LOCAL NEWS.

The "flying Jinnies" are in the city again.

Lookout for burglars and petty thieves. They turn up in unexpected places.

Watermelons are coming along slowly. We haven't seen a first class one this season.

W. P. Burrus Esq., of this city writes a communication to the News and Observer in reply to one "Verbam Sal." on the A. & N. C. R. in which he talks right out in meeting. Mr. Burrus has for the last seven years been a large shipper and speaks from experience. He is not disgruntled because he did not get a free pass.

A Bear in Town. Mr. Jos. Frank Melton arrived in the city last night, bringing with him a pet bear about three months old. Mr. Melton and a party of friends caught this one and two others one day last May, and they are now as gentle as kittens. Look out for the bear on the streets today.

Shipping News. The steamer Eaglet of the E. C. D. line arrived yesterday with a cargo of general merchandise and will sail this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Annie of this line will arrive tomorrow morning. The steamer Kinston will leave for Neuse river landings at 12 o'clock today. She will not run through to Kinston, but will leave New Berne for Kinston Tuesday at 12 o'clock.

Mayor's Court. In the Mayor's court yesterday Perry Chadwick was up for breaking in a house and stealing, and was bound over to Superior court in $200 justified bond. Henry Williams, alias Jones, etc., for stealing harness from J. W. Whitty, pleaded guilty. Bound over in sum of $200.

Simon Mumford was fined cost for not complying with ordinance in regard to backyards.

Personal. Mrs. Thomas Daniels and children are at Morehead City for the summer. W. S. Chadwick Esq., of Beaufort was in the city yesterday.

Last evening we had the pleasure of a call from Bro. Latham of the Washington Gazette. He has been on a visit to the Encampment, and is now on his way to the meeting of the Press Association. Mr. Latham carries a beautiful gold-mounted cane, presented to him by the composers of his office.

"A Few Facts." Capt. E. B. Roberts, the courteous and efficient agent of the Old Dominion Company has handed us a neat and attractive pamphlet, entitled "A Few Facts." Knowing that the gallant Captain is always upon the alert in the interest of the public, we were not surprised to find that it was a presentation of facts in regard to the Old Dominion line. Everybody in this quarter of the globe knows that the Old Dominion is safe and reliable for freights and unsurpassed in its accommodations for passengers, but we had no idea that it possessed so many advantages and offered such inducements to those intending to make summer and autumn pleasure and vacation trips. If you are going abroad, call on the captain and get "A Few Facts," and we are sure you will go by the Old Dominion Line.

The Habeas Corpus Case.

Judge George H. Brown attended the court house yesterday to hear the case of State vs. Calvin Simmons, col., who had been committed to Jones county jail by a Justice of the Peace in default of bail.

The charge against Simmons was the burning of the stables, horses and barn of Thomas Jones, col. He was taken before a Justice who after hearing the evidence held that he should give bond in the sum of one thousand dollars for his appearance at the next term of the court, and failing to do this he was committed to jail.

L. J. Moore, Esq., appeared for the petitioner; Duffy & Nixon for the State. The petition for the writ of habeas corpus alleged that the evidence was not sufficient to show probable cause, and if it was the bond was excessive.

Several witnesses were introduced on the part of the State, and the substance of their testimony was that the stable, horse and barn of Thomas Jones were burned on or about the first Friday night in April, and but for the favorable wind the dwelling would have been burned also; that kerosene was used in firing and that it was the work of an incendiary; that the petitioner, Calvin Simmons, went to the river early that night fishing in company with one Burney Flowers, and that he left after remaining there about one and a half hours leaving Flowers alone; that he, the petitioner, had a falling out with Jones on the first Monday in March and several times on different occasions before the burning threatened to kill Jones or do him some injury if his wife, whom he thought Jones caused to leave him, did not come home.

The defence introduced no testimony. Rodolph Duffy, Esq., argued the case for the State, taking the ground that the slight circumstances shown in connection with the burning, and the very strong motive shown repeatedly by the threats of the prisoner justified the Magistrate in coming to the conclusion that there was probable cause, and if there was probable cause the bail is not excessive.

His Honor held that threats had always been taken as circumstances, but that there was no evidence connecting the defendant with the burning any more than there would be against any other man who had made threats against Tom Jones. He thought the Magistrate did wrong in committing the defendant and he was therefore discharged.

Sheriff Foy took charge of the defendant and will take him back to Trenton jail where he is held in default of bond to keep the peace and appear at the next term of the Superior court.

Our Firemen at Goldsboro. The Goldsboro Argus pays the following nice little compliment to our firemen who are on a visit to Wilmington:

The best body of volunteer firemen in the world, the "New Berne" company, of New Berne, N. C., passed through the city yesterday, thirty-two strong, including its excellent band, who are active members of the organization of their confreres of that city, on a social visit. While waiting here between trains the band regaled our citizens with some of the finest music it has ever been our pleasure to hear from like instruments in the hands of artists. The foreman of the company, Mr. Jas. W. Moore, who has filled the position for 11 years and has been for 21 years a fireman, was with the company of course; also the genial and handsome young Chief of the department, Mr. Wm. Ellis, together with his superb 1st assistant, Mr. E. M. Pavis, one of "nature's noblemen," popular, liberal and brave, who has been a fireman "all his life," and filled every office from messman to chief in rotation, up and down, over and over again, who has been "watched" and "cared" and "medaled" by the boys, and finally photographed by them in full uniform and life size, that the rising generations of that good old town may look upon him long after he is gone, and behold the model fireman of the Elm City. All the boys were greeted here right cordially, and their many personal friends among us were glad to do what they could to make their brief sojourn in our city as pleasant as possible. The Argus wishes them, and we are sure they will have a pleasant time in Wilmington, where an elaborate programme has been arranged for their entertainment.

A Little Mixed. The Wilson Mirror of this week has the following item:

Capt. Calvin Barnes, one of our most progressive and highly intelligent farmers, has about one hundred acres in cotton, and competent judges pronounce it to be, at this time, the finest tobacco they ever saw.

Bro. Blount knows how to do the handsome thing when he wishes to be complimentary, but how he can say that a man is a competent judge who says that one hundred acres in cotton is a fine tobacco crop we can't understand.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS. Mrs. Winklow's Soothing Syrup should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

From the State Papers.

Hookerton Clipper: Some of the cotton drowned by the recent flood in Contentnea Creek is coming out and it is hoped will make something.

Asheville Journal: There is a move on foot by some of our enterprising citizens to organize a stock company here for the purpose of establishing a canning factory.

Twin City Daily: Work on the Presbyterian church is progressing very satisfactorily. The slating for the roof is on the lot and is being put on. When finished this will be an elegant church and an ornament to the city.

Goldsboro Argus: And still they come—from the encampment. It is an open secret that as to location and "high-priced" surroundings the encampment this year is not satisfactory to the boys. Its location will assuredly be changed for next year. If not, why not?

Elizabeth City Economist: On Tuesday J. B. Copeland of Chowan county brought to our office a hen's egg with a plain letter "C" marked in elevated character upon the shell. He thought the "C" was unmistakable for us, but was taken aback when he was invited to the fact that "C" stood for Copeland and that the hen meant to compliment her owner.

Goldsboro Mercury: The sweet potato crop is fine, while a larger number of acres have been devoted to this crop than for many years.—The cotton crop, in Wayne, is not damaged by the rain. It is now growing finely, while the upland corn, on stiff soil, is reported better than for many years. The low lands, we are told, drowned out by the freshet, will be planted over this week.

Durham Tobacco Plant: The idea of wiping out the Tobacco Plant, one of Durham's landmarks, is a source of regret to some of our citizens who have become attached to the name.—Rev. W. B. Oliver, the talented young pastor of the Blackwell Baptist church, left today to spend several weeks in evangelical work. His first efforts will be in the eastern part of the State. He expects to be absent until September or October.

Asheville Citizen: The next session of the Western North Carolina Baptist Convention will meet in the First Baptist church of this city on Wednesday, October 23.—The Asheville police have decided to abandon the blue uniforms, and will hereafter wear natty suits of Confederate gray. This decision meets with the approval of the police committee of the city council, and the gray uniforms have been ordered.

Charlotte Chronicle: George Williams of the Hornets' Nest Killom, caught a three hundred pound turtle on the bank of the sound at Wrightsville Saturday. The receding tide had left the turtle on dry land. Mr. Williams turned it on its back with a board. The turtle is the pet of the camp. It will be brought to Charlotte.—Rev. Zuck Haughton was 83 years old. He had been preaching the Gospel for a period of 40 years, not only in Charlotte but in Salisbury, and at other points in the South. He was one of the pioneers of the colored Baptist church in America.

News and Observer: The State firemen's tournament which is to be held here August 13th and 14th is drawing near, and all the firemen in the State are preparing to attend.—There have not usually been many spectators at the asylum investigation, but the announcement that Col. Fuller would speak yesterday morning brought out a large attendance and proceedings had to be adjourned from the chapel to the large theatrical hall. Col. Fuller's speech was pronounced a masterly effort. His comment upon Dr. Rogers' letter which he took up sentence by sentence was intensely interesting and pertinent.

Co-operative Manufacturing. MR. EDITOR:—I desire through the columns of your valuable paper to call the attention of our citizens to the action of our Co-operative Manufacturing Company, last night as but few of them in comparison to the whole were present. A plan was adopted, briefly this:

To form a stock company with not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred shares per value of $100 per share, to be paid in weekly contributions of 50 cents per week. The money is to be invested in interest bearing securities that are perfectly safe. Expenses are in no case to exceed the interest on the money paid in. The management of the company's affairs is to be under the control of a board of nine directors to be elected by the stockholders. By this plan we can accumulate a fund that will enable the company to establish factories with but little effort upon the part of any individual. It is needless for me to say that factories are needed here. It is useless for me to call the attention of our business men to the fact that the volume of business done in New Berne is growing less and less each year; this fact is too apparent to need any argument. Look at all the towns in our State and whenever you find factories, you find a live, active, energetic and prosperous people. The reverse is true of all towns that have no factories. I think all will admit that the time has come when a new era should dawn on our old town. Gentlemen, let us put our shoulders to the wheel and put the ball in motion. Our labor must have employment, or else it will get out into other places. A man's labor is his money; it is his life. From the labor comes the business. Dwarf the one and you dwarf the other. Let there be a unity of action in this enterprise. The committee on subscription is now at work. Help them. Let every man, woman and boy take one or more shares of stock in this company, and in a few months the spindles will be at work in our town. Our idle labor will be employed. A new impetus will be given to business, and the cry of dull times will be a thing of the past. We can then say, "Old things have passed away; behold, all things are become new." An idea seems to prevail with some of our people that a factory cannot succeed here. I am yet to be convinced that the people of our town have not business qualifications sufficient to run any enterprise that they may determine to make a success. I think it an insult to the business capacity of our citizens to say they cannot make a success of any business undertaking they may engage themselves in: If our people will take this matter in charge, with the determination to succeed, that success will be assured from the beginning. It is high time that our people should make some beginning in this matter. If no beginning is made no end can ever be attained. If our people would remember that the gods bless only those who help themselves, I think we would have more prosperous times. Movements of this kind, if allowed to come to naught, have a damaging effect upon any future movement of a similar kind. Let us give aid and sympathy, and let us with one accord move forward with an eye single to the general welfare of our community, and my word for it that success will crown our efforts and New Berne will don her robes of progress and join in the race of industrial advancement. P. H. PELLETIER.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS. CALL FOR A CORRECT LIST OF NORTH CAROLINA TROOPS.

CAMP LATIMER, N. C. S. G., WRIGHTSVILLE, N. C., July 12, '89.

At a meeting of the Confederate Veterans, assembled as above, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, It is the opinion of all who have examined the present so-called Roster of North Carolina Troops, that it is inaccurate, incomplete and misleading to such an extent that it fails of its purpose entirely, and, realizing the importance of having a correct roster published without further delay, believing that it can be done with a greater degree of accuracy while those who engaged in that struggle are living; therefore

RESOLVED, That a committee of three be appointed by the commander of this body to memorialize the next General Assembly, to be held in the State of North Carolina, urging upon them the necessity and importance of having prepared a correct roster of the North Carolina troops engaged in the late war between the States.

In accordance with the requirements of the resolution, I have appointed the following named gentlemen as the committee to memorialize the Legislature: General Robert B. Vance, Asheville; Col. William L. Saunders, Raleigh; Capt. William E. Bond, Scotland Neck.

W. L. DEBOSSER, Commander.
