How to Make Farming Pay.
 "Does farming pay?" I emphatically say it does. I was born and reared in a city, learned a useful trade, and always commanded the highest wages; can now leave the farm and get steady employment at three dollars a day, but that does not pay near so well as the farm.

To make farming pay, it requires as close attention in every detail of the business as is necessary in any branch of merchandise, and it must be strictly borne in mind that all food supplies for the family and stock, as far as possible, must be raised at home, and, too, it must be considered that it is not what is consumed at home, but the surplus that is sold, and don't be ashamed to sell anything, from and egg up, and don't think the amount too small to take care of, and you will soon see that farming pays, and have a snug amount of cash in hand.

"Yes, I shall break the engagement," she said, folding her arms and looking defiant; "it is really too much trouble to converse with him; he's as deaf as a post, and talks like he had a mouthful of mush. Besides, the way he hawks and spits is disgusting." "Don't break the engagement for that; tell him to take Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It will cure him completely." "Well, I'll tell him. I do hate to break it off, for in all other respects he's quite so charming." Of course it cured his catarrh.

"Is there going to be any music at the church festival tonight?" asked Snooks of the pastor. "I do not know," responded the dignitary, who had been many times snubbed by the leader; "I do not know, but the choir will sing!"

TOURISTS.
 Whether on pleasure bent or business, should take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Fig, as it acts most pleasantly and effectually on the kidneys, liver and bowels, preventing fever, headache and other forms of sickness. For sale in 50c. and $1.00 bottles by all leading druggists.

Saved from Consumption.
 Several physicians predicted that Mr. A. B. Bowley, druggist, of Chicago, would soon have consumption caused by an aggravated case of Catarrh. Customers finally induced him to try Clarke's Extract of Flax (Papillon) Catarrh Cure. He says: "The result was unprecedented. I commenced to get well after the first application, and am now, after a few weeks, entirely cured." It will do the same for you. Price $1.00. Try Clarke's Flax Soap for the Skin and you will use no other. 50 cents. All of Clarke's Flax Remedies are for sale by F. B. Duffy, druggist.
