paper, which is the product of the labor of scores and even hundreds of men, is laid at their door each day for two, three or five cents.—Dover Democrat.

I UTTER a great truth, and one which the future will yet make plain to the apprehension of posterity, that through all the dust and smoke of that bitter sectional conflict, through all the tears that were shed, through all the passions that were evoked and all the woes that were endured, the eye that is clear, and the mind that is just, can plainly discern an unflinching love of the liberty which our fathers jointly achieved and unabated devotion to the constitutional Republic which they jointly established.—Gen. Jno. B. Gordon.

WOMEN avoid newspaper offices unless they have business. Men come up frequently to disturb the editors and so have a general idea of how they look. Some women imagine that the entire newspaper is written by one solemn looking, bald-headed gentleman, who sits in the midst of authorities and consults the encyclopedia with one hand and makes opinions with the other. This is a mistake. It takes several men to make a newspaper. None of them is necessarily bald. They do not consult the encyclopedia, or dictionaries, or Patent Office reports. When they want to know things they ask each other. If no one can tell they conclude that the public can't, either, and they go right on. Nearly all editors are good-looking. Many of them are quite young. They all smoke cigars and put their feet on their desks.—Washington Post.

A Good Move.
The hardware merchants have agreed to close their stores at 7 p. m., except Saturdays, beginning tomorrow. This is a good move; let other merchants follow their example.

The City Election.
The election to be held tomorrow will be under the election law as amended by the last General Assembly. The amendments were published in full in the DAILY JOURNAL of March 19th. If copies of the election law have not been sent down perhaps copies of that issue will be of service.

Shipping News.
Schooner Henrietta Hill is in port with corn for J. A. Meadows.
Schooner Melvin is loading lumber at Sitoumbe creek for Providence, E. I.
Schooner Agnes Kappeller sailed yesterday with lumber from Sitoumbe's mill for Philadelphia.

The steamer Vesper of the E. O. C. line will arrive today and the Annie of this line will sail tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock.

"Earnest Workers."
The second entertainment of Earnest Workers came off in this city last Friday night, under the name of Earnest Workers. It was first class. We do not say that the music was artistic to the highest degree, or that the stage scenery was of surpassing beauty, but as an exhibition of juvenile talent it was wonderful. Little children who could not articulate their words gave charming recitations, and the older ones in dialogue and tableau, elicited warm applause. Some of the acting was excellent and evinced talent of a very high order.

Advertising Towns.
Some few years back nearly all the western towns were using every conceivable method to engender rapid growth or "booms." It was generally the work of speculators who were interested only to the extent of their individual prosperity, and it often resulted in greater injury than benefits to many places, caused by extravagance in over-estimating their resources. Some big scheme—"Natural Gas," "Iron Ore," or "Great Wheat Belt" would be inaugurated to catch the attention of capitalists, and sometimes, though not often, they were entrapped.

Men of means and judgment are not quick to put their money and interests here and there without investigation. They prefer knowing all the facts and circumstances as they really exist, and any attempt to delude them is pretty sure to be a loss of both time and money, besides indirect injury in being disbelieved when the true statement of affairs have been given.

If we advertise a beautiful and clean city and the pleasure seeker is brought here through such information, will the "presentation of our houses, yards, streets, sidewalks and docks bear out the assertion? Will all our claims to oil, cattle, hunting, fishing, and crude material to work up into manufactured articles bear the test? If not, we believe that more harm has been done than if such means had never been resorted to.

We do not assert that misstatements have been made in reference to New Berne and this section, but only caution that we be careful in our representation of things. Our resources and advantages are many and equalled by but few places, and in some respects we believe unexcelled. To make these superiorities of worth they must be developed and pushed to the full capacity of their usefulness. Should some of these enterprises be too stupendous, let us commence with the smaller ones, even unto keeping tidy our own door steps.

"It is Finished"
NEW YORK, May 3.—Mrs. Frank Leslie received this morning letters from Lord Ronald Gower, informing her of his purpose to present, through her, to some public gallery or collection in New York, his colossal marble bust of "Our Saviour," called "It is finished," now in the Royal Academy of London.

This work of art, which is now on its way to this city will be accompanied by the plaster casts of the Shakespeare monument, in bronze, lately presented by Lord Ronald Gower to Stratford-on-Avon, and which he desires Mrs. Leslie to tender to some "public collection of casts or a Shakespeare or artistic gallery."

Mrs. Leslie has not yet determined the ultimate disposition of the marble Christ, but it is probable that it will be transmitted either to the Metropolitan Museum of Art or to the St. Patrick's Cathedral.

ADVERTISEMENT
Having heard this evening that certain parties are to interview the Democratic candidates and myself Monday morning to ascertain how we stand as regards the Presidency of the Railroad, whether we favor Simmons or Bryan, and if we prefer Bryan that they will bring out independents, and beat us. If they wish to test the strength and popularity of Mr. Simmons in this way, as far as I am concerned I can only say let them trot out their candidates. Not wishing to deceive any one as to how I stand between Bryan and Simmons, I say I am for Bryan.
R. P. WILLIAMS.
May 4th, 1889.

A Valuable Remedy.
A letter from S. P. Wardwell, Boston, says: "I used CLARKE'S EXTRACT OF FLAX (Papillon) Catarrh Cure in June last for Hay Fever with great satisfaction, and find it is the ONLY thing I have seen which would allay, without irritating, the inflammation of the nostrils and throat. Its soothing and healing properties were marked and immediate." Large bottles $1.00. Clarke's Flax Soap is the latest and best. Try it. 35 cents. Ask for them at F. S. DUFFY'S drug store. 30 1/2

LINES TO A WHIP-POOR-WILL.
Lone sylvan chanter in the night,
Wet'st spirit, without man's fears,
You fill my soul with a longing,
And melt my eyes to tears.
You bear me away o'er the woodland
In spirit form, to peace,
And I sink for a while in oblivion
And from my heart-aches cease.
Sad thoughts return, O God, how sad!
Wild, madd'ning thoughts born of pain,
And sweet in fathomless misery
As nature after rain;
I'm borne in my thoughts to the living,
And buried with the dead,
And I drink of the waters of Marah,
And taste of deepest dread.

Earth-bound I stand in bitter calm.
Loose watcher, adoring night,
While splendid notes from the forest
Re-echo left and right.
I kneel by the side of a casket
Again, and kiss a face;
But soon all that is left of that passion
Is lost in earth's embrace.

Lone, noble lover of the night,
God grant 'fore many days,
That you be perched on my marble
And chanting plaintive lays;
My soul shall arise, and together
We'll watch the night away,
And with song we shall speak to all
In nature
Till dawn of blessed day.
HENRY THOMAS THOMAS.
