HON. WILLIAM H. BARNUM, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, died last Tuesday at his home in Connecticut.

MISS ROSE ELIZABETH CLEVELAND is going abroad in June, and it is rumored that she accepted a position in young woman's boarding school in London.

MRS. CLEVELAND has gained exactly nine pounds in flesh since she quit shaking hands as a business, and Mrs. Harrison has lost three pounds since she commenced the business.

ALL the features of the great centennial programme in New York were successfully carried into effect, including the parade of 50,000 troops under review of President Harrison.

A BERLIN dispatch, April 30th, says: "Mr. George H. Bates, the American member of the Samoan Commission and Lieutenant Parker were refused admission to the exhibition opened by the Emperor today, because they wore frock coats instead of dress coats."

MR. THOMAS A. MOBBE, for fifty-six years clerk of the county court of Jefferson county, West Virginia, died on Tuesday, April 30th, in the 87th year of his age. We know of no other instance of a man's having held office in this country for so long a period.

The centennial of Washington's inauguration was celebrated at Birmingham, Ala., by a speech from Senator Morgan on the Constitution of the United States. He closed by showing how that instrument was sufficiently elastic to enable the people to rid themselves of discord—negro suffrage—saying this was the ultimate solution of the race question.—Baltimore Sun.

VANDERBILT University, at Nashville recently issued a circular offering to instruct free of charge one highway official from each county in Tennessee in road engineering. Tennessee is aroused on the road question and Vanderbilt University proposes to give valuable aid to the work of improving the highways of the State. Can't the University of North Carolina do likewise? What says President Battle?

UNDER this administration a Republican candidate for Congress last fall who was defeated appears to be about as large an Isaac as one who was elected. Lockey in the sixth district in this State and Ward in the eighth district didn't get a blue bucket full of votes between them, but they are distributing patronage from Washington on the same footing with Cheatham, Brower and Ewart.—Stateville Landmark.

GEN. WASHINGTON, however competent to lead in war, rule in council, and determine wisely in the performance of executive duties, was vulnerable in the court of Cupid. He felt tenderly toward a Miss Cary, and to her he wrote his only poem, the MS. of which now resides in the State Department at Washington. The following is an exact copy of this poem, punctuation, capitals and all:

Oh ye Gods why should my Poor Reel-less Heart Stand to approve thy Might and Power, And now lays Bleeding every Hour For her that Pityless of my grief and Woe, And will not on me Pity take I lie sleep amongst my most inveterate Foes And with gladness never wish to wake In deluding sleepings let my Eyelids close That is an enraptured Dream I may In a soft lulling sleep and gentle repose Possess those joys denied by Day. —Norfolk Virginian.

LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
J. W. STEWART—Stock, etc.
L. EDWARDS—$50,000 to be given away, etc.

The cemetery road is pushing along slowly with the laying of the rock. It has not reached Broad street yet.

The best way to advertise a town is to put it in condition to advertise itself. Make it attractive, clean and pleasant.

The registrars of the city election have received new registration books, and every voter should see that his name is on the book of his ward.

We venture the assertion that New Berne spends less money for sanitary purposes than any town or city of its size in the South. Yet it is a healthy place.

Goldboro is soon to have water works and electric lights. Nearly every town in the State with a population of five thousand or more has these improvements except New Berne.

L. Edwards of Goldboro, has opened a stock of goods in the store under Hotel Albert building. He claims to be "The father of low price." For further information concerning him see "ad" in this issue.

The exodus meeting to be held at the old ice house near the depot on Wednesday night to hear the report of the delegate to the Raleigh convention, was postponed, as we have been informed, until tonight.

E. M. Pavis, having been granted the contract for erecting the new passenger station of the A. & N. C. R., is already making considerable headway in preparing the window and door frames, sash, blinds, moulding, etc., etc. He will begin the frame work of the building in a few days. It is to be a first class station in all respects.

Shipping News.
The steamer Annie of the E. O. D. line arrived yesterday with cargo of general merchandise. The Vesper of this line will sail this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Eaglet will arrive tomorrow.

The steamer Tahoma will arrive this afternoon and sail tomorrow morning at 6 o'clock for Washington, N. C.

The Verdict Unanimous.
W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, testifies: "The best selling medicine I ever handled in my 30 years' experience is Electric Bitters. Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at B. N. Duff's wholesale and retail drug store. Large size, $3.00 per dozen, wholesale."

The Fifth Ward Republicans.
At twelve o'clock yesterday the fifth ward Republicans, or about three dozen of them, assembled in a small building on Queen street for the purpose of nominating a candidate for councilman.

Wm. Orum, the faithful pressman of the JOURNAL, was honored with the position of Chairman of the convention, and John Q. Smith was elected Secretary. Just as the organization was completed a JOURNAL reporter entered and took a back seat. He was accompanied by his friend, Chas. Reizenstein, a staunch Democrat, who has witnessed meetings of the Tammany Democracy of New York and heard Chauncey Depew in some of his best after dinner speeches, but had never witnessed a genuine Republican convention of New Berne where the colored brethren ruled supreme.

The organization having been completed, at least a half dozen addressed the chair at one time. The physical force of the JOURNAL press was somewhat paralyzed at being called upon by so many at one time, but a rap on the desk with the small stick of stove wood which he held in his hand, staggered some of the would be orators, and enough of them fell back to allow H. P. Kennedy and H. H. Simmons, the present incumbent, to be put in nomination.

Ed. Tucker, an old stager in ward meetings, had made several attempts to get the ear of the chair but failed every pop. He now arose and put the question squarely to the chair to know if he would be recognized.

"I will," responded the chair.

Tucker then walked around in front of the chair and declared that he had been granted the floor and he intended to hold the floor until he was heard. He re-asserted his allegiance to the Republican party, declared he was a Republican from the crown of his head to the sole of his feet, and said he, with great emphasis, "whoever says I'm not a Republican is a liar." Continuing his remarks, he said, "I fought the war for the Republican party and—"

Bang, bang, went the chairman's stick of wood on the desk, and he declared that any reference to the war was out of order in this meeting, and he was endorsed by several in the convention as being "right."

"Then I will leave that part out," replied Tucker.

At this juncture several suggested that they were wasting time and should proceed with the nomination.

"You can't take this floor from me," shouted Tucker, "The chair has given me the floor and you can't take it away from me."

But they did take it long enough for the chair to explain who was entitled to vote in the convention and who was not. "It is the straight Republican convention," said he, "and none but straight Republicans are entitled to recognition, therefore he would declare that only one nomination had been made."

This announcement brought Tucker again to his feet who, with great vehemence and fiery indignation, said:

"You sit there in that cheer air. You, a wheelman of a Democratic press, yes, you sir, YOU, sir, and say that I am not a Republican? Why, sir, it is worse than Solomon and Gomorrah!"

At this juncture Major Oden arose and in a very dignified manner, poured oil upon the troubled waters and suggested to the chair that Mr. Kennedy's friends were able to take care of themselves and that he hoped the chair would reconsider the decision and allow Mr. Simmons' name to come before the convention.

The Chairman, after again explaining the rules that govern all political orders, denominations and parties, acceded to the suggestion and declared that Kennedy and Simmons were both before the convention and that nominations were closed.

After considerable racket about how to take the vote, by ballot, clanking sides of the room, raising hands or standing, it was decided that the nomination should be made by "rising to your feet."

The chair ordered all to be seated but there were not seats enough, so some had to assume a very uncomfortable position. The chair must have seen this as he put the question on Kennedy's nomination first, his favorite, and gave them an opportunity of rising as early as possible. The vote was taken and after several counts was announced as thirty for Kennedy.

At this juncture Matthew Simmons, not the candidate, walked toward the door, turned and shook his fist at the chair, saying, "I want you to understand I've got nothing more to do with this mess."

The vote was then taken for Simmons and the tellers announced twelve.

Tucker again arose and gave warning that he would meet them at the ballot box. He was about to make another speech but Major Oden lovingly threw his arms around him and carried him out, and the convention adjourned sine die.

This was hardly a skirmish compared with the convention of a general election, but friend Reizenstein says it was good to be there.

Wheat.
Mr. C. C. Clark Jr. returned from Bell's Ferry yesterday, whither he had been on business bringing with him a few stalks of wheat from the farm of Mr. C. M. A. Griffin. They are a little over three feet high, with heads out. It is an old saying in these parts that wheat that will have a rabbit by the first of May is good wheat. If this be true Mr. Griffin's must be very good or at least very early. The wheat field will average over thirty bushels high.

Mr. Clark reports that the grain crops are all looking well, rather section and between the hills, and that the corn is well put in the ground.

A Grain Freight.
The letter published in the New Berne fire department on Wednesday night, of course, is at a new law that it was a fraud. The board of this epistle, overheard a conversation between Mr. Ellis and some of the other firemen about telegraphing to Charlotte and he has not been heard from since. We publish the letter of introduction verbatim of intention, that Chief Newman of Wilmington may see how near he is imitated.

Wilmington, April 30th.
Chief Engineer of N. E. R.

Dear Sir: This gentleman is Mr. Hill a brother fireman of Charlotte fire department and comes to the highly recommended from his chief to aid him towards his home, he lost the use of his left arm and 3 fingers while on duty fell 45 feet from a ladder. He has his arm in two, and he is worthy for all help he can get from brother firemen. I send myself has made a small collection for him, and besides we got him a pass to your City, and hoping your dear kindness and your brethren will do the same and will be appreciated by our boys in Wilmington. He is not able to do any work, and he is obliged to go home, please see him further, the Atlantic Engine Company has done what we could and I know that you will do the same.

Yours truly,
Chief Engineer
M. C. WYMAN

P. S.
We send all our kind regards to your boys, and hoping to see all of yours again.

A Card.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—Please find space in your columns for a few words concerning the meeting of Hill Orum for the nomination of a city councilman for the fifth ward. He, Orum, after being made permanent chairman, showed his want of common sense and that he is a fit subject for the fool's asylum. First, by allowing his one-sided and warped judgment to allow him to rule that no man should be placed in nomination who was not a supporter of the dirty Hahnism. Mr. E. E. Tucker, Mr. Israel Harris, Jr., and a number of others appealed from his decision, but he was sustained in this wicked sin by a few other lunatics such as himself. He ruled out every effort to make it a harmonious meeting. Being tightly trumpeted by the above named gentlemen, he Orum, walled his eyes, slobbered and grinned until he finally strained out that Simmons nor his followers were Republicans and would not be regarded as such so long as he was acting as (figure-head) chairman. In obedience to a motion he ruled that Henry Kennedy was the man in nomination, and declared nominations closed. Major A. G. Oden, seeing the injustice, sin and robbery that was being perpetrated by that would-be chairman, persuaded him to rule out his decision for the sake of justice and harmony, but having but little knowledge of such nobler acquirements, he soon forgot it and again ruled that it would be out of order to nominate any man except Kennedy and finally, after an idiotical manner of voting, declared H. P. Kennedy nominated.

Now in obedience to justice, right and reason, we the undersigned can truthfully say that Mr. H. H. Simmons has filled the office of councilman for the past twelve months, beneficial to the people of New Berne, with credit to himself, and in such a punctual manner as demands his stay for twelve months hence.

Therefore we do declare to support H. H. Simmons for councilman of the fifth ward, on Monday next, the 6th day of May, 1889, and further advise all those who supported him last May to do likewise, and all others who want a good representative, and we will make a clean sweep with idiots, lunatics and arbitrary rulers.

A Woman's Discovery.

Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this country. Please fasten its clutches upon you for for seven years she stood its severest test, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night, and without a bottle has been miraculously cured.
