The Craven County Alliance was in session yesterday.

Tom Hall has a four barrel gun which he thinks is a curiosity.

Moore & Brady's cannery is running regularly and canning a great many oysters.

The Raleigh News and Observer announces the death of John Spellman, an old and widely-known journalist.

One of the colored men arrested for refusing to obey the officers of the fire department had Mr. E. M. Pavie, one of the officers of the department, before Justice E. G. Hill yesterday upon a charge of assault and battery. The case was postponed until next Friday.

Personal.
Miss Fannie Woolen and Mary V. Smith of Fort Barnwell, are in the city.

Postponed.
The case against the two colored men who refused to obey the chief of the fire department was called before Justice Erinson yesterday and postponed until Monday.

We hardly think it the proper thing for newspapers to array the public against one for an offence before he has had a trial and been convicted according to law. These men are charged with a very serious offense, and public sentiment is undoubtedly in favor of sustaining the officers of the department. No fire department can be efficient unless the orders of its chief and other officers are obeyed.

Shipping News.
The steamer Annie of the E. C. D. line sailed yesterday with cargo of cotton, lumber, naval stores and general exports.

The steamer Tahoma will sail this morning at 7 o'clock.

The steamer Stout of the Clyde line arrived from Baltimore yesterday morning with a cargo of general merchandise.

The steamer Manteo of the O. D. line sailed for Norfolk yesterday morning. The Newberne of this line will arrive tonight.

Fire Department Troubles.
The trouble during the fire on Thursday morning at Mr. Stimson's mill between the officers of the department and two colored men who not only refused to obey their orders, but used abusive language, seems to have been of a more serious nature than we were advised. The resolutions of the fire department came in at a late hour on Thursday night—too late for us to make such comment as the facts as therein presented deserve.

Mr. Stimson is a useful man in the community in that he is a large manufacturer of lumber, employs a great many hands, expends a large amount of money for lumber and labor, which is considerable help to the trade of the city, and more, he has ever been found to be one of the most liberal in contributing to public enterprises and charitable purposes. Any man of his means, enterprise and liberality is bound to wield considerable influence in any community.

The officers of the fire department are well aware of the influence and standing of Mr. Stimson in the community, but do they propose to let him off with a resolution of censure and arrest and punish two colored men in his employ? The department resolution published in yesterday's JOURNAL charges Mr. Stimson with "upholding and abetting the refusal of certain colored men in his employ to obey orders of the chief engineer of said department at the recent fire at his mills; also his sustaining them in the use of profane and abusive language to the officers in command."

If the above charges are true, then why was Mr. Stimson not arrested along with the colored men whom he upheld and abetted? Was he excused because he was a man of wealth and influence? If guilty, ought he not to be punished instead of the colored men under him? If it is a serious matter to disobey the officers of the department and to interfere with those acting under their orders during the progress of a fire, ought not the evil to be nipped in the bud by striking at the substance as well as at a shadow? One man of wealth and influence can give the department more trouble than a dozen insignificant colored men.

If the charges made by the department are true (and we have no reason or disposition to doubt them), then the department has not done its duty or Mr. Stimson would have been arrested as well as the colored men.

We will not charge the officers and members of the department with being lacking in "grit," we know they have plenty of that, but we ask in all candor and sincerity (there is no "grit" required to do this) why do you snatch up two ignorant colored men to punish for an offence, and let a man of intelligence, wealth and influence whom you say is equally guilty, go with simply a resolution of censure?

The JOURNAL has always stood by the fire department, it has always been at the command of the companies whenever they desired to use its columns, and we will oppose to the bitter end anything that tends to destroy its efficiency. The officers must be sustained during the progress of a fire and whoever attempts to interfere with their prerogatives at such times, be he rich or poor, high or low, black or white, should be dealt with according to law.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.
April 3d, 1889.

An adjourned regular meeting of the Board was held at 2 o'clock p. m., Mayor Meadows, presiding. Present, Councilmen Williams, Lane, Crawford and Thomas. There not being a quorum the meeting adjourned to 9 o'clock on April 4th. SILAS FULCHER, Clerk.

April 4th, 1889.

An adjourned regular meeting was held at 9 o'clock, Mayor Meadows presiding.

Present, Councilmen Williams, Gray, Ulrich, Lane, Simmons, Thomas and Crawford.

The matter of extending George street was taken up, and the following ordinance was offered and adopted:

Be it ordained by the Mayor and Board of Councilmen of the city of New Berne:

Sec. 1. That a street be and the same is hereby laid out and established, beginning at the intersection of George and Cypress streets, and running northwardly to the railroad the width of 60 feet, pursuant to the survey made by the U. S. Government, and taking seventeen feet on each side of the road as it now runs.

Sec. 2. That said street so laid out and established as aforesaid shall be known as George street.

Sec. 3. That the Mayor be and is hereby authorized, empowered and directed to issue his warrant to the Sheriff of Craven county commanding him to summon a jury to assess the damages sustained by the owners of land required for said street as required by law.

Councilman Williams moved that the Mayor and city attorney take steps at once to carry out this ordinance, which was passed.

Councilman Williams read a letter from Miss Case, of Newport, R. I., in regard to a boat that had been in the possession of the ex-city marshal on his claim for cost which was not due him for about a year, asking that the boat be turned over to Mr. Blades for her, which was, on motion, ordered to be done.

Mr. O. H. Gulon asked and was granted permission to make a statement in reference to his services in the purchase of the right of way for the cemetery road, which he did.

SILAS FULCHER, Clerk.

Shipwrecked Crew in Port.
BALTIMORE, April 3.—The steamship Decatur E. Miller, Capt. Taylor, which arrived this morning from Boston, brought the shipwrecked crew of seven men of the British schooner Margaret L., which was loaded with sugar, sailed from Trinidad, Cuba, on February 27 for the Delaware Breakwater and encountered a storm on March 9, and on the 24th foundered.

A Bad Wreck.
ST. PAUL, April 3.—Reports were received here last night of a bad railroad wreck on the Northern Pacific near Missoula, Mont. About 8 o'clock the passenger train ran into a freight and a green freight train and two tramps who were stealing a ride were killed and some others injured. The accident was caused by a misplaced switch.

Earthquake Shock in Hayti.
NEW YORK, April 3.—Parker Scholtz, of the steamer El Caliso, which arrived today from Port de Paix, Hayti, reports that at about 10.45 a. m., March 28, a heavy shock of earthquake was felt in the town and adjacent country, which lasted several seconds. At the time the schooner lost no news had been received of any loss of life or damage property.

A Moonshiner Killed.
CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 3.—Detectives Baldwin, Robinson and Wallace, coal police for the Elkhorn region, Mercer county, went to Tug River yesterday to arrest a desperado and moonshiner named Will Moran. A fight ensued and Moran was killed, however, until he had wounded seriously all three of the detectives. Much trouble is anticipated.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

From the State Papers.

Durham Plant: Two more electric lights will be placed on the streets.—Our Presbyterian friends are moving with energy towards securing a new and commodious church building.

Charlotte Chronicle: The Gentlemen's Driving Club of Charlotte, N. C., was yesterday incorporated. The capital stock is $10,000, with the privilege of increasing it to $30,000. The object of the club, as stated in the articles of incorporation, is the improvement of the breed and development of horses for speed and other purposes.

Wilson Mirror: Mr. Barnart, a converted Jew, made a very interesting talk in the Methodist church on Thursday night, and gave a very feeling and thrilling account of his conversion to the Christian faith.—The meeting is still in progress at the Methodist church, and "Jesus of Nazareth is passing by." Fifty happy souls have had their sins forgiven, and found the comfort that comes from Heaven.

Asheville Citizen: Mr. Theo. Hobgood has purchased the Evening Tribune of this city, and will begin the publication of a morning paper about the 10th inst.

—Rev. R. G. Pearson, of this city, will, at no distant day, publish a volume of Bible reading and also a volume of sermons. The title of the former will be "Truth Applied," and of the latter, "Preaching the Word." Mr. Pearson has already secured the copyright on the manuscript of the above mentioned volumes.

Wilmington Star: The truck growers are making preparations for the shipping season, and the outlook is regarded as promising, barring an April frost.—A correspondent writing from Idaho, Cumberland county, says: "We are trying to get up a joint stock company to build a cotton factory at this place. Farmers are very busy trying to make more cotton than ever.—The city tax levy this year will be two per cent, the increase being necessary to meet interest on bonds of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley and Onslow railroads.

An aged sailor, named C. M. Dudley, engaged yesterday morning in lowering the yards on the German barque Albatross, lying near the marine railway, was struck on the head and instantly killed.

News and Observer: News was received here that the mills of J. A. Wilson and also a large warehouse adjoining were consumed by fire at Wilson Mills. The loss was estimated at $20,000. A man named Wallace who went into the mills after his tool chest was burned to death.—Last night the depot here presented the most lively scene that has yet been witnessed. Five car loads of negroes, bound for Arkansas, were waiting the train and it looked as if half of the remaining colored population of Wake county had mustered to see them off. It was impossible to get within a stone's throw of the depot building. The platform and the ground all around were piled up with the effects of emigrants, which was stowed in barrels, boxes, crates and chicken coops. There was one old and sixteen children, comprising several sets of twins, triplets, etc. Most of the emigrants were costumed in their "Sunday best." There was a dude in the crowd with a cane and a silk hat, which a bystander said was of the pattern of 1778. One negro who was not so happy as to be a family man was going around the women trying to induce some of them to act as his wife so as to make him eligible as an ex-sluder. The agents will not take single men.

CHEATHAM CAUGHT THEM.

A Queer Story of North Carolina Election Methods.

The election of Cheatham (colored) over Simmons (white) to Congress from Eastern North Carolina was brought about in a very funny manner, and was practically settled in half an hour. Opposite New Berne is the town called James City. It is settled entirely by the blacks, and Simmons knew he had to get this solid vote to be re-elected.

His friends went over and called a public meeting, and stated what Mr. Simmons had done for the district and the colored people, and as he really had proved himself a benefactor the colored electors were ready to go for him to a man. The talk was all for Simmons, and Cheatham was repudiated and insulted. No one thought he had the ghost of a show, but he was biding his time. The night before election Mr. Cheatham himself appeared at a called meeting in James City. The crowd opposed his speaking, and one of the leaders inquired:

"Didn't Mars' Simmons git dat 'proprietion' for de new Pos' Office?"

"Yes, he did."

"Didn't he git dat 'proprietion' fur a stone road to de soldiers' cemetery?"

"Yes, he did."

"Didn't he git dat 'proprietion' to make a new revenue cutter for dis yore deestric?"

"Yes, he did."

"Well, then what yers talkin' bout? What's de matter of Mars' Simmons?"

"Dat's jes de trouble, gem'les," replied Mr. Cheatham, as he got his opening. "Mars' Simmons got too much influence. He goes down dar to Washington, an' says: 'Miseur Cleveland, I want dat new Pos' Office down to New Berne.' An' Miseur Cleveland he says: 'All right, Miseur Simmons, take all de money you want.' An' Mars' Simmons goes back dar purty soon an' says: 'Miseur Cleveland, I want stone road down dar' in New Berne.' An' Miseur Cleveland he says: 'All right, Mr. Simmons, I give you $30,000 to make stone road.' An' Mars' Simmons goes back in two weeks ag'in an' says: 'Miseur Cleveland, I want revenue cutter down dar' in New Berne.' An' Miseur Cleveland he says: 'All right, Miseur Simmons, I send you one.' Now, gem'len, when Mars' Simmons goes down to Washington dis winter an' says: 'Miseur Cleveland, I want you to take all dem niggers in James City and put 'em back into slavery ag'in'. What's Miseur Cleveland gwine ter reply? He likes Mars' Simmons. Mars' Simmons got a heap of influence ober him. So he's gwine to say: 'All right, Miseur Simmons, I'll do it wid de utmost pleasure. Dat's what he's gwine ter say, an' whar will you niggers be in one week arter dat?'

The alarm spread like wild fire, and the more it was talked the more it was believed, and the next day every single black vote in the town went to Cheatham and elected him.—Philadelphia Record, March 31st.

OSKALOUSA, Kansas, April 3.—The Oskaloosa idea is still extant. After a vigorous fight the female candidates for city offices won the day by sweeping majorities. At Cottonwood Falls, Kansas, the ladies were also triumphant, Mrs. Minnie Morgan being elected Mayor with all the members of the Council of her sex.
