ONE of the weak points of Cleveland was his failure to reward his friends.

PURCHASED friendship is worth very little. The man is worth nothing who does not appreciate his friends.

THE honors of this world perish. The honors Christ has in reserve for His followers are immortal.

WE don't intend to grit our teeth until we are ready to strike; we don't propose to strike until we can make our blow effectual.

"It is said that by mistake in the English maps at the time of the Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo the boundary line between the United States and Mexico was placed sixty miles too far north."

THE influence and power of Reid will by much less than that of Blaine. If the confirmation of Reid was wrong, how much greater wrong was the confirmation of Blaine? Who, then, is innocent?

THE President should nominate Albon W. Tourgee as Minister to Liberia without the power to return until another Democratic administration. Let him go over there and make bricks without straw.—Norfolk Landmark.

THE Republicans of Pennsylvania are at open war among themselves. Gov. Hartranft has been bitterly attacked in the Legislature, and there is a fierce fight over the Philadelphia postoffice; Quay leading one side and Wanamaker the other.

"A GOOD average of character is better than a lower level of character; but a good average of character is never reached by a man who is satisfied with a good average. Only the man who persistently strives to be a high level of conduct will reach the plane of the average well done."

With not Editor Reid feel that, after all, his twenty-five years of labor in behalf of the Republican party has been poorly requited? He wanted to represent the United States at London and he has been put off with Paris. Mr. Lincoln, who goes to London, has never fought in one active campaign in behalf of the Republican party and has once been honored with a Cabinet position. As between the two men the party owes Mr. Reid diamonds where it owes Mr. Lincoln cents. But such are the fortunes of politics.—N. Y. World.

THE courtesy extended Senator Vance by the Republican Senatorial caucus in making an exception in his favor with respect to the matter of a personal clerk is duly appreciated by the people of North Carolina. It is little things like this that tend to remove the bitterness of political difference. We are sorry to note, though, that it is understood in the Senate that the sight of the Senator's remaining eye is failing. We had hoped the sight of this eye would improve and improve promptly on the removal of the other.—News and Observer.

THE Charlotte Chronicle dissents from the views expressed by the JOURNAL in regard to the propriety of Senator Ransom's vote in favor of the confirmation of Minister Reid. We have so high a respect for the opinions of the Chronicle that we shall carefully examine our ground whenever we find it opposing us. It is gratifying to know that whatever differences of opinion may exist between the Chronicle and the JOURNAL on matters of party expediency, they will always stand shoulder to shoulder in advocacy of the cardinal principles of Democracy.

LOCAL NEWS.

Last day of March. When the spring time comes—"chestsnuts."

The county commissioners will be in session tomorrow.

The greater portion of this week has been as balmy as Indian summer.

The steamer Trent is off, and the Tomah on Howard's ship railways.

Evangelist Pearson will hold a series of meetings at Fayetteville sometime during April.

Tomorrow is All-Fools-Day and is the anniversary of the first appearance of THE DAILY JOURNAL.

Regular prayer meeting at the office of Geo. N. Ives this morning at 9:30 o'clock. All invited to attend.

A State Sunday school convention has been arranged to be held at Charlotte April 23, 24 and 25th. The world's convention will be held July 1, 2, 3, 4.

Onslow Superior Court convenes tomorrow. Several of our New Bern attorneys will be in attendance. Also court is being held in Greene county this week.

The alarm of fire brought out the fire department yesterday evening. It was the kitchen of Mrs. Susan Dudley on Broad street, and was soon put out with but little damage.

The run of shad this week has been very large, and the prices have been much lower at the retailing stands. Herrings are also putting in an appearance in considerable numbers.

April fool tomorrow. Beware of lost pocket books and stray bundles on the sidewalks; but don't be certain or you might pass by something really valuable, and a less timid person secure the reward.

Do you wish to see lame-asking decreased and the poor and needy relieved of their condition? Then you give your proportion of assistance to any enterprise tending towards that accomplishment.

Our thanks are tendered the Heeperian Literary Society at Trinity College for an invitation to attend their public debate April 18th. Mr. A. H. White from our neighboring town, Foliokeville, is to be the orator of the day.

Capt. D. L. Roberts of the schooner Mattie E. Hiles has been heard from. He was at one of the West India Islands on the 28th ult., the date of his letter, and had to visit still another island to dispose of the remainder of his cargo, which he hoped to reach by the 31st instant. He reports the lumber market there very dull.

We have received a letter from Aurora and one side of the envelope is almost entirely covered with printed matter concerning the rich lands in the community and advantages of the town. Every envelope that goes from New Bern ought to carry the news that New Bern offers building sites and a thousand dollars bonus to the first factory erected thereon.

A Well-Fought Fire.

Early yesterday morning just after midnight fire was discovered in a two story building on South Front street just east of the railroad crossing. The department made a quick response and did effective work which otherwise would have been a serious conflagration. Four buildings in all burned. They were old and not of much value. The one in which the fire originated was owned by Major and Dr. J. B. Hughes and occupied by Israel Simmons, colored, a wheel-wright. Loss on building about $600; on tools and implements, $300. The other three buildings were owned by L. H. Outler, the loss on which he estimates between $600 and $700. One was occupied by Miles Shepard, colored, a worker in lathe turning, wood carving, &c. Loss on machinery and tools $460. Dr. Eugene Scott kept groceries in the next building. His stock was also a complete loss, amounting to upwards of $300. A barber shop occupied by John Mayo and a warehouse in the rear of the fire in which a lot of lime was stored and owned by E. H. Outler, were damaged.

A brisk wind was blowing from the southwest which caused the flames at times to leap the entire width of the street, underneath which the firemen were making a brave and determined fight to prevent the buildings across the street from burning. The heat of the fire was intense, and to hold their position, which was only done by constantly turning the hose on each other, was the only means of saving the property across the street opposite the fire. Though stream after stream kept playing upon them they would blaze upon the roof and threaten serious results. A line of hose turned on from Maj. Dennison's mill also did good work in the rear.

It was one of the most successfully fought fires we have ever witnessed. There was no insurance on either buildings or property owing to the very high rate charged in what is known as a very inflammable locality.

Seven Years Old.

Tomorrow morning seven years ago THE DAILY JOURNAL made its appearance in New Bern. It was All-Fools-Day, and doubtless fooled a great many people who predicted for it a short life. No paper has ever been issued in New Bern for so long a time with such regularity, having never missed an issue except for the usual holidays since its first appearance. For this promptness and regularity we are indebted to our foreman who takes a pride in having his work done neatly and on time.

Many thanks to our patrons for their liberal support. We hope yet to bring the old town up with the times by giving them a paper with the press telegrams.

Help the Unfortunate.

Mr. Eugene Scott, who was burned out yesterday morning, is an afflicted man, has an afflicted wife and one child, all of whom are left penniless by the fire. They need help and we trust our people will respond liberally as they can to their appeals. Any amount no matter how small will be appreciated.

Personal.

Mrs. John B. Broadfoot and children arrived from Fayetteville last night on a visit to her father, Henry R. Bryan, Esq.

Messrs. P. H. Pelletier, Clement Manly and E. B. Nixon are off to Onslow court.

Shipping News.

The steamer Annie of the E. C. D. line arrived yesterday and will sail tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. The vesper of this line will arrive today. The steamer Newberne of the O. D. line arrived last night and will sail Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

From the State Papers.

Durham Tobacco Plant: Strong efforts are being made to bring the local option cause into disrepute. Let its friends stand firm as a rock in this crisis and with faith take for their motto: "Trust in God and to the right."

Charlotte Chronicle: J. M. Cross, of Concord, who has been spending several days in Charlotte, was robbed on Tuesday night of a watch and chain and some money. Mr. Cross on that night went to the C. C. depot in this city with a young man about 15 or 16 years old, and it was while at the depot that he was robbed.

Charlotte News: The State Sunday school convention will be held in this city next week, will bring over 300 delegates to Charlotte. They will be entertained in good style—By Dr. Pritchard's address at the M. C. A. hall last night was listened to by one of the largest audiences ever assembled there. The doctor made an entertaining talk, and one that was listened to with pleasure and profit.

Wilmington Star: Two small frame buildings on Church street—between Seventh and Eighth streets—were destroyed by fire about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. The houses belong to Dr. P. H. Bryan, colored, and were insured for $800.—There was great rejoicing in the fire ward last night over the election of Mr. Morton—the first Democrat ever elected in that ward—by a vote of 4 of the board of aldermen.

Stateville Landmark: There are a good many cases of pneumonia in this county. This is the worst month of the year for this affection. People cannot be too careful. The reports of the condition of the growing wheat crop are rather contradictory. Upon the average, however, they are favorable.—Mr. M. L. Mott arrived home from Washington yesterday, confident that he will be appointed district attorney and that "Reliable" Hayes will be appointed collector.—Congressmen Brower and Ewart are controlling in a great measure the patronage of North Carolina, except that of the black district, which is demanded by the coon Congressman, Cheatham. However, both Brower and Ewart have wanted to dictate the appointments of district attorney, collector and marshal. That of marshal was probably a compromise but they appear to be far apart yet on the collector and district attorney.

New Magistrates.

Messrs. W. H. Oliver, C. E. Foy, E. B. Cox and Samuel W. Smallwood appeared before the Clerk of the Court yesterday and were duly qualified as magistrates. The first named on this list is ready to perform the nuptial ceremonies whenever called upon free of charge, and we venture to say it will be done "decently and in good order."

Death of Mrs. Evans.

Died, at her home in Reidsville, N. C., on Thursday morning, March 21, 1889, Mrs. Augusta Stevenson Evans, the wife of Capt. T. C. Evans, in the 49th year of her age.

This estimable lady had been in declining health for some time, but was not confined to her bed until two weeks before her death. She was the daughter of Mr. James C. Stevenson, of New Bern, N. C., and the mother of eight living children, two of whom are married. Mrs. Evans was a lady of refined tastes and sensibilities, and possessed a tenderness of feeling and an appreciation of the beautiful, seldom surpassed by any one. She was a faithful and devoted wife, a loving and self-sacrificing mother, a kind neighbor and a sympathizing friend. She was an humble and devoted christian, and for many years a consistent member of the Presbyterian church. Her dying hours presented a beautiful and sublime scene of faith in Christ triumphant over death. She was calm, submissive and confident, and spent her last breath in exhorting her family to live for the glory of God, and to meet her in heaven. She also designated the Scripture upon which she founded her hope (John 11: 26), and the hymns and tunes to be used by her pastor at her funeral. A large concourse of friends assembled at the church and followed her remains to their last resting place, and mingled their sympathies and tears with the sadly bereaved husband and children.

May the God of all grace and comfort sustain them in their great loss, but her eternal gain.

"Servant of Christ, well done! Praise be thy new employer! And while eternal ages run, Rest in thy Savior's joy!" PASTOR.
