tain in its issue of June the 8th, four original papers under the head of "The Saloon in Politics," each presenting a different phase of the great question. Clinton B. Fisk will speak for prohibition, Hon. Ernest H. Crosby for high license, Hon. Channey F. Black for anti-prohibition, and Mr. Albert Griffin for the anti-saloon movement.—Washington Post.

"AMONG the more notable disasters occasioned by the bursting of dams or reservoirs are those of Mill river, in Hampshire county, Massachusetts, in 1874, by which about 200 lives were lost; of the Dale Dyke embankment at Sheffield, England, in 1864, where 238 persons perished, and at Estrecho de Bienten, in Spain, where over 600 people were swept away and drowned. But these were casualties of no more than ordinary magnitude contrasted with the frightful wreck of life and property in the Valley of the Conemaugh."

LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
C. E. SLOVER—Corned beef.
W. E. SWELLINGS—Board of Trade meeting.

The Mayor did the right thing yesterday when he sent out a squad of the "city boarders" to work on the streets.

Elsewhere the secretary of the Board of Trade gives notice of a special meeting of the Board of Trade next Tuesday night. Refreshments are to be served.

Mr. L. M. McIlwain, of Beech Grove, has left at the JOURNAL office a luscious and full matured peach. He says he will have them on the market next week. Quite early.

Justice Watson was engaged yesterday in hearing the case of Marshall vs. Smith for usury. P. H. Pellerier, Esq., appeared for the plaintiff; Simmons & Gibbs and J. E. O'Hara for the defendant. Judgment reserved.

Edward Wadsworth, living near New Berne, brings to us a sample of red clover, which he says is from a crop of one acre, that averages over three feet in height. This clover is as fine as can be usually found in Pennsylvania or any Northern State. One good acre of clover is worth at least two acres of cotton.

Relief for Johnstown.
The Cotton and Produce Exchange of Wilmington sends $500 to the Johnstown sufferers. Our Wilmington friends are a generous, noble-hearted people. Of the $2,500 or $3,000 sent to Jacksonville last summer from North Carolina, Wilmington sent almost half. Jacksonville responded quickly and nobly to the cry from Pennsylvania because they felt with much force last summer the necessity of such contributions. We are glad to see that some of our citizens are ready and willing to help. If there are others, let them come forward at once. The following are the contributions thus far:
Mrs. Arpha Sheaklin.....$ 5.00
O. Reissstein..... 5.00
J. L. Hahn..... 5.00
Cunddon & Son..... 5.00
M. Makely..... 5.00

Important Meeting.
The trustees of the New Berne Academy will hold a meeting next Monday for the purpose, we learn, of discussing the school interest of New Berne. We do not know how others look upon it, but we regard this as one of the most important questions now before the people of this city. We see no reason why New Berne should not be the educational center for a large portion of this eastern country. We see no reason why the young men and young ladies of New Berne should not be prepared here to enter the higher classes in college or receive an academic education that will fit them for any station in life.

The trustees can not establish such a school without the co-operation of the people who desire it and need it. The JOURNAL is ready to do its part in the matter, and we urge in the first place that harmony and co-operation be the object of all. The people of New Berne united can accomplish almost any good purpose.

Fourth of July.
Shall New Berne have a Fourth of July celebration? Let the question be decided at once and preparations be made if decided in the affirmative. George Washington has just been re-inaugurated in New York; the old celebrations of the Fourth ought to follow as a matter of course. Is there life enough in the old town to get up a celebration? If so, who will take the lead? Nothing can succeed without a leader. What young man, or set of young men, will take hold and get up a first-class, old-time, patriotic celebration of the day upon which our forefathers declared themselves independent of the mother country?

In connection with this we call attention to the fact that an important meeting has been called at the court house of every county in the State to meet on the fourth of July for the purpose of organizing a Confederate Veterans' Association. This in itself ought to bring a large number to New Berne on the fourth, and we know that after attending to the business for which they will meet, the ex-Confederates will take great pleasure in joining in the celebration.

Johnstown Under Martial Law.
JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 6.—At noon today Johnstown and adjoining boroughs, or what is left of them, practically passed under martial law. Adjutant General Hastings says he has not declared martial law, yet soldiers are on guard and no one is permitted between the lines unless they have an order from the Adjutant General. The soldiers guard all approaches religiously and have orders to stop any one who crosses the line.

The real work of ascertaining who the living and dead of Johnstown are was started this morning. A corps of clerks under the direction of the relief committee started out this morning, and they will go to every house in the vicinity and secure the names of the living. Another corps of men will endeavor to find out who the missing are, and in this manner it can be nearly definitely known just how many were lost in the flood. A revision of the registration list shows that only 13,000 people had registered up to 1 o'clock this afternoon at the different registration stations. By this list it is apparent that a large number of the survivors will not take the trouble to go and register. Consequently the plan of having registers made a canvass was adopted.

Board of Trade.
A special meeting of the Board of Trade is called next Tuesday night at 8:30 o'clock for the election of officers for the ensuing year, and other important business. Arrangements have been made for the serving of refreshments.

A Riskless Question.
"Do you enjoy good health?" asked Brown of his friend Jones. The reply of Jones was short, sharp, and to the point. "Why of course I do, what fool doesn't? Everyone enjoys good health when he has it. But some people do not have it to enjoy. Rich headsache, biliousness, constipation, deranged liver, and a host of the real and imaginary ailments that beset the thousands of people who are suffering from these distressing ailments."—W. E. SWELLINGS, Sec.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

From the State Papers.
Asheville Journal: Mr. M. L. Reed's mills, near the water works station, recently burned, will soon be rebuilt.

Rockingham Rocket: Last Saturday morning our people were surprised to see Mr. Giles E. Wishart's doors closed and to learn that he had made an assignment. Mr. C. C. Taylor is the assignee, and is now engaged in taking an inventory of the stock.

Charlotte News: A fire that at one time threatened to be quite serious occurred yesterday afternoon in the picker room at the Victor Mills. The two pickers were running as usual when smoke was seen to rise from one picker, immediately followed by a sheet of fire that reached to the ceiling. The heat set the automatic sprinklers in action, and a volume of water was showered down upon the fire, extinguishing it.

Greenville Reflector: There were three vacancies to fill by the board of county commissioners at their meeting on Monday. Dr. J. P. Redding had previously resigned the office of coroner, the death of Mr. Marcus Manning made vacant the office of surveyor, and the death of Hon. Josephus Latham made vacant the office of superintendent of public instruction. To fill these vacancies the board elected Mr. H. B. Harris as coroner, Mr. J. S. L. Ward as surveyor, and Major Henry Harding as superintendent of public instruction. The selections are good ones.

News and Observer: The committee appointed to solicit subscriptions for the removal of this city of Trinity College met yesterday afternoon at the mayor's office and organized an active campaign of operations and went right to work. They have already added something to the list and when they meet again Monday expect to have the full amount ready to report.—It was learned yesterday that the hack-drivers of the city, whose name is legion, have formed a combine to work and vote for prohibition. This they think is to their interest, because if the town goes dry the suburban bar-rooms which used to be run outside the corporate limits will be in full blast again and the hackmen will have an increased business by transporting the thirsty back and forth.

Chatham Record: Mr. Obed Marshburn, of Albright township, showed us last Monday a one cent coin dated 1783. On one side were the words "Washington and Independence," and on the other "Unity States of America." In our last issue we said that rain was greatly needed in this section, and so it was, but it is not now, for since then the clouds have opened, the rains have descended, and almost a flood has swept through the country, doing considerable damage. It began last Thursday night and poured down in torrents—a perfect deluge—for about twelve hours. It was a regular old-fashioned "quilly washer" and "trash mover." All the creeks were filled to overflowing and were higher than almost ever before. At Lockville, Deep river rose at the rate of an inch a minute for several hours.

Fayetteville Observer: Rev. R. T. Gray administered the ordinance of baptism to five persons in Mallett's pond Sunday afternoon.—Application will be made to the War Department at Washington City for tents, etc., to be used here at the Centennial celebration in November in order to accommodate the crowd.—After the meeting was called to order, Col. W. J. Green, from the committee on invitation, reported that Senator M. W. Ransom had been invited to deliver the centennial oration on the 21st of next November, and had accepted.—Prof. Street of Sampson was in the city this week and related a very remarkable occurrence that came under his observation Twenty-four years ago Mr. Jas. White of Sampson purchased a gold watch, some money and other valuables to conceal them from the Yankees. By some reason he lost sight of the spot and only last week was ploughing up a new ground and unearthed the watch and money, also the other valuables, the latter having been ruined, while the watch was in good condition.

against resistless disease, his sainted spirit winged its way from this earthly abode to that mansion above, not made with hands—do an eternity of peace and joy. He had so lived among us, and done his Master's work, that we can say him truthfully,
"After a rough day of toil Enjoys a sleep without dreams."
The deceased was liked by all who knew him. He enjoyed a wide popularity. Whenever his acquaintance extended, there his popularity also. He was a public officer of the county at the time of his death. From the incipency of his public career he impressed the public heart with his unfaltering honesty of purpose and fidelity to duty. As superintendent of the public schools he was a vigilant, active, and industrious, and there is little of educational work in our county upon which he has not left his impress. It seemed almost impossible for him to be lukewarm or apathetic in any task that he undertook to perform. The office which he filled with credit to himself and with lasting benefit to the county, he regarded as a trust held in use for others, and so discharged its every duty.

He loved his home, his family. Nothing could mar the calm delights of his hearthstone. To his family he consecrated his holiest affections and unbounded love. They have lost a devoted husband and a kind, affectionate father. In this race we call life he gained an inheritance priceless indeed, and, dying, he leaves the partner of his life and home "dowered with the fragrance of an exemplary life, and his children rich in patrimony of his sainted name."

Our friend is no more. My sympathies for those whose hearts are crushed by this heavy blow are most sincere and tender, for in his departure I myself suffer a personal bereavement.—G. B. K., in Eastern Reflector.

I BOUGHT medicine in thirteen States, but nothing helped me till I used Ely's Cream Balm. In four days I could hear as well as ever. I am cured of catarrh as well. It is the best medicine ever used.—Garrett Wildrick, Hastings, N. Y.

I could scarcely speak; it was almost impossible to breathe through my nostrils. Using Ely's Cream Balm a short time the trouble entirely disappeared. J. O. Tichenor, Shoe Merchant, Elizabeth, N. J.
