned yesterday from a sporting trip to Portsmouth. They brought back quite a number of ducks and wild geese.

A New Enterprise.
Our townsman, C. H. Blank, Esq., is putting down a shingle and lumber mill on the south side of Neuse river just above the National cemetery. The boiler and engine for the same are being constructed at Crabtree & Co's machine shops. This is the particular feature about the enterprise that we wish to direct special attention to. Every saw mill constructed at these shops saves money to the community. The money is paid out here for the labor and not sent abroad, and the work done is first class. Patronize home industries and start new enterprises.

Mr. Harrell's Circular.
J. A. Harrell, of Weldon, issues a circular announcing himself a candidate for State printer and promises to save the State thousands of dollars if he can get the job. We heartily endorse the following reference to this circular by the Goldsboro Argus:

While we do not feel that Harrell has the slightest chance of obtaining this appointment, we do feel it our duty to inform the public (he is well known by all printers) that he is not the man for the position; that he would not "do the work as well as it has ever been done," as he claims he would, for the simple reason that he has never done any first-class printing, but on the contrary, has a reputation for shoddy, dirty work.

Notwithstanding there are several good printing offices in New Berne, yet some of our county officers have been in the habit of patronizing this shoddy work instead of having their printing done at home. We are decidedly opposed to booby voting but if Capt. Richardson or Bill Lane sends out of the county to have printing done that can be done just as well and just as cheap at home, we will favor standing them aside as no good. No first-class printing house will send out such jobs as emanate from some printing offices. Mr. Harrell cannot do good, honest, fair work any cheaper than other printing houses with equal facilities, unless he does it by robbing his printers.

Kinston Items.

We were glad to greet the pleasant senior editor of the JOURNAL in our town a few days ago.

Rev. J. Leslie, the Baptist pastor of Tarboro, will preach in the Kinston Baptist church Tuesday night, the 15th instant.

A hardware man told us a few days ago that new cast iron hollow ware always leaked. This is news to us. An explanation is in order.

Kinston has two representatives in the Legislature—one, Mr. G. L. Kilpatrick, assistant doorkeeper of the House; the other, Master Ed. Harvey, a page in the Senate.

A very interesting event will take place in Kinston on Wednesday morning, soon after breakfast. They will then take the cars. Another of similar import is booked for February.

A Kinston bachelor says that freezing weather has a good effect upon the country in more ways than one. He says it is good for the blanket trade. His blood be upon his own head!

Our people of Lenoir should be stirring themselves in getting ready to make some exhibit of their handiwork and industry at the coming New Berne Fair. We can make a good display if we will. Our Kinston bachelor suggests that some of our young ladies go down and take the premium for beauty.

The Minnie Lee Minstrel Troupe gave a performance on Friday night last at the opera house. One who was there says that the performance was fair and not so exceptional quite as suggested in Friday's JOURNAL. The jokes were old and sometimes had a tinge of carbon about them. There was not a single lady that saw the performance.

We found a new enterprise in successful operation, Saturday morning, in the rear of Mr. J. B. Webb's old store. It was a lathe, operated by steam. One ravenous gentleman was engineer and another was at the lathe—both doing good work. This is carrying out scripture: "Whatsoever your hands find to do, do it with your might." Mr. Webb was making rollers for Capt. White's hoop factory.

Further Details of the Storm.

READING, Jan. 11.—No more bodies have been found in the ruins of the silk mill. The bodies of the victims of the disaster have now, it is believed, all been recovered, and the search was consequently abandoned this morning. Several of those reported yesterday to be missing have been found to be safe. The list of the killed is therefore reduced in number today. Some of the injured will die. Arrangements are now being made for the burial of the dead, and a few days will witness the interment of all the victims. A correct list of those killed at the silk mill, or who have since died of their injuries, foot up eighteen.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 11.—Forty-eight hours have elapsed since the terrible disaster that brought sorrow to so many homes in this city, and the work of uncovering the victims has not yet been completed. For two days and two nights one hundred men and fifty teams have been constantly at work, and up to 10 o'clock this morning the mangled remains of fourteen persons have been taken from the ruins. Four more are still known to be buried under the debris, and six others are missing. Of the injured there have died since removal to the hospital, and four others are in a critical condition and will not survive. The remaining thirty-two are all doing well and will recover.

During the night the bodies of Charles McGee and two unknown workmen were recovered, and at daylight the remains of the venerable Rev. Dr. Reed, who was in Weldon's store when the accident happened, were found on the first floor of the building frightfully crushed. Dr. Reed was eighty years old, and was a prominent resident of Allegheny City.

TERRIBLE.
Two-thirds of all deaths in New York City are from consumption or pneumonia. The same proportion holds for most other cities. Delays are dangerous. Dr. Acker's English Remedy for Consumption will always relieve, and may save your life. For sale by E. Berry, druggist, New Berne.

Vance in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—During the tariff debate in the Senate today Mr. Sherman delivered a long, earnest speech, which was principally an exhortation to the South to vary its industries instead of relying so much upon the one staple—cotton.

Vance rose to reply and began by saying that this advice which was being perpetually given to him by Northern Senators made him tired. Then he compared Senator Sherman's advice to that of Capt. Jack Bunbury. "The wisdom of which lay in the application on't," The Senator insisted upon the right of Southern men to devote themselves to whatever industry was most suitable to their situation, and claimed equal consideration for Southern as for Northern interests.

Then Uncle George Frisbie Hoar with his spectacles, his solemn face, his bald head, his squeaking voice and his one idea, got up and made a show of himself. He wanted to ask the Senator from North Carolina a question—what occupation would the Senator provide for the 100,000 Massachusetts men who would be thrown out of employment by the ruin of the protected manufactures of that State?

"In the first place," replied Mr. Vance, promptly, "I should advise the manufacturing people of Massachusetts to mind their own business, and when manufacturing wooden bams or patent hair dyes becomes unprofitable to turn to some other honest occupation. What is to become of Massachusetts? With all due respect, that is not the first consideration to North Carolina. We are like the citizen who in a burst of patriotism, volunteered for military service. 'Why, John,' said his wife, 'think of what you are doing. If you should be killed what a loss to me!' You," the devil, said John, 'if I should be killed what's to become of me?'

"Now, I protest," said the Senator, "against being put in the position of opposing manufacturers, because I don't oppose them. I know they are necessary, but I want manufacturers to pay their own expenses, just as agriculturists do. This threat that the manufacturers are continually making against us that they will die if they don't get this protection, won't work. Industries that can't live on the protection we are giving them ought to die. The paper may cry very loud and tell the superintendent of the almshouse that he'll die if he doesn't get terrapin and turtle, but it will take a good deal of that sort of urging to bring forth the terrapin and turtle."

"In this contest the agriculturist is a good deal like the absentee landlord. The agent wrote that he could not collect the rent that whenever he attempted to collect it it was at the risk of his life. 'You just tell those tenants they must pay up,' the landlord replied, 'and that no amount of shooting they can do at you will deter me in the slightest.' It will take a good deal of threatening to die on the part of the Massachusetts manufacturers to convince the farmers of North Carolina that they ought to pay their own expenses and those of their Massachusetts neighbors as well.

It was generally expected that Mr. Hoar put his foot in it by admitting that Massachusetts was a pensioner on North Carolina. Senator Vance turned the laughter of the entire Senate and all the galleries upon him.

An eminent Presbyterian divine announced to his congregation that he must take a vacation on account of bronchitis, the elders raised his salary and gave him Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. He was cured.

My daughter suffered greatly with neuralgia in the face and forehead and was unable to secure any relief. I saw Salvation Oil advertised, sent for a bottle, and one application gave entire relief. J. S. McCULLY, (Policeman), Residence 204 N. Bond St., Balto., Md.
