LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

De. F. DUFFY—Store for rent.
WHITTY & GATES—Hammocks, etc.
S. L. DILL—Special train to Morehead

The new passenger station is nearing completion.
The cemetery road is moving for ward pretty well.

The rush for Morehead City will begin next week.

It is now conceded that the Irish potato crop in this section is short.

Eggs have taken a tumble from fifteen cents, wholesale, to 10 cents per dozen.

It is estimated that at least thirty thousand packages of truck have gone and will go from New Berne and vicinity the present week.

These will be a business meeting of the Y. M. C. A. tonight at nine o'clock. A good attendance is desired, as there will be business of importance to transact.

There is splendid sailing on the broad waters of the Neuse and Trent now. An hour's sail in the afternoon on one of Fowler's boats is as refreshing almost as a trip to Morehead City.

A good audience attended the entertainment at the theatre last night, and all were well pleased. The class gives evidence of the good work being at the Asylum, and appeals to every person in the land to help sustain it.

J. W. Stewart, the man who has infused new life into the literary business in New Berne within the last few years, has just returned from the West and will receive a number of fine mules over the O. D. line early next week.

How many parents in New Berne have children to send to live, progressive, first class high school? By co-operation they can have such a school, and the education of their children will cost much less money than sending them off to other schools.

Shipping News.
The steamer Annie of the E. C. D. line arrived yesterday with general merchandise, and later in the day sailed with truck and naval stores. The vesper of this line will sail this afternoon at four o'clock. The Eagle tomorrow evening at seven o'clock.

Persons.
M. DeW. Stevenson, Esq., has returned from a visit to his brother in Providence, R. I.

Sheriff Lane went down to the district conference last night.

J. C. B. Koonce of Florida, and a cadet in Davis' School, arrived last night on a visit to relatives and friends.

Officers Elected.
At the annual election of St. John's Lodge, No. 3, A. F. & A. M. held on Wednesday evening, June 13th, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: E. G. Hill, W. M.; J. H. Haskburn, S. W.; E. F. Rowe, J. W.; T. A. Green, Treasurer; W. B. Boyd, Secretary.

Going to Beaufort.

The orphan class with Miss Lena Hudgins in charge will leave this evening for Beaufort where they will give an entertainment on Monday evening. We hope our Beaufort friends will give them a full home. Miss Hudgins is an accomplished young lady, educated at the Asylum and graduated at Greensboro, and is a fine vocalist. The class is well trained and the entertainment is a good one.

Mayor's Court.

Mayor Williams called court at ten o'clock yesterday morning and rattled off the following cases:

Wm. Jones, drunk and disorderly. Fined $2.00 and cost, or fifteen days on the streets.

Thomas Morris, drunk and disorderly. Fined $2.00 and cost or ten days on the streets.

Elihard Wooten, disorderly. Discharged upon payment of cost.

In the afternoon another session of the court was held, when Samuel Waters was charged with an assault on W. E. Patterson. Defendant submitted. Fined $5.00 and cost.

Hurray for Gov. Fowle.

The continuation of the report of the committee in Pamlico Sound and brought down to Morehead City, and after the report was read, the assembly adjourned. Mr. Fowle's name was mentioned in connection with the report, and with the fair which was to be held next night, he is the only man mentioned, and indicates his willingness to furnish the public with the best of public life in a sense of Congressional propriety. We understand that Mr. Fowle is in a more exacting position than ever before, and that he is determined to do his duty to the people.

The Situation at Johnston.

The papers state that the situation is very discouraging at Johnston. The people, that is the survivors, are just beginning to realize that all is lost. We fear our people here have not fully understood the extent of the disaster in the Colesburg valley. We do not believe that a town or a community loses anything by responding liberally to the cries of distress. The Journal has forwarded twenty-eight dollars contributed by about a half-dozen of our citizens, and since this amount has been forwarded an open-hearted, generous boy has handed us fifty cents. If other contributions come in we will forward this; if not, we will return it to the boy.

Let the Ex-Confederates Meet.

The Ex-Confederate soldiers in Craven and adjoining counties must remember that a meeting has been called in every county in the state on the Fourth of July at the court house in each county. Every old soldier should attend this meeting and form the association requested by the President, Mr. J. S. Carr. It is highly important that a complete organization should be made in every county. The time is coming when the State must recognize the services rendered by these old veterans, but when this is done the flood gates of fraud and imposition will be opened and no one is more interested in preventing this than the truly deserving Ex-Confederates. The organization in each county should among the first things done after organization take immediate step to get a correct list of the names of all the soldiers that went into the service, what became of them, etc., etc.

Every man who served in the Confederate army ought to attend these meetings and help to perfect the organization.

A New Berne Storm of the Last Century.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—The following letter was published ten years since in the New Berne Democrat. Its republication I think will gratify your readers. The letter was from Mr. Hows, Collector of the port of New Berne, to Earl Hillsboro, There was a collection of letters found years ago in a book store in London, and is now in the possession of the Boston Library. This letter was taken from that collection.

BANNSWICK, 10th Sept., 1700.

EARL HILLSBORO:—The storm which happened in the night of the 7th instant, was so fatal to New Berne that I cannot omit giving your Excellency the best account I can of it. Beginning with Mr. John Smith, whose store full of goods was undermined with the washing of the waves and tumbled down and broke in pieces, and all the goods washed away, besides this, his barn and a large warehouse that stood upon it, was broken in pieces and scattered round the shore. The cellar of the house where he lived, being well stored with wine, rum, sugar, &c., were undermined, and destroyed, and all they contained, either stove in pieces or floated away by the violence of the winds and currents. He saved himself and family by cutting through to the garret to Mr. O'Connell's house, which they entered, but were soon obliged to leave, carrying with them Mr. O'Connell's children and the nurse, for the floor of the house very soon after filled, and with the furniture washed away. Mr. Smith's two sloops are lost, one stove in pieces at the wharf, the other drove up near the edifice so high that she will never be got off. It is supposed that his losses cannot amount to less than 5,000 pounds sterling. Mr. O'Connell's cellar was undermined and the walls destroyed. One of the cellars floated away near 200 hogsheads of molasses and 50 of rum, and several pipes of wine. Two store houses that stood on his wharf, well filled with valuable goods, were beat down and carried away with the wharf. The goods were all lost and destroyed. His brig was drove on the large marsh to the southward of the town, quite into the woods, and entirely lost; also two large sloops belonging to strangers drove up and lost near the brig. Mr. O'Connell's ready money store, kept by Partridge, at the corner opposite Mr. Ellis's, is entirely destroyed, with all the goods and money, and the storekeeper so bruised that it is thought that he cannot live. All the houses on the left hand side of the street from the corner up as far as Mr. Cogwell's were washed down and floated away. Two women, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Pope, with their two children, and two negroes were drowned or killed by the ruins of these buildings, no other life lost as we know of as yet. Mr. Ellis's wharf and store houses, with the goods in them, were washed away and entirely lost. The cellar of his store opposite the front of his dwelling house, was undermined and the wine, rum, &c., washed out and stove to pieces. Those buildings of Mr. Catherin's, where Mr. Noale lived and kept the public ferry, had above long houses of Mr. Wilson's next adjoining, were entirely destroyed, not one stone left upon another. The part of the still house next the water beat down and the works destroyed almost completely. Doctor Bassett's tall house and yard are entirely ruined and destroyed, and the chimney of his dwelling house has fallen on the roof, but luckily did it no damage. His garden is quite torn up and ruined. Mr. Davis's house is a mere wreck, his articles of furniture and household goods, and the front of lot up to the gate was washed away. Mr. Coe's store with the store house on the wharf next to store were thrown down and carried away with all the goods they contained. Col. Siches tan houses with thirteen other little houses situated above it and belonging to him are entirely destroyed. Many other people have lost all they had in the world. Among these is the unfortunate Mr. Sigreave, who, with a family of small children has not a second shirt to his back. The edifice has received no damage that I know of, if any it must be inconsiderable, for though I have seen Mr. Hows, he never mentioned anything of the kind to me.

New Berne is really now a spectacle, her streets full of the tops of houses, timbers, shingles, dry goods, barrels and hogsheads, empty most of them, rubbish, etc., inasmuch that you can hardly pass along; a few days ago so flourishing, so thriving; it shows the instability of all sublunary things. Thus I thought it my duty, sir, to give your Excellency the best account I could of an event so fatal to a place which has always had your protection and encouragement, and which I hope will still merit a continuance of the favors it has received from your Excellency. Mr. Corneil's loss from a moderate computation cannot amount to less than four or five thousand pounds. (Signed)

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

From the State Papers.

Asheville Journal: Some of the best farmers in the county say that there will not be more than a half crop of wheat harvested this year.

Wilmington Star: The New Berne Steam Fire Engine Company will make their annual excursion this year to Wrightsville, during the Encampment in July. The company has many friends among the Wilmington firemen who cherish recollections of their pleasant visits to New Berne some years ago, and may be assured of a hearty welcome here.

Washington Progress: The late spring rains, better known here as "The Flood," did much to damage crops and discourage farmers, as many had to plant over their crops, but the fine weather of the past few weeks has inspired the farmers of this section and the crops though late are quite promising. I hear that in Fairfield township, however, many farmers have given up the largest part of their crops.

Charlotte News: Concord was visited by a big thunder storm Sunday afternoon. Lightning struck the stables of Capt. Chas. McDonald and filled the neighborhood with roast beef. Capt. McDonald's blaze-faced cow was killed. There was a big crowd at the mayor's court this morning to hear the testimony in the case of the nine negroes arrested for gambling. Mayor McDowell placed four of the crowd under bond for their appearance for trial before Judge Meares at the next term of the Criminal Court, and the others were dismissed.

Raleigh Call: A man named D. S. Ledger has been doing some ugly talking around the Greystone quarries and has stirred up the indignation of the people down there to a high pitch. He is from Ohio and was assistant foreman in the quarries. His talk was strongly on the social equality order. He went so far as to say that there was no difference in white ladies and colored women; that he would be as willing to marry one as the other, and he talked other rot of a similar kind. Some of the people around Greystone thought they could not digest much of this. The consequence was that on Friday morning Ledger opened his door to find a coffin on the steps to which was attached a request that he get out of this section by June 20th. He wasn't needed. Ledger did not wait his allotted time. He left on Saturday morning and has gone, to the relief of the Greystone and other people.

Rosnoke News: Mr. Louis Summerell of Northampton informed us a few days ago that the hail destroyed his entire crop of cotton. He had chopped it out and "sided" it, and after the storm not a vestige of it remained. He planted again and expects to make a good crop. Others in his neighborhood suffered nearly as much. Tuesday last Sheriff Alsbrook received a telegram from Sheriff Knight, of Edgecombe, informing him that Fred Hyman, colored, had killed Solomon Williams, colored, and asking him to keep a lookout for the murderer. Hyman is nearly six feet high, weighs 175 pounds, is of a ginger-bread color, and has a piece bitten out of his under lip. No further particulars were learned. Col. F. M. Parker had a narrow escape from drowning on Saturday. He attempted to cross Fishing Creek, near his home, on that day in his buggy while the stream was greatly swollen from the rains. The water was deep and the current so strong that the horse and buggy were swept out of the ford and the horse was drowned. Col. Parker also came near being drowned, but succeeded in getting out after tremendous efforts.

THEIR BUSINESS BOOMING.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade as Dr. N. Duffy's drug store, as many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, and many diseases quickly cured. You can test it by ordering by mail a trial bottle free, large size $1.00, every bottle warranted. For sale by E. N. Duffy, Wholesale and Retail Druggist, Wilmington, N. C., per dozen.

Seven Hundred Children Killed.

Dublin, June 12.—A train containing an excursion party from Armagh has been wrecked near that place. It is reported that seven hundred children were killed and a number injured. The train contained 1200 persons, composed of Methodist Sunday school scholars, their teachers and relatives. They were going on an excursion to Warren Point.

A Valuable Remedy.

A letter from S. P. Wardwell, Boston, says: "I used Clarke's Extract of Flax (Papillon) Catarrh Cure in June last for Hay Fever with great satisfaction, and find it the only thing I have seen which would allay, without irritation, this inflammation of the nostrils and throat. Its soothing and healing properties were marked and immediate. Large bottles $1.00. Clarke's Flax Soap is the latest and best. Try it. 25 cents. Ask for them at F. S. Duffy's drug store."
