Had no use for His Overcoat.

A certain lawyer of this city whose practice is confined exclusively to the police court, and whose fees, like those of many other lawyers, are confined to what he can get, is more celebrated for his efforts to collect the fees than to clear his clients. The following story, told by an eye witness, illustrates the peculiar phase of character alluded to. A man was arrested and locked up in the Central station charged with larcency. The "lawyer" was sent for by the prisoner. The sergeant in charge of the station at the time accompanied the coanselor down "stairs to the prisoner's cell. The lawyer advised his client to tell him the whole truth and nothing but the truth in order that a proper line of defense might be arranged. The prisioner complied with this request. When he had inished the lawyer said: "The best thing you can do under the circumstances is to waive examination before the police justice to the Recorder's court." "What, and stand trial before a jury?" asked the prisioner in

If wrong, he has a chance of tie. If wrong, he has a chance of being set right; if right, of enjoy-ing an honest triumph. To be in company with one who has no opinion but your opinion is as bed as being caged with a macaw. If you ask an individual in the babit of agreements with agreemends habit of agreeing with everybody the reason of his complaisance, he may tell you, perhaps, that he hates controversy. Hates controversy ! He might as well say he hates truth, for disputation is the crucible in which the gold of truth is separated from the alloy of error. How many things were taken for granted in former ages that modern argument has shown to be more fallacies. The grand object of a man of mind is to acquire knowledge; but he can learn nothing from those who are always ready to pin their faith on his sleeve without taking the trouble to think for themselves. We detest the suavity that is too polite to doubt, and the indifference that is too phlegmatic to argue.

The Women Praise B. B. B.

The suffering of women certainly awakens the sympathy of every true philanthropist. Their best friend, how-ever, is B. B. B. (Botanio Blood Balm). H. L. Cassidy, Kennesaw, Ga., writes: 'Three bottles of B. B. B. cured my wife of acrofuls.' Mrs. B. M. Laws, Zalaba. Fia., writes: "I have never used anything to equal B, B. B."

B. B. B. Mrs. C. H. Gay, Rocky Mount, N. C. writes "Not a day for 15 years was I free from headache. B. B. B. entirely relieved me. I feel like another perton."

James W. Lancaster, Hawkinsville Ga., writes: "My wife was in bad health for sight years. Five doctors and many patent medicines had done her no good. to Six hottles of B. B. B. oured her." Miss S. Tomlinson, Atlanta, Ga. says: "For years I suffered with theumatium oaused by kidney trouble and indiges. Fion; I also was feeble and nervous. B. B. R. relieved min at once sithoursh W. tion; I also was feeble and nervous. B. B. Relieved me at once, although several other medicines had failed." Rev. J. M. Richardson, Clarkston, Ark., writes: "My wire suffered twelve years with rhoumatism and female complaint. A lady member of my church had been cured by B. B. B. She persuaded my wife to try it, who now mays there is nothing like B. B. B. as it quickly gave her relief."

A Surprised Canadian.

It is Not Always Work. Here are two stories of Maine sherifis. The first was a little Aroostook man, and one day he went with a warraut to arrest a certain farmer. He found him in the field and made known his errand. "All right," said the farmer, a big burley fellow, "I'm ready," and with that he lay down approached me and said rouget first there?"
