THE JOURNAL.

GOOD-BYE. I leave thee, with a falling tear, And round the floating car; The death to part with one so dear— For to my view thy charms appear Like some revolving star. I leave thee, but with deep concern, Which hope cannot remove. Oh! do not my affection spurn, But patient wait till my return. And prove the truth of love. I leave thee, but I love thee yet. The germ of every bloom. I never shall my choice regret. Until the sun of life shall set, And love sink in the tomb. Oh! Lady, take these lines to heart! The last fond tale I tell, Is that my own dear love thou art; Then, till we meet no more to part, My Lady, fare thee well!"

Frakness. Frakness is supposed to be a common virtue. It is most uncommon. It is indeed an extraordinary thing. It requires truth, simplicity, love and genuine goodness. Men speak plainly when they do speak, but they are not open and free. Many speak truths very plainly when angry; many speak pleasant truths frankly. But few there are whose souls are so balanced in an atmosphere of love that they speak whatever needs to be said, to each and to all, plainly, gently, fully. The dearest friends live together for years without daring to speak things which they know, and which each party knows that the other knows. Parents live with a reserve years long towards their children. Children carry untouched, unsymbolized, thoughts and feelings that take hold of their very being. Friends meet and part day by day—friends so true that they would almost die for each other, or what is harder than this, who are willing to live for each other—and never speak of things that each knows is passing in the other's mind. It is very strange to see people come up in conversation to topics that, by a tacit freemasonry, are sacred, and without word or look one glides past on one side, and the other on the other side, and meet beyond, going down the common channel again. Was there ever a thoughtful, sensitive person that dared to be open, transparent, frank? But however this may be, there can be no doubt that people are not frank enough for each other's good. If men knew how to speak the truth in love, how rich might one become. A man might then stand in the focus of the wisdom of all his friends. But refusing to let their lights shine, men now grope in the partial light of their own wisdom, distempered by self-love.

MERIT WINS. We desire to say to our citizens that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell so well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. For sale by R. N. Duffy, wholesale and retail druggist. Price per dozen bottles, $8.00. Jan 22 '89

That Ache in the Back. An Albany physician, says a contemporary, declares that Americans suffer more generally from Bright's disease and nervous diseases than any other people, and he says the reason is that Americans sit down so persistently at their work. He says: "Americans are the greatest sitters I ever knew. While Englishmen, Germans, and Frenchmen walk and exercise, an American business man will go to his office, take his seat in his chair and sit there all day without giving any relief to the tensions of the muscles of the back. The result is that these muscles surrounding the kidneys become soft and flabby. They lose their vitality. The kidneys themselves soon become weak and debilitated. If Americans would exercise more, if they would stand at their desks rather than sit, we would hear less of Bright's disease. I knew of a New York man who had suffered for some years from nervous prostration until it was recommended to him that he have a desk at which he could stand to do his work. Within a year he was one of the healthiest men you ever saw. His dyspepsia and kidney trouble had disappeared, and he had an appetite like a paver."

FRANKLIN IN FLORIDA. FROM AN ATLANTA DRUGGER. Mr. A. K. HAWKES, Atlanta, Ga.: "Dear Sir—You doubtless remember me getting a glass of you nearly three weeks ago. I had then given up all hopes of ever being able to read again. The last three weeks, however, with the use of your glasses my eyes have been wonderfully benefited, and I have been enabled to do a great deal of reading. The first I had done in two years, and moreover I have great hope of their entire recovery in a few years. I cannot too highly recommend your glass to my friends. Yours respectfully, B. C. CALDWELL. With Warmest Regards, Mr. A. K. HAWKES. All your glasses and eye examinations by F. S. DUFFY, New Berne, N. C. Jan 18th 1889.
