"THE huge conflagration in New York Good Friday afternoon proves that her big buildings are not fire proof and that her big fires are water proof.

ONE of the largest fires ever known in New York occurred in that city on last Friday, April 19th. Four million dollars will probably not more than cover the loss.

THE early comers to the news that President Harrison is looking bad, and that his family are concerned as to the condition of his health. We are not surprised to learn this. The political office-seekers killed grandpapa Harrison in just one month. If he does not keep better company, carry about with him a better conscience and lead a more regular life, there will be danger of a funeral at the White House, before the first year of his term of office expires.—Wilmington Star.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

J. F. CLARK—Pea and bean crates.

The cabbage crop is looking well.

The foundation for Simeon's new dry kiln is laid and the work will be pushed to completion.

We commend the sidewalk in front of General Ransom's residence to all owners of property and to the city authorities as worthy of imitation.

"What are you indicted for?" asked an attorney of Moses Carr, col., yesterday. "I'm indicted for 'aulding' a colored man dat went back on his race and woted the Confederate ticket."

Considerable interest was manifested at the M. E. Church last night. There was no regular sermon, but talks from those among the audience instead. It was principally a meeting of praise or thanksgiving. Tonight it will be a meeting of consecration.

A sprightly young widower of Kinston, attending the district court, was enquiring for gilt-edged paper yesterday on which to drop a note asking permission to call and spend the evening. Burwell Canady is requested not to take any notice of this.

In this issue is a poem by Mrs. Pierce who visited New Berne with "M Quad" of the Detroit Free Press. It is dedicated by the writer to Messrs. Allen, Foy, Green, Nunn, Patterson, Bryan and Manly. While our critic in that line is out we will say the sentiment is good; that it is well written, and in all good poetry.

All those who have hydrants should keep the front of their places of business well sprinkled, but not enough to cause slush. It would be well if water could be extended all over the city, especially where there is most traffic. The line dust is very fine and penetrating and believed to be injurious to the eyes and damaging to the dry goods put out for display.

The steamer Annis of the E. C. D. line will sail at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The Vesper of this line will arrive tomorrow.

The Tahoma will sail this morning at 7 o'clock.

The First Box. A telegram from W. E. Lipscomb & Co. of New York, received yesterday afternoon announced that the first box of peas shipped from this city sold for $4.00.

Chattocks Mills. The improvements at the above named mills, by D. Congden & Son are extensive. The dry kiln, of brick, is completed and the planing mills, also of brick, are now receiving the machinery which will soon be placed. The gang saw is also in position and when everything gets in readiness the hum of machinery at Chattocks will arouse any lazy man that visits the neighborhood.

Large Shipment of Asparagus. Over one thousand dollars worth of asparagus was sent from here yesterday by the morning train to Philadelphia and New York. New Berne sends some of the finest asparagus that goes to the Northern markets and it brings the highest price.

A few days more and large shipments of peas will be made. New Berne peas are just in time to meet Virginia spring lambs.

A False Rumor. A report was circulated in the city yesterday that a man had been killed on Mr. Joe Rhem's farm near the city. It spread like wild fire. On every corner the inquiry was, "Is it so; have you heard about it?" A JOURNAL reporter immediately placed himself behind one of Street's best horses and in a few minutes was interviewing Mr. Rhem at his farm.

"You didn't come out here for that purpose?" said Mr. Rhem in astonishment.

"Yes, the report is all over town that Mr. A. struck a colored man with a hoe and killed him."

"Lah me! Why 'A' ain't got energy enough to strike a negro with a hoe."

U. S. District Court.

The court convened at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, Judge Seymour presiding. District attorney Busbee was present for the government and Marshal V. V. Richardson was in his place.

Capt. W. A. Darden was appointed foreman of the grand jury. His Honor's charge was brief and to the point after which the court took a recess to 3 p. m.

In the afternoon session the case of U. S. vs. John T. Bright, indicted for falsely and fraudulently representing himself a pension agent of the government, was taken up. L. J. Moore, Esq., appeared for the defendant; Attorney Busbee for the government. Verdict, guilty. The jury recommended mercy.

Certificates were read from physicians by counsel stating that the defendant was not of sound mind, also a certificate from an officer of the U. S. A. to the same effect. Court took the matter into consideration.

Moses Carr, col., indicted for intimidating a voter, presented, through his counsel, L. J. Moore, Esq., an affidavit setting forth that he could not obtain a fair trial on account of the absence of witnesses whom he was unable to pay and asked the court to have them subpoenaed at the expense of the government. The prayer was granted and the witnesses notified by telegraph to be present today.

U. S. vs. James Stanly, a colored boy, indicted for stealing a letter from the postoffice in New Berne, Jas. E. O'Hara appeared for the defendant; Attorney Busbee for the government. Verdict, not guilty.

Court took a recess to 10 o'clock this morning.

Another Shooting Affray.

Thos. Chapman and Nathan Brooks, two colored boys, engaged in a fight in what is known as Paris town in the suburbs of the city one day last week and Chapman drew a pistol and shot Brooks, the ball taking effect in the arm.

Chapman was before Justice Watson yesterday upon the charge of an assault with a deadly weapon. After hearing testimony and arguments he was held to bail in the sum of $300 for his appearance at the next term of the Superior court in default of which he was committed to jail.

During the trial a case was developed against Chapman and Ed. Holly another colored boy, for carrying concealed weapons. The case was argued by Hon. C. C. Clark for the defendants and Jas. E. O'Hara, Esq., for the State. The court adjudged them guilty and fined them $10.00 each and cost.

During the argument Mr. O'Hara took occasion to declare to the court and the crowd of colored people present that in his opinion parents were greatly to blame for allowing their boys to carry pistols, and if they would take them when caught with pistols and give them nine and thirty they would aid in protecting the community, observing the laws and would, perhaps, help to cheat the gallows out of a client. Mr. Clark too was very severe, and rightly so, in his condemnation of the too frequent practice of carrying concealed weapons.

A Beautiful Yacht.

The beautiful sail yacht Vidette is on Howard's ways to be repainted. The owner, Capt. E. O. Williams, of New York, and his brother Mr. M. M. Williams and Mrs. Williams of Michigan, are on board. They have been spending a few weeks in North Carolina waters, sailing for pleasure and report that they have enjoyed the visit very much.

The Vidette is a handsome yacht, well fitted up for a pleasure boat, and the presence of Mrs. Williams gives it a home-like appearance, that is indeed enviable. We welcome their visit and trust they will enjoy themselves.

Personal.

P. M. Fearrell, Esq., and Capt. E. R. Page, of Trenton, are in the city. Sheriff Hodges, of Beaufort county, is in the city.

F. M. Simmons, Esq., returned from Raleigh last night. Miss Mamie Houghton and Miss May Seymour, who have spent the winter in New Berne, left yesterday on the steamer Newberna for their homes in New York. Their numerous friends in this city wish them bon voyage, and hope that they may spend another season with us.

A Business Man's Clean Vision. New York City, April 4, 1889.

Mr. A. K. Hawkes—Dear Sir: Your patent eye-glasses received some time since, and am very much gratified at the wonderful change that has come over my eyesight since I have discarded my old glasses and am now wearing yours.

NEW BERNE.

EMMA LOUISE FIERCE.

Thou dear, old rambling, charming town!
I am in love with thee;
And so I wake my harp to sing
Thy nameless witchery!

What is the secret of thy power?
And what thy magic spell
That I, though absent in the flesh,
Should on thy memory dwell?

I scarce can tell. I only know
That in these strangely blest
All that is fair of old or new,
Quaint New Berne on the Trent!

On thy broad streams—like mimic seas—
The proud ships come and go.
While fishing smacks and pleasure craft
Rock idly to and fro.

The house and tree are standing yet,
That sheltered Washington,
And many a legend speak they,
Of The Nation's royal son.

The impress of an hundred years
Is left upon thy form;
And thou hast felt the vengeful might
Of war's barbaric storm!

In early days the Indian's "whoop"
Rang through thy green retreats;
And hot, ensanguined torrents flowed
Like water in thy streets!

In blood thou wert baptized, New Berne!
For by the savage hand
Fell one by one—as wind-swept leaves—
The little settler band!

Reminders of those days there are
In every nook and glen,
And thine entablatures are 'graved
With deeds of gallant men!

In "God's own Acre" rest they now—
The brave, historic dead—
And marble rear their slender shafts
Above each honored head!

But though the Past doth claim thee still
Bold innovation, too,
Bids thee arouse, and fain would make
A paradox of you!

So wedded are the two, that thou
Dost rub thy sleepy eyes
The while thou art unto thyself
A source of grave surprise.

Oh! if to me so blest a lot
By heaven had been sent,
I'd dream, and dream my life away
In NEW BERNE ON THE TRENT!
Montgomery, Ala., April 20, 1889.

Stonewall Items.

Our postmaster, John Lupton, accompanied by Miss Molly, his daughter, is off to New Berne.

Ruf. Baxter, Brad. Gatlin and Baxter Ferebee are adding quite an improvement to our place.

Mrs. R. H. Baxter and Miss Alice Dixon have opened a millinery establishment in this place.

Our no-fence district has been running high unto two years, and I have not heard of a single case of hog cholera within its limits since it has been in operation.

Mr. C. H. Fowler is making his own fertilizer at home at a cost of $10 per ton. It was tried side by side last year with manure that cost $30 and $40 and proved just as good.

T. A. Powers, a citizen of our place, has invented and perfected a manure distributor that distributes in the drill all kinds of fertilizers in any quantity desired. It is cheap and easy to make.

If any one doubts the practicability of raising clover and grass, I would advise him to come and see Dr. G. S. Attmore's, Wm. T. Cahoon's and C. H. Fowler's and judge for themselves. They have demonstrated beyond a doubt that it can be raised successfully in our county.

Tribute of Respect.

Died, in this city, on Monday morning, April 15th, 1889, Mrs. Sophie Bland Jones, in her 27th year.

It was indeed sad to see one so young taken from a loving husband and fond parents, but the bereaved ones are comforted with the assurance that "their loss was her gain." All that a skillful physician and loving hands could do was done, but the decree had gone forth; the messenger sent and the call made for her to come up higher. As gentle as a summer breeze, the spirit bid the body adieu, and was wafted into the haven of rest. Thus the first link was taken from the family chain of loved ones, to make heaven, if possible, more attractive to those that are left.

The aching and suffering body is at rest, and the soul rejoicing over the victory won.

Oh! the anguish of the loving ones. The hearts bleed in sorrow with no eye but that of God to penetrate. No husband and parents, loving brothers and sisters, do not rebel against God, but question His providence, but be reconciled and say "not my will, but thine, O Lord, be done," and the cloud that now overshadows you, will be rolled away and you will think of her and say she is not dead, "only gone before," and entered into the sweet realm of rest.

There is a home of rest, sweet rest, When we are tired and weary,
The way may seem long and dreary;
But toil on faithful soul, and thou wilt be forever blest.
